INTRODUCTION

Work in progress: Some readers, when they pick up a large book on a limited subject such as this, may think it must be the last word and covers everything - which is not true. In spite of numerous family mysteries that have been unraveled so far by the many contributors to this work, there are still myriad puzzles left for others to solve. Undoubtedly, some of the needed clues are included here and, with further study of this material or additional bits of information or new lines of thought, more pieces of the puzzle will fall in place. Many of the families are incomplete. Most all of them could use more detail. Although perhaps not the case with contributors, this author has most often done the easier work of studying the census indexes rather than microfilm of the original handwritten censuses. And, in spite of all good intents, there are errors that need correction. But the big hurdle is to find and connect pieces that will push the history back to previous generations. All the history in this book begins in America and is not connected to family in the British Isles. Associated with that problem is the fact that many branches of the family within America remain unconnected. Although this author has attempted to connect "different" Newberry families within America - with only limited success, he has not worked in the area of making the British Isle connection. Serious research of records from the British Isles could possibly be required. The author expects many of these connections will be made in the foreseeable future due to increased interest in family history, more travel, more publications of family history data, and the conversion of more records to electronic format so they can be more easily accessed. Good hunting !

Changes from the original material of 1989: As mentioned on the title page, this family was originally included as Appendix 11 (of only 53 text pages) in Newberry Family and In-Laws published in 1989 and was named "Newberry Family of Newton County, Arkansas". Due to the intense interest of many of the family in their history, it grew to the present volume. One older generation was added: the parents of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr]¹, the first ancestor of the 1989 history. Two siblings of Stephen [Sr] were added: Thomas Jr (b: estimated 1763) and William (b: estimated 1764). William NEWBURY (b: 1799/1800), son of Stephen [Sr], has some added detail and family. Following that was the major expansion of the family of Elijah, who was another son of Stephen [Sr]. Polly NEWBURY Key was added as a daughter of Stephen [Sr]. The major addition was the inclusion of the descendants of Thomas NEWBURY (Sr, b: 1792/3), eldest son of Stephen [Sr]. Thomas' descendants included Joseph, who was erroneously shown as a son of Stephen [Sr] in the 1989 material. Another sizable addition was the descendants of William Jasper NEWBERRY. In-law additions and expansions included the families of BARKER, BINAM, BUNCH, DOTSON, INMAN, JOHNSON, LUELLEN, NICHOLS, SIMS, and many others.

Introduction from the 1989 book: In 1986, a newspaper article from Fayetteville, Arkansas had a story of a Newberry man who was killed by his bull. Phone contact with these Newberrys revealed they came from an old family who lived on Kenner Creek at Hopewell community in Osage Township on Arkansas Highway 103 in Newton County, Arkansas. Hopewell is also known as George and is located five miles northwest of Ponca, which is the canoeing headwater of the Buffalo National River. A visit there on 19 Oct 1986 found Delano Roosevelt NEWBERRY still living on the site (section 34, T17N, R23W). Hopewell Cemetery was also there and, among graves of NEWBERRYs, ALLREDS, and others, it contained four above-ground sandstone Newberry tombs, each covered with a single sandstone slab, as well as another grave of the earliest-born Newberry of this clan to migrate to Arkansas: Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr], 1802-1870. Delano related that their current cemetery of use was Liberty Cemetery at Dinsmore community (visited by the author on 18 Apr 1987), which is in the extreme northwest corner of Newton County (section 19, T17N, R23W). This cemetery contained three more of the sandstone Newberry tombs, worked in the same manner as those in Hopewell. The third cemetery Delano related was Plumlee, which is 5 miles northeast of Hopewell and at the head of Osage Creek, near Compton (section 28, T17N, R22W). An additional burial place was thought by Delano to be located further up Kenner Creek - some very old, possibly, unmarked graves on a neighbor's land where he was not free to go and investigate.

People included: The book starts with the earliest "known" Newberry couple of this line, Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727) and his wife, whose name is unknown. Every known Newberry and in-law descendant is included - whether by blood, marriage, adoption, or living in the household - except Robertson descendants one generation after they lost the Newberry name are referenced in William Crockett Robertson - Ancestors, Descendants & Related Families by Frank Allen ROBERTSON and Dotson descendants one or two generations after they lost the Dotson name are referenced in the DOTSON Family Tree compiled 1986-7 by Delbert Dale DOTSON. Also included are the parents and grandparents (and sometimes earlier generations) of in-law spouses.

Name variants: Over about 25 generations since 1045, the name Newberry has evolved roughly as follows: de Neubourg (French, from the birth of the first "Newberry", Henry de NEUBOURG, to the governor of Normandy at Neubourg Castle, which still exists - about 75 miles west-northwest of Paris), de Newburgh (slightly Anglicized, soon after the Norman conquest of England in 1066), Newburgh, Newburg, Newbury, and Newberry. There are many other variants such as Newborough, Newberowe, Newberrie, Newberye, Newbery, Newbey, Newby and others. In this material, the people were only known to have used two variants, Newbury and Newberry, but census takers introduced other variants. The author has attempted to use the spelling variant which was used by each person - an impossible task, but the attempt was necessary because people are very sensitive about the spelling of their names. However, for the generic spelling, the author used "Newberry".

Kin to the ruling class of France ? Probably no such luck. By far, most of the people with Newberry names or Newberry ancestors were descended from people living or working on an estate in England which was first owned by the above mentioned Henry de Neubourg, whose family was awarded the estate by William the Conqueror, as spoils of the Conquest of 1066. Henry's father who was the governor of Normandy, Roger de Beaumont (whose wife and mother of Henry was Adeline de Meullant) had furnished sixty ships for the invasion. Henry himself did not participate in the invasion, although his older brother did. The estate was in Warwickshire, England, about 80 miles northwest of London. Here Henry built Warwick Castle and was made the Earl of Warwick by King William II about 1090. Warwick Castle was soon owned by people of other names, because of the lack of Newberry heirs. The common people did not take last names until the 1500s. Thus, the common people associated with a Newberry employer or landlord adopted the Newberry name, much as did the former slaves in the United States. Warwick Castle was purchased in 1978 by Madame Tussaud's Wax Works of London and was being restored as a tourist attraction.

Kinship to other Newberrys: The kinship of this family to other NEWBERRY families is unknown to the author, but he suspects that this family may be related to the family of Appendix 10 of Newberry Family and In-Laws, 1989 (both NEWBERRYs and PATTONs) - but only because they all passed through North Carolina and Tennessee around 1800. There is also a remote possibility that one or both of these families are related to the author's line of John NEWBERRY [1] of Tyrrell and Washington County, North Carolina, the main subject of Newberry Family and In-Laws, but only because the latter family was also in North Carolina by 1786.

Generation-Birth Order numbers: The author applied the generation numbering system used in Newberry Family and In-Laws, by arbitrarily assigning Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] the same generation number as John NEWBERRY [1] of the original book - because they appeared to be contemporaries in time. In the superscripts before names, the first number is the generation number and the second is the birth order number within that household. In cases where the birth order was unknown to the author, the second number is only a child count number. Of course, there are also cases of error in the birth order number, where there were no dates available. In those cases, the order of children is the same as the author's sources.

Indentation: In the course of the text, each section was begun at the same spacing from the left margin, without regard to the generation number. Thereafter, in that section, each succeeding generation was indented to allow the reader to more easily follow the descendants.

Names and Capitalization: The attempt was made to use all capital letters for a person's original family name or the family name a person adopted or had been given, legally or otherwise - except by marriage. A person who was adopted or who changed their name, except by marriage, was usually indexed under both family names, where known. The married names of women were purposefully not capitalized. This allows the reader to know, at a glance, which name, if any of the names given, were a woman's maiden name. The Name Index gives the complete known name or names, allowing the reader to know which is the maiden name of women or whether a maiden name is even known. However, the Name Index uses only one married name at a time for each entry of women who were married more than once. Thus, some women are indexed several times: under their maiden name and under each of their married names. In mentioning a marriage in the text, the married name of the woman was not usually given. In the Name Index, NEWBURY and NEWBERRY were purposefully grouped together, rather than separately, so that individuals will be found regardless of the spelling of the surname. Note that the Census Data (see page 703) was not indexed, because the kinship of most of them to this family was not established, i.e. only family members were indexed.

Names of Use: The names by which people were commonly called, when different from given names, were put in quotations following the given names: Andrew Maridy "Amos" NEWBERRY, for instance, used the nickname "Amos". When a second or third given name was the name of use, it was indicated by underlining: Stephen Valentine NEWBERRY, for instance, used "Valentine". In the Name Index, people were indexed by their first given name and by their second given name, if it was the name of use. They were also indexed by their nickname, where it was substantially different from their given name, i.e. William Jefferson "Bill" NEWBERRY was indexed by both William and "Bill" but William Burton "Will" NEWBERRY was only indexed by "William".

Name spellings: You will find spellings like "Mical" and other variations for what is usually spelled "Michael". And, there are many names like "Eider" for "Ida", "Orie" for "Ora", "Sereny" for "Serena", and "Susannia" for "Susanna". In north Arkansas, where many of these people lived, it was and sometimes still is common to change such name endings - as a sort of familiar or friendlier form of the name. The author often questioned such spellings, but the contributors usually insisted on their versions (which may have been the names given by the parents). The author used the spellings provided and resisted the temptation to "correct" such spellings.

- m1: = first marriage of two or more marriages (bolded for readability)
- Mo. = mother
- Mrs. = mistress

1852-7 = an inclusive span of years: "lived in Tennessee during 1852-7"

1852/7 = a period during which a single event occurred: "b: 1852/7"

Date System: "10 Nov 1988", for example, was used to eliminate any confusion about the order in which the elements of a date are given.

Place of Birth: The city, county, and state of birth were usually given where known, unless obvious from material in close proximity above the entry or, in some cases, where the city and state are obviously sufficient, such as New York City or Dallas, Texas. The county of birth is the county in which the birth certificate was issued. The actual residence at the time of birth, where known, was given if it was different from the actual birth location. Usually, this is of consequence when a child was born in a hospital located away from the home location. The country was given for births outside the United States.

Use of "at", "near", and "in" for locations: The word "at" was used to indicate locations, such as "b: at Jasper, Newton County, Arkansas" - whereas present day usage would have it "b: in Jasper", even if the event occurred outside the city limits. It becomes more difficult to use "in" for a community, which has no limits, such as "b: in Hopewell community". And it becomes nigh impossible to use "in" with a location like "b: in Newberry Crossroads" (an intersection) because, obviously, the birth did not happen there. The word "near" is used for locations that are known to be in the countryside - away from some given place. The word "in" was always used with cemetery burials, as location was not in any doubt, i.e. "buried in Gobbler Cemetery".

Bolded words: The author attempted to bold words in the text which indicate opinion, but not fact, such as: apparently, appears, assumed, estimated, guess, infer, may be, possible, possibly, presumes, probable, probably, speculates, suspects. The reader is requested to retain such qualifiers in order not to, inadvertently, convert such speculations into "fact", as has often been done. This makes the material a bit more complicated than most people would like, but it keeps fact separate from fiction.

Information Included: The following information was included for each person, if known. Any such items missing from an entry indicate that those items were unknown to the author. Only very few items of information were withheld by the author or removed at the request of family members. All such requests were honored. Withheld by the author were gossipy items that appeared to be strictly matters of someone's opinion or would not add substance to the family history. Also withheld were the severely adverse health conditions of living people (severe handicaps, mental disease, or serious physical disease such as cancer or AIDS - acquired immune deficiency syndrome). Removed by request was an earlier marriage which a person did not want in print.

▸ Dates and locations of birth, marriages, and death: In the text, these items follow the name of the person to which they pertain, with the exception of cases where this data follows a set of parentheses. Locations are usually detailed the first time they occur in the text, but are usually abbreviated thereafter, especially if they recur frequently. Extremely well known locations, such as Chicago or Dallas may have no further identification.

- ▶ education past high school
- ▶ military service
- ▶ vocations
- ▶ residence locations
- ▶ all descendants, unless noted otherwise
- ▶ adopted children
- ▶ children of spouse's other marriages and whether they were adopted
- ▶ in-law parents and grandparents
- ▶ for deceased persons: cause of death, cemetery name and location
- ▶ other items of personal interest or achievement

Reference Material at the back of this book: There is a list of all the Cemeteries and Burial Locations (where cemetery names were unknown to the author) which are mentioned in the text (see page 670). And Newberry Census Data (and bits of other families) begins on page 703.

Word Processing: The writing of this material was done manually, using a word processing program on a personal computer: in other words, a typewriter with a memory and some editing capabilities. There were several "data base" programs available for recording family information, but the author found no way they would yield text in semi-readable, continuous form - short of retyping the data into such form. However, some of those programs are appropriate for handling family data in statistical and graphic format.

Errors: Unfortunately, there are many errors in this material, including many made by the author - judging from subsequent discovery of numerous personal errors. These include transcription errors in reading and typing dates and names, placing people into the wrong family due to making wrong assumptions or accepting incorrect data from contributors, placing family members into the wrong generation, etc. Use of a computer spell-checking function will not find errors like "the parents if John" when what was intended was "the parents of John", since the word "if" will be accepted by the speller. Spellers will find "of of any" but they will not find "of any of any", nor, of course, will they find omissions nor accidental deletions.

And then there are the errors of others. One finds conflicting dates between the headstones and footstones (usually military service plaques) on the same grave. There are also errors in census records and in every other sort of human record. There are errors in observation of facts and in recording those observations - particularly when the observer has some preconceived notion of the "facts". One particular source of error in this genealogy was that the information was collected in small bits over several years, recorded, and then continually revised as additional bits were learned. Items came into conflict after having been recorded for years (1986-1998 for the author). The people who furnished information were not even known when the task was begun. Their identities were learned haphazardly over the years. The piecemeal writing was done on a word processor, which made no mistakes (?) - except data changes resulted from power failures, from occasional loss or change of the internal operating instructions of the word processing program, and from overload of computer memory or program capacity in things like personal dictionaries of names (whence you might get a computer message of an irreparable error like: "Internal Format Error in Supplementary Dictionary"). Apparently, overload problems are common with large and highly formatted documents, such as this book.

If your data is incorrect, I apologize for that. I assure you that myriad hours were spent attempting to avoid errors, as well as checking and correcting them.

A word about Copyright and giving credit to people who were sources of data:

You may wonder how I could copyright data that you furnished. Perhaps, you originally recorded the data from your personal knowledge or from your research of documents or interviews. The reason I copyrighted this book was to attempt to prevent commercial concerns from duplicating the exact text by easy methods such as photocopying or electronic scanning. It was not to rob the contributors of their material. Much of the data was available in public records. Such data is history and historical fact cannot be copyrighted.

On the other hand, the huge amount of effort of discovery, organization, and recording by family contributors and by the author deserves, at least, giving credit for those efforts. As the author has meticulously attempted to give proper credit, he implores those who use this data to do the same. Proper credit actually enhances the material, because it provides the user with the sources.

A current practice of at least one major commercial "family tree" business is to solicit histories in computerized form from their family tree software customers and then duplicate those histories for sale - in the name of doing family history buffs a service, rather than turning those efforts into profits for themselves. In the author's opinion, this is a cunning circumvention of the copyright laws for the purpose of profit.

No Offense Intended: Although there are perhaps a few people who may be offended to find that information about them exists in a book, the author has only found three such people. Perhaps there were more among the few who did not respond to written inquiries. Not a single person contacted by phone lacked interest or completely failed to respond. Almost every person contacted was enthusiastically cooperative. In any case, the intent of this genealogy is only to give family history, and not to be offensive to anyone. Although one can garner from it some of the various conditions and practices in the United States over the past 200 years, the material is meant to be purely historical and not a social comment or a judgment of the family or any of its members. All of the text prepared from information of correspondents was repeatedly returned to them for revision. Much of the information is contained in public records.

Locating Family Members: In the course of contacting the family, the author has compiled a personal directory of about sixty contacts, scattered over the country. Although, he will not release the address list and thereby put anyone on another junk mail list, he will help you locate some family member or group, provided he is convinced such a request is legitimate. The address of the author (b: 1931) is on the title page of this book.

Genealogists: The family historians are a special group of people or at least special to each other. In the past, they wrote the main family events in their Bibles. Aged mothers gave their daughters slips of paper with the names of their heritage, and told them stories and gossip about those people, which they, in turn, told their children. To some extent, each person forms a self-image based on what he is told about his ancestors. There is a network of historians of this particular Newbury - Newberry family. They are all kin to the family, although some are three or four names removed from the Newberry name. They are dedicated, even obsessed. They thoroughly enjoy the pastime and have been extremely cooperative and helpful to me. They are all credited in the text. I deeply appreciate their generosity.

Other Newberry Genealogies: The names of some other Newberry genealogies in the United States may be of interest to some readers. The exact kinship of these people to the people of this genealogy is unknown. The link could be either in the United States or in England.

A caution about some so-called genealogies, which are currently being marketed: Companies are selling lists of names and addresses from tax rolls, telephone books, or other sources. In other words, no kinship is given between the names and, consequently, these lists are not really genealogies - even though they may include a family crest, a bit of genealogy on some branch of the family, and may speak of "immigrant forefathers", but omit one's kinship to those forefathers. The author found his own name eight times such a "genealogy" of "200 COLLARS" - under different addresses and name forms, such as Grant Collar, G. Collar, etc.

Copies of this book: The author doubts there will be any more than the initial private printing of about 100 of these books. The author intends to give one copy to the Library of Congress and two copies to the Copyright Department, both in Washington; another copy to the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) Library at Salt Lake City, Utah; and a third copy to the Arkansas History Commission at the State Capital, Little Rock. Someone will probably eventually give copies to the genealogical library at Fayetteville, Arkansas and to the Carroll County Genealogical and Historical Society at Berryville, Arkansas. Perhaps copies will also be donated to the county libraries of Wilkesboro, Wilkes County, North Carolina; Livingston, Overton County, Tennessee; Mt. Vernon, Jefferson County, Illinois; and Bastrop, Bastrop County, Texas.

Early Migrations of the family (Note that the time periods that follow may have extended both before and after the known range that is given):

Ancestors migrated to America from the British Isles: England, Ireland, and/or Scotland.

- Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727) lived in Wilkes County, North Carolina during 1777-1787 and in Georgia during 1792-1803.
 - ◆ Son, Thomas Jr, was in Wilkes County during 1780-1782.
 - ◆ Son, William (b: estimated 1764), was in Wilkes County in 1783 and gave his county of residence as Hancock County, Georgia in 1805 when he entered the Georgia land lottery. Thereafter, he was not identified in the records and, apparently, did not migrate to Tennessee.
 - ◆ Son, Stephen [Sr], was in Wilkes County during 1785-1790; had son Thomas b: 1792/3 in North Carolina; son Edward b: 1792/3 in Tennessee (which appears questionable to the author); son William b: 1799/1800 in Georgia; and son, Stephen C. [Jr], b: 1802 in Georgia. Stephen [Sr] gave his county of residence as Columbia County, Georgia in 1805 when he entered the Georgia Land Lottery. He lived in Knox County, Tennessee during 1807-1814 and in Overton County, Tennessee during 1824 until his death about 1826/30.
 - ▶ Son, Thomas Sr, b: 1792/3 in North Carolina, lived in Knox County, Tennessee in 1812; had a son, Joseph, b: about 1816 in Monroe County, Tennessee; lived in Monroe County, Tennessee in 1830; and Overton County, Tennessee during 1836-40.
 - Son, Joseph, b: about 1816 in Monroe County, Tennessee, moved from Overton County, Tennessee to Jefferson County, Illinois in 1840; lived in Franklin County, Illinois in 1850; was back in Jefferson County in 1858 and until his death in 1881/2.

Joseph's last child, Robert, moved to Texas with his mother and step-father. Robert had four children in Young County, Texas and moved finally to Beckham County, Oklahoma, where he had two more children.

- Son, Stephen C., b: 30 Sep 1823 in Overton County, Tennessee moved to Bastrop County, Texas in 1855/60.
- ▶ Son, Edward, b: 1792/3 in Tennessee, d: after the 1850 Census of Bradley County, Tennessee.
- ▶ Son, William, b: 1799/1800 in Georgia, lived in Overton County, Tennessee in 1830, was enumerated in adjacent Jackson County, Tennessee in 1840 and 1850, was not identified (died) after the 1850 Census of Jackson County, Tennessee.
- ▶ Son, Stephen C. [Jr], b: 1802 in Georgia; lived in Overton County, Tennessee during 1837-9; lived in Newton County, Arkansas from 1842 until his death in 1870. The move to Arkansas was apparently in conjunction with the ALLRED and BUNCH families. Some of his descendants moved to Oklahoma, Colorado, and Idaho.
 - Son, William Jasper, b: 1844 in Newton County, Arkansas; lived in Liberty County, Texas from 1920 until his death in 1927. Some of his children migrated to Missouri, Kansas, and California.
 - Son, George W. [1], b: 1849 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 1925 in McDonald County, Missouri.
 - Daughter, Malinda Adeline "Milla" NEWBERRY Chrisman, b: 1849 in Newton County, Arkansas and lived in that area through 1876; migrated to California: was in Tulare County in 1880 and in Fresno County from 1884 until her death in 1890.
- ▶ Son, Elijah, b: 1803/4 in North Carolina; lived in Overton County, Tennessee during 1830-40; and lived in Newton County, Arkansas in 1850.
 - Daughter, Cassa Perlina (Polina) NEWBERRY Robbins, b: 1846/7 in Overton County, Tennessee; was in Newton County, Arkansas during 1850-75; lived in Arizona during 1876-82; and in California from about 1883 until her death in 1926, first at Los Angeles for about two years and finally in Mendocino County (buried in Sonoma County).

Newton County, Arkansas was created from the south part of Carroll County on 14 Dec 1842.

A Newberry placename in Newton County Arkansas: Newberry Point, a southern spur of Gaither Mountain, is located 5 miles east of Plumlee Cemetery (2 miles north of Erbie community on the Buffalo River in sections 20 and 29 of T17N, R21W). Beauty Cave is in section 30 at that location. It was discovered about 1925 by the same Newberry for which Newberry Point was named.

That Newberry may be included in this material, but the author did not discover which one he was.

Conflicting accounts on the early history of this family: There are two main accounts of the early history of this family, one held by several descendant genealogists (including, alphabetically, Frances FARLEY Crossland, Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, Lorene TAYLOR Gaines, Doris DENNIS Newbury, and the author) and the other presented in the book William Crockett Robertson - Ancestors, Descendants & Related Families, by Frank Allen ROBERTSON.

The Robertson book states that Stephan NEWBURY [Sr] and his wife, Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS, emigrated by ship from Finland to the United States in 1802, that Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] was their first child, and that he was born during their voyage one day short of the port of Savannah, Georgia. This scenario was proposed by a family member, with appropriate cautions that it was simply an idea of what might have happened. But the editors of the Robertson book removed the precautionary disclaimers and used the scenario as fact. The present author accepted the Robertson book as fact during the writing of the 1989 edition of the book, Newberry Family and In-Laws - further perpetuating these ideas.

The other view involves the following points:

- ◆ It is presently unknown who or when some NEWBURY of this family emigrated from the British Isles to what is now the United States.
- ◆ Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS was b: 1767/8 in North Carolina per the 1850 Census of Overton County, Tennessee.
- ◆ Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3 in North Carolina, was probably - though not strictly proven, one of the early children of Sarah and Stephen NEWBURY [Sr].

The reasoning behind this belief:

- ▶ Like his mother, Thomas [Sr, b: 1792/3] was born in North Carolina.
- ▶ By 1830 he had moved to Monroe County, Tennessee - thus following his parents to Tennessee.
- ▶ By 1840 he had moved to Overton County, Tennessee - thus following his parents to Overton County.
- ▶ He named one of his children "Stephen C. NEWBURY", the same name as his brother.
- ▶ And, as the present author has come to believe - though not strictly proven, the father of Stephen [Sr] was another Thomas NEWBURY [Sr, b: before 1727, see just below for the logic of this date]. They both occur on the State Census of North Carolina of 1784-1787, page 180, in Wilkes County as follows:
 - Thomas NEWBURY [Sr, b: before 1727] is head of a household with "(4) white males under 21 and above 60" [which includes the head of household, Thomas Sr]; "(3) white females all ages"; "(0) white males 21-60"; and "(0) black" [i.e. no slaves]. Thus, Thomas was age 61 or older (b: before 1727). Past that, one can only make assumptions about the rest of the household. But, there are Wilkes County land grants on the north fork and on the south fork of Fishers Creek to Thomas Sr in 1785, each for 80 acres. And, there is another land grant of 150 acres on Fishers Creek to Thomas NEWBURY Jr [b: estimated 1763] in 1792.
 - Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] is head of another household with "(1) white male 21-60" [which can only be himself], "(0) white male under 21 and above 60" [no sons yet], "(1) white female all ages" [no daughters yet], and "(0) black" [i.e. no slaves]. The author assumes the one female was his wife, Sarah CHAMBERS. Her first "known" child, Thomas Sr, was b: 1792/3, which was after the census. One reason to support the idea that the wife was Sarah CHAMBERS is that there were other CHAMBERS family in the area [the family of Sarah ?], as evidenced by an 18 Mar 1797 sale of half of the Thomas [Sr, b: before 1727] land (he now had more than the two 80-acre land grants) to John CHAMBERS and witnessed by Elijah CHAMBERS, Elisha CHAMBERS, and John ANDREWS. On the same day, Thomas [Sr, b: before 1727] also sold land to John ANDREWS, witnessed by the three CHAMBERS men. This Thomas was living in Georgia at the time.

Note: All these land transactions and the whereabouts of Thomas [Sr, b: before 1727] in 1797 were from notes by Lorene TAYLOR Gaines.

- ◆ Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] was probably a son of Stephen [Sr] and Sarah because:
 - ▶ This is stated as a fact in the 30 Apr 1916 letter of Esther PITTMAN Newberry to her daughter, Nina NEWBERRY Gottfried (quoted in full on page 516): “Your grandpa’s mother’s name [the mother of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]] was Sallie Chambers ...”. Esther was the daughter-in-law of Stephen [Jr] and knew him personally for at least the three years between her Sep 1867 marriage to Stephen’s son, Jasper, and Stephen’s death in Sep 1870.
 - ▶ His name is similar to Stephen NEWBURY [Sr]
 - ▶ He lived near Sarah in Overton County, Tennessee in 1830. Both owned land on Obed’s River [Obey River on modern maps. There is a modern Obed River further east in Tennessee.]
 - ▶ He moved with the other Newberry families to Carroll/Newton County, Arkansas
- ◆ Elijah NEWBURY was probably a son of Stephen [Sr] and Sarah because:
 - ▶ His date of birth of 1-2 years after Stephen [Jr]
 - ▶ He lived near Sarah in Overton County
 - ▶ He moved with the other Newberry families to Carroll/Newton County, Arkansas
- ◆ William NEWBURY (b: estimated 1764) was probably a son of Thomas NEWBURY [Sr, b: before 1727] because he married in 1783 in Wilkes County, North Carolina, participated in the 1805 Georgia Land Lottery, reporting that he lived in Hancock County, Georgia. His age and whereabouts appear correct to be a son of Thomas [Sr, b: before 1727].
- ◆ James was possibly a child of Stephen [Sr] and Sarah because:
 - ▶ He first turned up in the 1840 Census (with his own household) and he lived near Sarah in Overton County. It is also possible he was a child of one of Stephen’s “brothers”, Thomas Jr (b: estimated 1763) or William (b: estimated 1764), but unlikely because they apparently did not leave North Carolina and Georgia.

The family history presented here (beginning page 31) is from this latter viewpoint - which is counter to the presentation of the author’s original, 1989 edition of this family history.

The following is an anthology of research findings quoted with permission from the book, THE THOMAS NEWBURY FAMILY, 1996, by Doris DENNIS Newbury and her husband, James NEWBURY. It bears mainly on father Thomas NEWBURY (Sr, b: before 1727), son Thomas NEWBURY Jr (b: estimated 1763), son William NEWBURY (b: estimated 1764), son Stephen NEWBURY [Sr], grandson Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: 1792/3, son of Stephen [Sr]), great grandson Joseph NEWBURY (c1816-c1881/2; son of Thomas Sr, b: 1792/3), and great-great grandson William Carroll NEWBURY (son of Joseph):

NEWBURY - NEWBERRY

Thomas Newberry who was born 1792 and married Mary "Polly" Peyton is as far back as we have been able to actually prove. But through correspondence, I have been told that Thomas' parents were Stephen Newberry and Sarah "Sallie" Chambers. Stephen was supposed to have died about 1829 in Overton County, Tennessee. Our Thomas Newberry was living next door to Sarah Newberry in the 1840 Overton County, Tennessee Census. So it is quite possible that he was her son. Sarah Newberry was still living in 1850 and was listed in the census as age 82. That would have made her born about 1768. She gives her birthplace as North Carolina.

I also believe that Stephen Newberry's father was the Thomas Newberry that I found in Wilkes County, North Carolina. I believe that the Thomas Jr, William, and Stephen that were in Wilkes County, North Carolina were his sons.

16 Aug 1828 Stephen Newberry granted 30 acres of land in Overton County, Tennessee.

Illinois information:

13 Oct 1851 The first land transactions I [Doris DENNIS Newbury] have found for Joseph and Margaret (Allred) Newbury was in Franklin County, Illinois. The land was purchased in Margaret Newbury's name. She purchased 40 acres of land for $100.00 on 13 Oct 1851. Joseph Newbury just signed as a witness. We were unable to find any record of when she sold the land. Why was the land purchased in her name? Could she have received an inheritance? There were two other ALLRED girls in Jefferson County, Illinois. Ivan Loucks said the three were sisters and that they were orphans. (I have not been able to prove or disprove this).

13 Sep 1866 Joseph Newbury bought land in Knob Prairie, Jefferson County, Illinois. He bought 40 acres and paid $250.00 (Book R, page 254).

10 Sep 1869 Joseph Newbury bought 80 acres of land in Jefferson County, Illinois for $500.00 (Book S, page 448).

12 Apr 1873 Joseph and Margaret Newbury sold 20 acres of land to William C. [Carroll] Newbury for $75.00 (Deed Book 28, page 590)

It has been told down through the generations that the Newburys are part Indian. As yet we have not been able to prove this. If there is Indian blood, it has come through Thomas Newberry's wife, Mary "Polly" Peyton or Joseph Newbury's wife Margaret Allred. Polly Peyton's father was supposed to be Leroy Peyton but we have been unable to determine the parents of Margaret Allred.

Continuing with Mystery Man #1, Stephen C. NEWBERRY, b: 1818/19, from just above:

The kinship of the following Stephen C. NEWBERRY, who is obviously a member of this family, is unknown to the author, to Susan NEWBERRY Davidson who supplied this information to the author in the form of his Union Civil War military record and her observations, and to Lorene TAYLOR Gaines and John Jay SROKA, who originally furnished the data to Susan. For lack of a better place, this data is provided only here. The author is interested in learning the kinship of this man¹, if any reader can supply the information. The generation number of this Stephen C. (of ^{54?}, given on the previous page) is only a guess: The following is quoted from his military record:

Stephen C. Newberry, Private, Company B, First Regiment Arkansas Cavalry, Appears on Company Muster Roll for January and February, 1865. Remarks: Discharged on Surgeon's certificate of disability Jan 23, 1865 by order of Major General Street.

Stephen C. Newberry, Private, Company B, First Regiment Arkansas Cavalry. Age 46 years, Appears on Company Muster-out Roll, dated Fayetteville, Arkansas, August 23, 1865. Remarks: Discharged at Fayetteville, Arkansas Jan 23, 1865. Surgeon's certificate of disability by order of Major General Steel Commanding.

Stephen C. Newberry, Company B, First Regiment Arkansas Cavalry. Appears on Company Descriptive Book of the organization named above.

DESCRIPTION. Age 46 years: height 5 feet 9 inches. Complexion dark, eyes blue, hair black, Where born Overton County, Tennessee, Occupation farmer.

ENLISTMENT. July 21, 1862, Where Washington County, Arkansas.

The following is quoted from Susan NEWBERRY Davidson:

“October 1996

[The above military record] is a copy of part of the Union Civil War Record of a Stephen C. Newberry, born in Overton County, Tennessee. that I have no explanation for.

Elijah's probable son, Stephen C. Newberry (wife Mary, age 32), who is shown on the 1860 Census of Newton County, Arkansas as age 32, should have been 36 or 37 in January of 1865, the date of this discharge.

There are land transaction records and a marriage record in Washington County, Arkansas for Stephen C. Newberry.

The marriage record says Stephen Newberry of Washington County, age 28 years and Anna Coots (or Coats) age 26 of Washington County were married December 22, 1851.

This would make him approximately 42 at the time of his Army discharge papers, and approximately 36 at the time of the 1860 Census, since he was married at the end of the year.

¹ Susan NEWBERRY Davidson in 1998: “Because of the variances in dates and the wives names, I think it more likely there were two separate men.”

Both land transactions give his name as Stephen C. NEWBERRY. Buys 40 acres November 1853, sells 40 acres February 20, 1855. This sale deed shows his wife's name as Anne Newberry.

Remember, he enlisted from Washington County July 21, 1862.

The Stephen C. Newberry of Newton County in the 1860 Census had a 13 year old son, Marion, born in Tennessee and Elijah, 9, born in Illinois, so I find it doubtful he was in Washington County, Arkansas getting married - another puzzle to solve."

Another possible piece to this puzzle is a United States Bureau of Land Management (BLM) record received from Gloria SPAULDING Lovvo in 1998, quoted verbatim:

"Patentee Name: Newberry, Stephen C.

Accession Number: AR1030__058

State: Arkansas

Volume: 1030

Page: 58

Document Number: 9572

Land Office: Fayetteville

Aliquot Part Reference: SESW [southeast quarter of the southwest quarter]

Section Number: 21

Township: 16 North

Range: 29 West

Meridian/Survey Area: Fifth Principal Meridian

Act/Treaty Authorizing Sale: Sale-Cash Entries

Date Signed: Jul 1, 1859

Acreage: 40.00

Signed: Yes the document on file at the BLM contains a signature."

This 40 acres is in Washington County, Arkansas about 7-miles east of Fayetteville¹. It is about 38-miles west of Hopewell community (George community), Newton County where Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] (1802-1870) lived and was buried - which was a long way over those mountains by horseback or wagon. Therefore, the author concludes that this land was too far away to be of use to Stephen C. [Jr], unless he was simply trading in land (at age 56). The land appears to be an original homestead. The author speculates that the only Stephen C. NEWBERRYs who may have bought this land were Stephen C. NEWBERRY, b: 1827/8 (at age 31 [see on page 607], was enumerated in ¹ Location: This 40-acres is south of Arkansas Highway 16 and south of Lake Sequoyah and in the same section as that lake. Following a Washington County map of 1978: From the intersection of Highway 16 with 71 Business Route through Fayetteville, it is 7-miles east of Highway 71 Business on Highway 16 to a county road that turns south off of 16. The north edge of the 40-acres occurs about 0.2-mile after leaving Highway 16 and the south edge occurs after another 0.25-mile. Or, going west on Highway 16 toward Fayetteville, the county road turning south off Highway 16 is 2.5-miles west of the intersection of Highway 16 with Highway 74. Also, going west on Highway 16, the county road is 0.5-mile west of where the arm of Lake Sequoyah crosses Highway 16 [the arm made by the Middle Fork of the White River].

Newton County, Arkansas in 1860, which was one year after this land purchase; son of Elijah NEWBURY, b: 1803/4) or Stephen C. NEWBERRY, b: 1818/9, the MYSTERY man at age 40. The author also speculates that these two persons named Stephen C. may be the same person, even though there is an apparent age disparity of about nine years.

Continuing with Mystery Man #2, Stephen C. NEWBERRY, c1819/22-1886, from above:

Following is apparently another Stephen C. NEWBERRY, obviously a member of this family, but whose kinship is unknown to the author and to Georgia L. Bristol of Niland, California who supplied this information 17 Apr 99. Georgia and the author are interested in learning the kinship of this man, if any reader can supply the information. End Mystery Man #2, Stephen C. NEWBERRY, b: 1819/22 in Overton County, Tennessee

This family history begins with the earliest set of NEWBURY parents "known" to the author, Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727). Some early family members are only conditionally proven, as explained on page 19, beginning with "The other view involves the following points". Histories of related families are also included: BARKER from c1770, BINAM from c1863, BUNCH from c1640, DOTSON from c1780, and INMAN from 1772:

^{50-?} Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: before 1727 (see next paragraph for calculation of this year of birth), m: _____. They lived in Wilkes County, North Carolina where he was granted land in 1785. They lived in Georgia in 1797.

Repeated from the Introduction, Thomas' year of birth was calculated as follows: from the State Census of North Carolina of 1784-1787, page 180, for Wilkes County, Thomas was head of a household with "(4) white males under 21 and above 60" [which includes the head of household, Thomas Sr]; "(3) white females all ages"; "(0) white males 21-60"; and "(0) black" [i.e. no slaves]. Thus, Thomas was 61 or more in 1787. So, he was born 1726 or before. Either case is included in: b: before 1727.

Judging from the North Carolina Wilkes County Census of 1784-7, from the 1790 United States Census of North Carolina, and from land grants, Thomas apparently had at least two daughters and at least six sons, only three of whom are "known" to the author:

⁵¹⁻¹ Thomas NEWBURY Jr, b: estimated 1763, 1 Jan 1780 in Wilkes County, North Carolina to Rebecca JONES (The bondsmen were James JONES and William LENOIR).

Author's estimation of Thomas' year of birth: Assuming he was age 20 when he married Rebecca, he would have been born b: 1760, but, per the North Carolina State Census of 1784-1787, none of the sons were born before 1763, so the author estimated 1763. The author also assumed that Thomas was the first of the sons.

⁵¹⁻² William NEWBURY, b: estimated 1764, 10 Feb 1783 in Wilkes County, North Carolina to Nanney BOND.

Author's estimation of William's year of birth: Assuming he was age 20 when he married Nanney, he would have been born b: 1763, but, since that was the estimated year of birth of Thomas Jr, the author estimated William was born 1764.

Reasons given by Doris DENNIS Newbury for her belief that William was a child of Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727):

- ▶ William 10 Feb 1783 in Wilkes County, North Carolina.
- ▶ William participated in the 1805 Georgia Land Lottery and gave Hancock County, Georgia as his residence.

Author's notes:

- ▶ William was not identified in any records after the 1805 Georgia Land Lottery.
- ▶ The author could not find a William in the 1830 nor 1840 censuses of Tennessee who was old enough to be the above William. Both William NEWBURY and William NEWBURY of the 1830 Tennessee Census of Overton and Greene Counties respectively were age 30-40, (b: 1790-1800).

⁵¹⁻³ Stephen NEWBURY [Sr], b: estimated 1766, d: 1826/30 in Overton County, Tennessee, m: Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS, b: 1767/8 in North Carolina, d: 1850 or later.

See immediately below for detail, their following seven probable children, and their descendants:

Thomas NEWBURY Sr	1792/3 - 1877
Edward NEWBURY	1792/3 - after 1850 census
William NEWBURY	1799/1800 - after 1850 census
Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]	1802 - 1870
Elijah NEWBURY	1803/4 - ____
Polly NEWBURY Key	____ - ____
James NEWBURY	1810/20 - ____

⁵¹⁻⁴ son NEWBURY, b: 1774-1790 per the 1790 Census of Wilkes County, North Carolina.

⁵¹⁻⁵ son NEWBURY, b: 1774-1790 per the 1790 Census of Wilkes County, North Carolina.

⁵¹⁻⁶ son NEWBURY, b: 1774-1790 per the 1790 Census of Wilkes County, North Carolina.

⁵¹⁻⁷ daughter NEWBURY (per the 1790 Census of Wilkes County, North Carolina).

⁵¹⁻⁸ daughter NEWBURY (per the 1790 Census of Wilkes County, North Carolina).

End of the family of Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727) and ____

Continuing with the family of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS, as referenced just above under his father, Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727):

⁵¹⁻³ Stephen NEWBURY [Sr]¹, b: estimated 1766, d: 1826/30 in Overton County, Tennessee, m: Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS, b: 1767/8 in North Carolina, d: 1850 or later (was 82 in the 1850 Census of Overton County, Tennessee).

Author's estimation of Stephen's year of birth: From data in the Introduction, Stephen [Jr] first went on the Poll List in 1787. Assuming he was 21 years old when he registered, he would have been b: 1765-6.

The parents of Sallie are unknown to this author, but here are some (probable ?) kin:

- ▶ Quoting from notes by Lorene TAYLOR Gaines on land transactions by Thomas NEWBURY [Sr, b: before 1727] and Thomas Jr [b: estimated 1760] in Wilkes County, North Carolina: "March 18, 1797 - Thomas Newbury [Sr] sold half of his land to John Chambers. Witnesses- Elijah Chambers, Elisha Chambers and John Andrews. Wilkes County, North Carolina. Thomas [Sr] had bought more land beside the two grants ["80 acres, Grant, 1785, Sum of 50 schillings, South Fork of Fishers Creek" and "80 acres, Grant, 1785, Sum of 50 schillings, North Fork of Fishers Creek"]". On the same day, Thomas [Sr] also sold land to John Andrews, witnessed by the three CHAMBERS men.
- ▶ Quoting a 22 Sep 96 letter from Susan NEWBERRY Davidson: "When I was in Overton County [Tennessee] last year, the library had an early hand written survey of Overton County that showed part of the work was done by Elisha Chambers". If this was the same Elisha as the one mentioned above in Wilkes County, North Carolina, then one might conclude that it was more than coincidence that his presence in the two places coincided with the presence of Sallie in those places. Was Elisha (or John or Elijah) her father, brother, uncle, cousin, or "no kin at all" ?

Quoting Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, "In 1805 Stephen applied for land in Columbia County, Georgia in the land lottery, but he did not win. Is he the same Stephen who appeared 1807 on a tax record of "Jack's Company", Knox County, Tennessee ?" In 1814 Stephen witnessed a deed in Knox County, Tennessee between James C. Patton (Peyton ?) and Abraham McDonnel. Nevertheless, by 1830, Stephen [Sr] was absent and Sarah, Stephen [Jr], Elijah, and William were in Overton County, Tennessee living in separate households. In the 1840 Census of

¹ The brackets "[]" indicate that "Sr" was added by the author. Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and his namesake son actually had different names - the son having a middle initial, "C". The "[Jr]" in Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] was also added by the author - in an attempt to clearly delineate these and others with the same name. In this book, there are two men named Stephen C. NEWBURY, one being [Jr] just mentioned, and two others named Stephen C. NEWBERRY, who are delineated by their years of birth. The "other" NEWBURY/NEWBERRY spelling is also found in the records for each of these two surname spellings. The "C" in "Stephen C." may stand for CHAMBERS, maiden name of the wife of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and mother of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]; but this is purely speculation, as no one has found any proof to the author's knowledge. A descriptive list of people in this book with the same or similar names can be found near the end of the Introduction.

Overton County, the families of Thomas [Sr, b: 1792/3], James, and Joseph [b: about 1816] appeared for the first time. After the 1840 Census, three Newberry families from this group migrated from Overton County to Osage Township in Carroll/Newton County, Arkansas: Stephen [Jr] in 1840/42, James Montgomery about 1844 (son of Stephen [Jr]), and Elijah in 1849/50. Another family, that of Joseph NEWBURY (c1816-c1881/2) migrated in 1840 to Jefferson County, Illinois. Apparently, Thomas [Sr, b: 1792/3], James, and William remained in Tennessee. Another Newberry family, that of George NEWBERRY (of unknown county [but probably Overton], Tennessee - assumed by the author to be a son of Elijah for reasons given on page 607), had moved to Jasper, Newton County, Arkansas by 1852. Another assumed son of Elijah (for reasons given on page 607), Stephen C. NEWBERRY (b: 1827/8), moved from Overton County, Tennessee to Illinois by 1850/1, to Missouri by 1852/5, and to Newton County, Arkansas by 1858/9.

Because the Overton County, Tennessee 1836 Tax List showed Sarah [Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS Newbury] with 125 acres of land, Susan NEWBERRY Davidson inferred (and the author concurs) that it consisted of the following two grants:

Overton County, Tennessee land grant "No. 1367: On 8 Jun 1824 Stephen "entered" a 100-acre plot of land "lying in said county on the waters of the west fork of Obed's River" [Obey River on modern maps. There is a modern Obed River further east in Tennessee.] in Overton County, Tennessee. The plot was surveyed on 20 (or 26) Oct 1824. The survey points included only trees and unnamed mountains. The cost of the land grant was 12-1/2 ¢ per acre and was dated 22 (or 25) Sep 1829 by the Governor of Tennessee.

Overton County, Tennessee land grant "No. 4859: On 14 Feb 1826 Stephen "entered" a 25-acre plot of land "lying in said county on the waters of the west fork of Obed's River" [Obey River on modern maps. There is a modern Obed River further east in Tennessee.] in Overton County, Tennessee. The plot was surveyed on 1 Jun 1835. The survey points included various trees and the property line of Larken Cox on the west. The cost of the land grant was 1¢ per acre and was dated 14 Dec 1836 by Governor N. Cannon.

The seven probable children of Stephen [Sr] and Sarah and their descendants were:

- ⁵²⁻¹ Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3 in North Carolina, d: 3 May 1877 in Overton County, Tennessee, m1: Mary "Polly" PEYTON, had at least six children. m2: Sarah "Sallie" _____, had six children with Thomas. Sallie was previously married to _____ WILSON and in the 1850 Census Index, her child, Mary Ann WILSON, age 9, was living with Sallie and Thomas.

Evidence of the Thomas' kinship to his parents, grandparents, brother Stephen C. [Jr] and other siblings:

- ▶ his birth state, North Carolina, being the same as his mother
- ▶ the presence of his parents in the 1784-1787 Census of Wilkes County, North Carolina. His father, Stephen [Sr], was named in this census along with grandfather, Thomas (Sr, b: before 1727).
- ▶ by his name being the same as his grandfather; by his living proximity to his parents in Knox County, Tennessee in 1812, in Monroe County, Tennessee in 1830, and in Overton County, Tennessee in 1836 and 1840. He lived next door to his mother, Sarah, in the 1840 Census of Overton County.

- ▶ by his naming one of his children after his brother, Stephen C.

See page 41 for detail, the following combined thirteen children of Thomas, Polly, and Sallie, and their descendants:

Cynthia NEWBURY Bunch	1813/15 - _____
Joseph NEWBURY	c1816 - c1881/2
William Gaines NEWBURY [1]	1818 - 1884
Samuel NEWBURY	1821/2 - c1862/4

daughter NEWBURY	c1826 - _____
Mary Ann WILSON
Rebecca NEWBURY	1846 - _____
Thomas NEWBURY Jr	1848 - _____
Moses Fate NEWBURY Sr	1850 - 1917
Madison NEWBURY	1851/2 - _____
Martha NEWBURY	1854/5 - _____
Celia NEWBURY	1859/60 - _____

- ⁵²⁻² Edward NEWBURY, b: 1792/3 in Tennessee, d: 1850/60, m: Sarah _____, b: 1795 in Tennessee (birth year calculated from the 1850 and 1860 Census Index), d: after the 1860 Census of Overton County, Tennessee.

Evidence of Edward's kinship to his parents:

- ▶ Although he and his family were enumerated in Bradley County, Tennessee in the 1850 Census, that family minus Edward (assumed to have died 1850/60) was enumerated in the 1860 Census of Overton County, Tennessee in the household of John WEEKS who had married Edward's daughter, Rhoda [1]. Edward's son, Jacob, of the 1850 Census was also enumerated in Overton County in 1860 - as head of his own household. The indication is that Edward's family, under John WEEKS, moved to Overton County to join their "kin".
- ▶ Although his older "brother", Thomas, was b: 1792/3 in North Carolina, their parents, Stephen [Sr] and Sarah, could have moved to Tennessee after the birth of Thomas and before the birth of Edward. The various public records put the family in North Carolina during 1785-1792. Thereafter those records skip to Stephen being in a Georgia land lottery in 1805 and being in Tennessee (Knox County 1806-1814 and later Overton County). As to his being in Georgia, he may have simply traveled there from his home state to participate in the lottery. Knox County where the parents had lived is only about 70 miles from Bradley County where Edward was enumerated in 1850.

An argument against this kinship:

- ▶ Edward's older brother, Thomas Sr was b: 1792/3 in North Carolina and his younger brother, Stephen [Sr], was b: 1802 in Georgia. Yet, Edward was b: 1792/3 in Tennessee. No other evidence has surfaced of the family being in Tennessee in 1792/3

(which would not be unusual). If all three of these children were in the same family, they traveled a great deal (by wagon), especially during 1792-3.

Edward and Sarah had at least the following three children (and possibly other young NEWBERRYs of the 1850 Census of Bradley County, Tennessee such as Enoch, age 25; Philip H., age 16 in the household of William BLAIR; and perhaps Tabitha, age 31, in adjacent Hamilton County):

53-1 Jacob NEWBERRY, b: 1829 (year calculated from 1850 Bradley County and 1860 Overton County Census Indexes), m: Martha J. _____, b: 1833/4, had at least four children:

54-1 Markus L. NEWBERRY, b: 1850/1.

54-2 Margaret M. NEWBERRY, b: 1852/3.

54-3 Andrew J. NEWBERRY, b: 1856/7.

54-4 Catherine NEWBERRY, b: 1858/9.

53-2 Elizabeth NEWBERRY, b: 1831/2, was living with her parents in Bradley County in 1850 and in the household of her sister, Rhoda NEWBERRY [1] Weeks in 1860 (see more under Rhoda - next).

53-3 Rhoda NEWBERRY [1], b: 1835/6, m: John W. WEEKS, b: 1835/6, had at least one child, Rebecca.

Rhoda's mother, Sarah, and her sister, Elizabeth, along with three other NEWBERRY children were living in this Overton County, Tennessee household in 1860: Job, age 10 (b: 1849/50); Volentine, age 4 (b: 1855/6), and Carolton, age 2 (b: 1857/8). Their order of listing in the census indicates that Carolton may have been a child of Elizabeth. Perhaps the others were visitors or orphans.

Reference the 1850 Lincoln County, Tennessee Census: John W. was the son of John A. WEEKS (b: 1804/5 in Virginia) and Catharine _____ (b: 1810/11 in Virginia).

The children living with Rhoda and John during the 1860 census were:

54-1 Job NEWBERRY, b: 1849/50, parents unknown to the author - may have been an orphan or a visitor in the household during the 1860 Overton County, Tennessee Census.

54-2 Volentine NEWBERRY, b: 1855/6, parents unknown to the author - may have been an orphan or a visitor in the household during the 1860 Overton County, Tennessee Census.

⁵⁴⁻³ Carolton NEWBERRY, b: 1857/8, parents unknown to the author - may have been an orphan or a visitor in the household during the 1860 Overton County, Tennessee Census or, possibly, a child of Elizabeth who was also listed in the household (Elizabeth was listed after Volentine and before Carolton, who was listed last. See the actual census listing in Census Data, page 749).

⁵⁴⁻⁴ Rebecca WEEKS, b: 1858/9.

⁵²⁻³ William NEWBURY, b: 1799/1800 (Tennessee Census Index of 1830 for Overton County, 1840 for adjacent Jackson County, 1850 Jackson County, and was not identified by the author in subsequent indexes) in Georgia (per 1850 Index), m: Henrietta _____, b: 1807/8 in Kentucky (per 1850 Index), had at least seven children.

Evidence of William's kinship to this set of parents and siblings:

- ▶ In the 1830 Census Index of Overton County, Tennessee, he lived in close proximity to his "mother", Sarah, widow of Stephen [Sr].
- ▶ In the 1840 and 1850 Census Indexes of Jackson County, which joined Overton County on the west, he still lived in near proximity to the family remaining in Overton County.
- ▶ His birth year of 1799/1800, as determined from the Census Indexes of 1830-50, was in the range of Sarah and Stephen [Sr]'s children.

Other possible origins of William (b: 1799/1800):

- ▶ It is possible that he was a son of one of the brothers of Stephen [Sr]: either Thomas NEWBURY Jr (b: estimated 1760) or William NEWBURY (b: estimated 1763). However, neither of these brothers are known to have migrated to Tennessee from North Carolina or Georgia.
- ▶ In the 1820 Census Index of Jackson County, Tennessee, there was a James NEWBERRY, b: 1794/1804, who could possibly have been the father of William [as well as another son of Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727)]. But this is unlikely because William was in Overton County in 1830, before going to Jackson County by 1840. Repeating from the Census Data, page 730: From the 1820 Index, James' household consisted of James (age 16-25, b: 1794/1804), a white female (age 16-25, b: 1794/1804, probably his wife), and one male (age 0-9, b: 1810/1820, probably their son).

The seven known children of William and Henrietta were:

⁵³⁻¹ William N. NEWBURY, b: 1823/4 in Tennessee, m: Phereby [Freda ?] _____, b: 1826/7 in Tennessee.

Author's note: The kinship of William N. to William (b: 1799/1800) is only inferred by the fact that both families lived adjacent to each other in Jackson County, and the age of William N. fit the 1830 Census Index data for his father. Neither family was identified in later indexes.

William N. and Phereby had two daughters per the 1850 Census Index of Jackson County, Tennessee:

- 54-1 Clementine T. NEWBERRY, b: 1846/7 probably in Jackson County, Tennessee.
- 54-2 Mary J. NEWBERRY, b: 1848/9 probably in Jackson County, Tennessee.
- 53-2 son NEWBURY, b: 1820/25, died or left home before 1840 census.
- 53-3 son NEWBURY, b: 1830/35, died or left home before the 1850 census.
- 53-4 Elizabeth NEWBURY, b: 1831/2 probably in Overton or Jackson County, Tennessee.
- 53-5 Andrew NEWBURY, b: 1836/7 probably in Overton or Jackson County, Tennessee.
- 53-6 Sarah NEWBURY, b: 1841/2 probably in Jackson County, Tennessee.
- 53-7 Harriet NEWBURY, b: 1846/7 probably in Jackson County, Tennessee.
- 52-4 Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr], b: 5 Nov 1802 in Georgia, d: 2 Sep 1870 in Newton County, Arkansas, m1: Rhoda MONTGOMERY (? MONTGOMERY), had five children (per 1830 Census); m2: Easter PHILLIPS, had nine children.

Evidence of Stephen's kinship to his parents and siblings:

- ▶ the 30 Apr 1916 letter of Esther PITTMAN Newberry to her daughter, Nina NEWBERRY Gottfried (quoted in full on page 516, under William Jasper NEWBERRY): "Your grandpa's mother's name [the mother of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]] was Sallie Chambers ...". Esther was the daughter-in-law of Stephen [Jr] and knew him personally for at least the three years between her Sep 1867 marriage to Stephen's son, Jasper, and Stephen's death in Sep 1870.
- ▶ by his name being the same as his father.
- ▶ by his living proximity to his parents in Georgia at his birth in 1802, in Overton County, Tennessee in 1827, 1830, 1836, 1837, and 1840 and in Carroll/Newton County, Arkansas in 1850-1870.

⁵²⁻⁵ Elijah NEWBURY, b: 1803/4 in North Carolina, d: after 1870, m: Priscilla HATFIELD, had fourteen children.

Evidence of Elijah's kinship to his parents and siblings:

- ▶ his date of birth of 1-2 years after Stephen [Jr]
- ▶ by his living proximity to his parents (in North Carolina in 1803/4, in Overton County, Tennessee in 1830, 1836, and 1840 and in Carroll/Newton County, Arkansas in 1850).

See page 606 for detail, the following fourteen children of Elijah and Priscilla, and their descendants:

⁵²⁻⁶ Polly NEWBURY, m: Gerald KEY, lived in Overton County, Tennessee on the 125-acre land parcels "on the waters of the west fork of Obed's River" [Obey River on modern maps. There is a modern Obed River further east in Tennessee.] originally granted to Polly's father, Stephen NEWBURY [Sr]. See page 34, under Stephen [Sr] for land grant descriptions and dates. See page 517, under Nina NEWBERRY Gottfried for her genealogical note about Polly and Gerald as well as Polly's brother, Stephen [Jr], and their parents.

Evidence of Polly's kinship to her parents, grandparents, brother Stephen [Jr], and other siblings is a 1907 genealogical note of Nina NEWBERRY Gottfried, grandchild of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] (see note on page 517, under Nina). The note said in effect that Stephen [Jr] and Polly were siblings, children of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr], and that Polly and Polly's husband, Gerald KEY, "lived on the place ... taking care of Polly's mother, Sallie" [Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS Newbury], after she was widowed.

Author's notes:

- ▶ Polly's first name was probably Mary, as "Polly" is a familiar form of "Mary".

- ▶ The author failed to find either Gerald/Gareld or Polly/Mary KEY/KEYS/KEYES in any Overton County, Tennessee Census Index for the years 1830-1870.
- ▶ An Anderson KEY was listed in the 1830 Census Index immediately following the household of Sarah ["Sallie" CHAMBERS] NEWBURY in Overton County, Tennessee, indicating he lived adjacent to her. Repeated from the Census Data (page 734) this Census Index listing was: Anderson, age 20-29, two males under age 5, and one female age 20-29, who was probably Anderson's wife. It is possible that Anderson and Gerald were kin. It is also possible they were the same person, known by different names at different times or to different people. Anderson was also listed adjacent to Sarah in the Overton County, Tennessee 1836 Tax List (with 25 acres of land).

⁵²⁻⁷ James NEWBURY, b: 1810/20, m: Mary _____, b: 1827 in Tennessee, had at least one child (b: 1835/40) was listed with his own family in the 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee, with a daughter.

Author's notes: The author did not identify this James in any Census Index other than 1840, having searched all Tennessee counties for 1810-1870 and Carroll/Newton Counties, Arkansas for 1850-1880. Apparently, the family did not migrate to Arkansas or Illinois.

Evidence of James' kinship to his parents and siblings is his first appearing with his own household in the 1840 Census Index of Overton County, Tennessee at age 20-29 and his living proximity to his mother and siblings there. However, it is possible he was the son of one of Stephen's brothers, Thomas Jr (b: estimated 1760) or William (b: estimated 1763), but unlikely because they apparently did not leave North Carolina and Georgia.

The only child of James and Mary known to the author was per the 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee:

⁵³⁻¹ daughter NEWBURY, b: 1835/40.

End of the family of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS

Continuing with the family of Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: 1792/3), Mary "Polly" PEYTON, and Sarah _____ Wilson, as referenced on page 34 under his parents, Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] (b: estimated 1766, d: 1826/30) and Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS:

⁵²⁻¹ Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3 (calculated from his age in the 1860 Census. The 1850 Census Index yields, b: 1798/9. Doris DENNIS Newbury had "born about 1792") in North Carolina (per son Joseph and Georgia per son Stephen in the 1880 Census. The 1850 Census gave South Carolina and the 1860 Census gave Georgia), d: 3 May 1877 in Overton County, Tennessee, buried in Looper Cemetery, Overton County with a "sandstone marker, but the dates are worn and are hard to read", m1: 24 Dec 1812 (bond date) in Knox County, Tennessee to Mary "Polly" PEYTON (quoting Susan NEWBERRY Davidson: "PATON in later records and perhaps the same family as PATTON, since Stephen witnessed a Knox County deed of 9 Aug 1814 for the purchase of 30 acres by James C. PATTON from Abram McDonald). Polly was b: about 1789 in North Carolina, d: about 1842/3 in Overton County, Tennessee, had at least six children; m2: about 1843/4 to Sarah "Sallie" _____, b: about 1815 (b: 1815/18 using both 1850 and 1860 Censuses) in Tennessee, had six children with Thomas. Sallie was previously married to _____ WILSON and in the 1850 Census, her child, Mary Ann WILSON, age 9, was living with Sallie and her second husband, Thomas.

Polly was the daughter of Leroy PEYTON, per Doris DENNIS Newbury.

The following genealogy on the descendants of Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: 1792/3) is from material by Doris DENNIS Newbury (who occurs on page 95) consisting of: her family group sheets; her article in the book, History of Jefferson County Illinois, 1978; her book, The Thomas Newbury Family, 1996 (referring to Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3, but pointing to Stephen [Sr] as his father and to Thomas NEWBURY [b: before 1727] of Wilkes County, North Carolina as his father). The author added daughter, Cynthia, to this family (based on very little evidence - as explained on page 664).

The combined thirteen children of Thomas, Polly, Sallie, and _____ WILSON were:

⁵³⁻¹ Cynthia NEWBURY, b: 5 Oct 1813/15, d: 28 Dec 1835 (For reasons given on page 664, the author assumed that Cynthia belonged in this group of siblings.), m: John BUNCH [6], (The "[6]" was added by the author for reference purposes.), b: 1 Dec 1812 in Overton County, Tennessee, d: 2 Feb 1892 at Rule, Carroll County, Arkansas, had one child. After the death of Cynthia, John m2: 13 Apr 1836 to Elizabeth Louisa Jane "Eliza" QUALLS, b: 22 Aug 1818, had fourteen children. End of the family of Robert N. NEWBURY and Laura C. GAY

Continuing with the family of William Gaines NEWBURY [1], Ann COMBS, and Nancy Victoria MORDOCK (with data supplied almost entirely by Lorene TAYLOR Gaines), as referenced on page 42 under his parents, Thomas NEWBURY Sr, 1792/3-1877 and Mary "Polly" PEYTON:

⁵³⁻² William Gaines NEWBURY [1], b: 15 Mar 1818 in Tennessee, was a farmer, d: 2 Apr 1884 in Overton County, Tennessee, m1: about 1843/4 to Ann COMBS, b: about 1812 in Tennessee, d: about 1856/9 in Overton County, Tennessee, had five children, had been married previously to Landon MATLOCK; m2: 19 Dec 1859 in Tennessee to Nancy Victoria MORDOCK (spelling of "MORDOCK" is from her 1867 Bible, which was in the possession of William Robert NEWBERRY Jr in 1989), b: 25 Feb 1837 in Tennessee, d: 17 Feb 1887 in Tennessee, had seven children. For a picture of Nancy, see page 164, under Norman Eugene NEWBERRY.

Per Robert Carroll NEWBERRY in 1998: "My father, Elbert Eugene, is now almost 93 years old. I suspect he is currently the oldest living descendant of his grandfather, William Gaines, Sr. [William Gaines NEWBURY [1], b: 15 Mar 1818], and possibly, the oldest living descendant of his great grandfather, Thomas Newbury Sr [Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3]. Most of the children of William and Nancy Victoria [MORDOCK] moved from Fentress County, Tennessee to Wise County, Texas about 100 years ago. Hillery was the first to move and, apparently, enticed the others to follow. All had hopes of being able to raise cotton. In so far as I know, none of them were successful in the endeavor. My grandfather [Alexander "Alex" A.P." NEWBERRY] tried for many years but was never able to overcome the drought and pestilence. William Robert [Sr] ... subsequently migrated to California and Alex to Oklahoma. Hillery and Thomas remained in Texas. Hillery was the only one to retain the original spelling of "Newbury". It would be interesting to know why the others changed the spelling. He was the only one of the brothers I ever saw besides Alex." [This same quote is given in three places: under William Gaines NEWBURY [1], Hillery NEWBURY, and Elbert Eugene NEWBERRY.]

The combined twelve children of William, Ann, and Nancy were:

⁵⁴⁻¹ Mary Jane "Polly" NEWBURY, b: 27 Apr 1845, m: 13 Apr 1860 to Hilry SELLS.

⁵⁴⁻² Henrietta NEWBURY, b: 10 Jan 1846.

⁵⁴⁻³ Cynthia Ann NEWBURY, b: 16 Jan 1849, m: 18 Aug 1868 in Overton County, Tennessee to James W. COPELAND.

⁵⁴⁻⁴ James M. "Jim" NEWBERRY, b: 16 Apr 1850, d: 11 Jun 1917 (tombstone has b: 1851, d: 12 Jun 1918) in Overton County, Tennessee, buried in Newberry Cemetery (see next paragraph), m1: Jan 1870 (or Oct 1868 ? or Oct 1869 ?) to Pernilla WILSON, b: 1 Mar 1848 in Overton County, Tennessee, d: 18 Jun 1882, buried in Wilson Cemetery, Overton County, had seven children; m2: Naoma _____, b: 22 Oct 1854, d: 18 Jun 1917, buried in Newberry Cemetery (see next paragraph).

Both Jim and second wife, Naoma, are buried in Newberry Cemetery. It is also known as Marble Yard, per Doris DENNIS Newbury. It is close to the Eck Davis Cemetery, which is mentioned below the gravestone inscriptions that follow. It is located at or near Monroe, Overton County (six miles northeast of Livingston). Per Overton County Roll Call Cemetery Records 1795-1975 by Gary Denton Norris, it has the following eleven inscribed stones, with author's insertions in brackets, "[]":

Pernilla was the third child of Moses WILSON and Celia HAYES.

55-7 infant NEWBERRY, born and died 1882 in Tennessee.

54-5 Sarah "Sally" NEWBURY, b: 14 Nov 1855 (last child of William Gaines NEWBURY [1] and his first wife, Ann COMBS).

- ⁵⁴⁻⁶ Hillery NEWBURY, b: 17 Nov 1860 in Tennessee (first child of William Gaines NEWBURY [1] and his second wife, Nancy Victoria MORDOCK), m: 10 Aug 1880 in Overton County, Tennessee to Clarinda SELLS.

Per Robert Carroll NEWBERRY in 1998: "They lived on a farm near Post, Texas for many years and both are buried at Post, Texas. I think they died in the late 1950s or early 1960s."

Per Norman Eugene NEWBERRY in 1998: "We visited them [Norman was about age 11] about 1947 or 48. I recall he was completely deaf and his wife was blind. They lived on an 80-acre farm in the original house built by the Post Cereal Company around the turn of the century. They died about a week apart."

Per Robert Carroll NEWBERRY in 1998: "My father, Elbert Eugene, is now almost 93 years old. I suspect he is currently the oldest living descendant of his grandfather, William Gaines, Sr. [William Gaines NEWBURY [1], b: 15 Mar 1818], and possibly, the oldest living descendant of his great grandfather, Thomas Newbury Sr [Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3]. Most of the children of William and Nancy Victoria [MORDOCK] moved from Fentress County, Tennessee to Wise County, Texas about 100 years ago. Hillery was the first to move and, apparently, enticed the others to follow. All had hopes of being able to raise cotton. In so far as I know, none of them were successful in the endeavor. My grandfather [Alexander "Alex" A.P." NEWBERRY] tried for many years but was never able to overcome the drought and pestilence. William Robert [Sr] ... subsequently migrated to California and Alex to Oklahoma. Hillery and Thomas remained in Texas. Hillery was the only one to retain the original spelling of "Newbury". It would be interesting to know why the others changed the spelling. He was the only one of the brothers I ever saw besides Alex." [This same quote is given in three places: under William Gaines NEWBURY [1], Hillery NEWBURY, and Elbert Eugene NEWBERRY.]

Per Robert Carroll NEWBERRY in 1998: "My dad [Elbert Eugene NEWBERRY] remembers taking his father [Alexander "Alex" "A.P." NEWBERRY] to Thomas Newberry's [Thomas Marion "Tom" NEWBERRY's] funeral in 1946. Hillery and his wife [Clarinda SELLS Newbury] were there and wanted to come home with them for a visit. The road was under construction and the traffic was backed up in one long line. There was no place to turn off or pull over. As luck would have it, Hillery [at age 85] had an attack of acute gastric distress and was determined to get out of the moving car. However, there was no place to stop and no place to do anything anyway. So for several miles, while every one in the car endured the protesting growls and howls emanating from Hillery, my dad steered the car with one hand and forcibly held the passenger door closed with the other. To an old man born before the Civil War, who never drove anything other than a buggy or rode a mule, this kind of "progress" afforded by automobiles and highways must have indeed presented a sorry state of affairs."

Hillery and Clarinda had a daughter (source: Robert Carroll NEWBERRY in 1998):

- ⁵⁵⁻¹ Mandy NEWBURY, d: in childbirth or shortly after the birth of daughter, Stella.
Mandy m: _____ LUSK, had a daughter:

He furnished copies of the Bible inscriptions to the author.

⁵⁴⁻¹² Alexander "Alex" "A.P." NEWBERRY, b: 22 Jun 1877 near Jamestown, Fentress County, Tennessee, d: 23 Feb 1967 at Waurika, Jefferson County, Oklahoma, was a farmer, m: 25 Oct 1904 at Bridgeport, Wise County, Texas to Izora MASON, b: 17 Jul 1877 at La Vergne, Rutherford County, Tennessee, d: 16 Dec 1962 at Waurika, both buried at Waurika.

Izora was the daughter of Luke MASON and Mertilla BURNETT. They and several of their grown children moved to Hastings around 1920. Luke and Mertilla purchased a 5-acre plot next to James WALLACE who was married to Izora's younger sister, Mattie Belle.¹

"Mertilla was the daughter of John BURNETT, La Vergne, Rutherford County, Tennessee. John BURNETT married a daughter of James PRIESTLY, who was a school teacher who moved to the Nashville, Tennessee area around 1800. He had operated a school for boys in Pennsylvania. He bought from Andrew Jackson, United States President and owner of Hermitage, on the Tennessee River, just east of Nashville and opened a school for boys. The farm that he bought from Jackson is where Opryland (now closed) is located. He operated this school for several years. Eventually the school was moved to Lebanon, Tennessee and was the forerunner of Cumberland College, a private school located in Lebanon."²

Excerpting from Izora's obituary: "Mr. and Mrs. Newberry came to Jefferson County [Oklahoma], Hastings community, locating on a farm in 1920. They made the farm their home until they retired in 1946. For the last 17 years they have made their home in Waurika. [She was a member of the Church of Christ.] She is survived by her husband; two sons, E.A. [Ersel Alex] of Hastings and E.E. [Elbert Eugene] of Liberal, Kansas; and four grandsons; also two sisters, Clara Mason and Mattie Bell Wallace, both of Hastings."

Paraphrasing grandson, Norman Eugene NEWBERRY, in 1998: "After Alex's father and mother died [1884 and 1887 respectively], Alex lived with a half-sister, Sally [Sarah "Sally" NEWBURY, see page 157], until he moved to Wise County, Texas at about age 20 [about 1897] to join his brothers. He and his wife, Izora, moved to Jefferson County, Oklahoma to a small farm equidistant between Hastings and Temple because Izora's parents and siblings had moved there about 1918-19.

Quoting grandson, Norman Eugene NEWBERRY, in 1998: "Most of the older Newberry men that I knew, Hillary [Hillary NEWBURY] and Thomas [Thomas Marion "Tom" NEWBERRY] were shorter in height and slender. My grandfather [Alexander "Alex" "A.P." NEWBERRY], however, was about 6'-3" but never weighed more than 160 pounds. My grandmother was just over 5' - a real Mutt and Jeff couple."

Alex and Izora had two sons:

⁵⁵⁻¹ Elbert Eugene NEWBERRY, b: 22 Feb 1906 at Paradise, Wise County, Texas. lived at Stillwater, Oklahoma in 1998, m: 21 Nov 1931 at Temple, Cotton County, Oklahoma to Artie Avis BEAVER, b: 31 Aug 1908 at Sugden, Jefferson County, Oklahoma, d: 26 Dec 1991, buried at Ryan, Jefferson County. They lived at Alvord, Wise County, Texas in 1944 when they were visited by Elbert's uncle, Thomas Marion "Tom" NEWBERRY of Granbury, Texas.

Per son, Robert Carroll NEWBERRY, in 1998: "My father, Elbert Eugene, is now almost 93 years old. I suspect he is currently the oldest living descendant of his grandfather, William Gaines, Sr. [William Gaines NEWBURY [1], b: 15 Mar 1818], and possibly, the oldest living descendant of his great grandfather, Thomas Newbury Sr [Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3]. Most of the children of William and Nancy Victoria [MORDOCK] moved from Fentress County, Tennessee to Wise County, Texas about 100 years ago. Hillary was the first to move and, apparently, enticed the others to follow. All had hopes of being able to raise cotton. In so far as I know, none of them were successful in the endeavor. My grandfather [Alexander "Alex" A.P." NEWBERRY] tried for many years but was never able to overcome the drought and pestilence. William Robert [Sr] and John [John W. "Mack" NEWBERRY] subsequently migrated to California and Alex to Oklahoma. Hillary and Thomas remained in Texas. Hillary was the only one to retain the original spelling of "Newbury". It would be interesting to know why the others changed the spelling. He was the only one of the brothers I ever saw besides Alex." [This same quote is given in three places: under William Gaines NEWBURY [1], Hillary NEWBURY, and Elbert Eugene NEWBERRY.]

Quoting and paraphrasing son, Norman Eugene NEWBERRY, in 1998: "After their marriage in 1931, in the pit of the Great Depression, Elbert and Artie lived with his parents for a few months. Finally deciding that farming was a lost cause, they moved to Byers, Texas and started a help-yourself laundry. After a few years, around 1935, they moved to Ryan, Oklahoma where Artie's parents were living and opened another laundry. Norman was born 1936. They moved to Arlington, Texas in 1942 and Elbert worked in an aircraft factory at Grand Prairie, Texas. Carroll was born 1944, and that fall the family moved to Alvord, Texas where Elbert purchased a small farm of about 30 acres. In Nov 1945 they moved back to Ryan, bought the laundry back and stayed there until 1952 when they moved to Chickasha, Oklahoma where Artie completed her bachelor's degree in Home Economics at Oklahoma Women's College. In 1953 they moved to Canute, Oklahoma where Artie taught and then in 1956 to Temple, Oklahoma where she taught. They moved to Liberal, Kansas in 1962 and remained there until 1987 when her ill health required they move to Bowling Green, Kentucky where Carroll lived. They moved with Carroll and his family to Stillwater, Oklahoma in 1991. Artie died 1992 but Elbert is still in reasonably good health for age 92.

Elbert and Artie had two sons:

- ⁵⁶⁻¹ Norman Eugene NEWBERRY, b: 4 May 1936 at Ryan, Jefferson County, Oklahoma, m: 10 Aug 1968 at Greenville, Butler County, Alabama to Frances Jacquelyn RILEY, b: 19 Nov 1942.

In 1998 Norman lived at Mobile, Alabama where he was a junior college administrator. He received a doctorate in Education from University of Tennessee in 1975, taught at Freed-Hardeman University at Henderson, Tennessee; was provost at Alabama Christian College and Faulkner University; and was vice president at Bishop State Community College at Mobile. He furnished the author with data on his family and several others as is noted in the text: Hillery NEWBURY; Elizabeth Pernilla NEWBERRY; his grandfather, Alexander "Alex" "A.P." NEWBERRY (including references to William Gaines NEWBURY [1] and his second wife, Nancy Victoria MORDOCK, and Sarah "Sally" NEWBURY, a daughter of Gaines and his first wife, Ann COMBS); and his parents, Elbert Eugene NEWBERRY and Artie Avis BEAVER. Norman also noted: "I have a picture of Nancy Mordock Newberry in its original frame. It may be the only one in existence. The frame is oval, about 14" x 24" with rounded glass. It was given to me by Alexander Newberry two or three years before his death."

Norman and Frances had two children:

- ⁵⁷⁻¹ David Eugene NEWBERRY, b: 7 Nov 1969 at Fort Benning, Chattahoochee County, Georgia, lived at Tuscaloosa, Alabama in 1998, where he was attending University of Alabama and was a physical therapy assistant at Druid City Hospital, Department of Sports Medicine.

They lived at Mobile, Alabama in 1998. Rachel expected to receive her Masters in Speech Therapy in May 1999 from University of South Alabama. Chris graduated from Mississippi State University in May 1997 with a degree in architecture.
- ⁵⁶⁻² Robert Carroll NEWBERRY, b: 26 Feb 1944 at Ryan, Jefferson County, Oklahoma, m: 22 Jun 1968 at Sentinel, Washita County, Oklahoma to Jacqueline Larue BOST, b: 1 May 1947 at Sentinel, had two children.

In 1998, Robert and Jacqueline lived at Stillwater, Oklahoma where he was a medical doctor. He furnished the author all the data on his grandparents, Alexander "Alex" "AP" NEWBERRY and Izora MASON Newberry, and their descendants. See his general comments on the family on page 158, under his great uncle, Hillery NEWBERRY.

End of the family of William Gaines NEWBURY [1],
Ann COMBS, and Nancy Victoria MORDOCK

Continuing with the family of Thomas Marion "Tom" NEWBERRY and Laura Evaleen PRICE, as referenced on page 161 under his parents, William Gaines NEWBURY [1] and Nancy Victoria MORDOCK:

⁵⁴⁻¹¹ Thomas Marion "Tom" NEWBERRY, b: 17 Jun 1874 at Livingston [the County Seat, which may have been where his birth records were, but not necessarily exactly where he was born], Overton County, Tennessee, d: 26 Apr 1946 at Granbury, Hood County, Texas, m: 2 Feb 1892 in Fentress County, Tennessee to Laura Evaleen PRICE, b: 25 Jul 1876 at Jamestown [the County Seat], Fentress County, d: 1 Jul 1944, both buried in Granbury Cemetery, had twelve children.

Sources of information on this family: Except for Thomas' name, date of birth, and birth state, most all other information was from a 19-page paper on the family of Thomas Marion NEWBERRY by Elda Lois "Eldie" "Molly" NEWBERRY Holcomb of Wichita Falls, Texas in 1984 - which she furnished to family historian, Doris DENNIS Newbury, in 1984. The latest full date in Eldie's history was 15 Jan 1984. In 1997-8, her history was updated by her son, David Clark HOLCOMB. In 1998, Laura Jeanette HUGHES Freiling furnished details on the descendants of her parents, Billy Vinson HUGHES and Lillie Vashti "Grace" NEWBERRY; additional data on her grandparents, Tom and Laura; and data on several of their descendants. Jeanette stated that some information was also supplied by Callie Epsie NEWBERRY Thomas. Also in 1998, the following people updated their families: Mary Ellen NEWBERRY Crocker Jackson, Lillie Lokene Wanell HUGHES Dallas, Carolyn Ann NEWBERRY Williamson, Billy Joe "Scooter" THOMAS, William Elmer "Bill" HOLCOMB Jr, Michael Frank KOENINGER, Dan Quincy RAWLS, and Callie Roxann LANGSTON Leonard. The author's comments are labeled as such or they are in brackets, "[]".

Laura was the daughter of James Akin PRICE (b: 7 Mar 1841 in South Carolina, d: 20 Sep 1923 in Fentress County, Tennessee) and Sarah Ann BEATY (b: 13 Mar 1843 in Fentress County, m: 12 Nov 1865).

Sarah was the daughter of Andrew Jackson BEATY and Rhoda Jane GOODING.

Tom and Laura moved to Decatur [35 miles north northwest of Fort Worth], Wise County, Texas in 1902. From a drawing and description of the Newberry homestead house sent to Jeanette HUGHES Freiling by Elda Lois "Eldie" "Molly" NEWBERRY Holcomb: "This is house on Hwy 287, east of Chillicothe, near overpass in Tolbert area [Wilbarger County], and on north side of Hwy. Typical of farm houses in Texas, during early quarter of the century. They were wooden frame type; two chimneys - one in front part - one on back (kitchen) ... The Newberry homestead had two front doors - two front windows, but without upstairs windows on front. Some of the houses were two story to accommodate the large families of the pioneer days." Molly's drawing of the front downstairs had a living room and a bed room (bedroom had a stair case to the upper floor). Behind the living room was the dining room and behind that, the kitchen. Behind the bedroom and adjacent to dining room and kitchen was a screened back porch with a roofed cistern on the east side. Upstairs were three bedrooms and a hall. There was no second floor over the screened porch.

The twelve children of Tom and Laura were:

- ⁵⁵⁻¹ Floyd Kay NEWBERRY, b: 12 Jun 1894 at Jamestown, Fentress County, Tennessee, d: 29 Sep 1975 at Vernon, Wilbarger County, Texas, m: 22 Feb 1917 (marriage date per daughter, Mary NEWBERRY Jackson in 1998) at Tolbert, Wilbarger County to Fannie M. GOLDEN, b: 28 Dec 1896, d: 28 Oct 1991 (birth and death dates per daughter, Mary NEWBERRY Jackson in 1998); both buried in Chillicothe Cemetery, Chillicothe, Hardeman County, Texas.

Quoting Jeanette HUGHES Freiling and Mary NEWBERRY Jackson in 1998: "Floyd went to college in Denton, Texas where he milked cows for room and board. During 1919-65, he was a rural mail carrier at Chillicothe - starting on horseback but soon acquired a buggy."

ELIZA J NEWBERRY
WIFE OF STEPHEN NEWBERRY
APRIL 3, 1824 - DEC. 7, 1881

Stephen and Eliza had eight children. Stephen and Eliza Jane moved from Overton County, Tennessee to Texas in 1855/60. They came by covered wagon and brought their livestock. The 1860 Census showed Stephen and family living at Webberville, Travis County, Texas (near Austin), where he was a blacksmith. The family was living in Bastrop County before 1868. On 13 Jan 1870, Stephen bought 1,141 acres of land at Paige from the heirs of Aaron CULLINS. Stephen paid $1.00 per acre, in gold¹.

They were also the parents of Mahaly "Haley" CHRISTIAN (d: 29 Dec 1919, buried in Ridgeway Cemetery, near Paige, Bastrop County, Texas, m: 1896 to Ben BOLDEN)². A stone was placed on Mahaly's grave, "possibly in the 1970s" by Ollie McDAVID (1902-1975) with the inscription:

MAHALY CHRISTIAN 1920

¹ The information on this land purchase in gold was originally furnished to the author by Lorene TAYLOR Gaines about 1990. In 1998-9, the author received the following additional information from Wynnona Jane NEWBURY Whitted Sutton: "My father, Oliver Clinton NEWBURY, told me that his father, William Garrett NEWBURY, and uncle, John Franklin "Frank" NEWBURY, rode horseback to Austin to deliver the gold and received the deed for this land, which was along the bank of the Colorado River [The Colorado River runs about 15 miles south of Paige, Bastrop County, Texas.]. The notes of my [older] brother (Clinton Junior NEWBURY, d: 1995) indicate that Stephen got his gold by selling guns to the Confederacy during the Civil War."

² source of Haley: Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones in 1999. "I found no trace of Ben after their marriage. Aunt Haley died as Mahaly Christian. I know of no one who knew she had married. My father remembered her well as she lived with them, but he did not know about her marriage. He said she was a mid-wife and never married."

After the death of Eliza, Stephen visited his brother, Joseph, in Jefferson County, Illinois, where he met and m2: 30 Oct 1882 in Jefferson County to Sarah HAWKINS, b: 1848 in Jefferson County, d: about 1942 at Austin, Travis County, Texas, buried in Ridgeway Cemetery near Paige, Bastrop County, Texas, was previously married to Levi S. ¹ source of quote: History of Paige Texas and Vicinity, by Doris Goerner Laake, 1983

The paraphrased legend of Dock's death (which was told to the author in 1999 and certainly may be in error about any point given here): "Dock owned a livery stable at Paige, Bastrop County, Texas and was consequently a person of some substance. When a Negro man escaped from the Paige jail, presumed by the author to be on Dock's date of death of 8 Aug 1908, Dock was deputized and went after the escapee with another deputy, Virgil Dunbar, and probably others. The posse found the escapee, who fled or continued to flee, prompting Dunbar to fire at him - hitting and killing Dock. This incident was examined and judged to be an accident, although some people including some family members, doubted the finding (for one such reported doubter, see Dock's older brother, Thomas Benton "Tom" McDAVID on page 239).

See McDAVID Family Origins on page 235 for the ancestry of Dock Fleming McDAVID. Dock himself occurs on page 240.

End of the family of Polly Ann NEWBURY and Jessie M. TAYLOR

Continuing with the McDAVID Family Origins of Dock Fleming McDAVID¹, as referenced on page 229 under his wife, Mary Alvarado "Molly" TAYLOR McDavid Holme:

^{50-?} James McDAVID "from Ireland", m: _____, had at least the following son:

^{51-?} Patrick McDAVID [1]², m: Rosanna _____, had at least the following son:

^{52-?} William McDAVID, m: Nancy DORROH (? spelling), had at least the following son:

^{53-?} Patrick McDAVID [2], m: Lydia WEBSTER.

From Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones in 1998: "Patrick was awarded a large survey in Bastrop County [Texas]. He must have died before they moved here because the land was assigned to someone else. It still has the Patrick McDavid Survey name and is near Paige near the Lee County line."

Patrick and Lydia had at least the following two sons (purposefully listed in reverse order of birth - for readability):

² To distinguish two ancestors named Patrick McDAVID, the author added "[1]" and "[2]".

⁵⁴⁻² Thomas B. (Benton ?) McDAVID, b: 1841 in Alabama¹, d: 25 Dec 1882 (death per the Boatright-McDavid Bible Record, see beginning on page 241)

⁵⁴⁻¹ John Carroll McDAVID, b: Jan 1827² in Texas³ or b: 27 Jan 1833⁴ in Alabama, d: 15 Mar 1902 in Lee County, Texas, buried in Lower Knobb Cemetery, probably in Lee County, Texas, "served in 4th Regiment Confederate Army", was a farmer, m1: 8 Nov 1858 to Julia Ann MILLIGAN, d: 18 Aug 1868 in Texas of childbirth complications with her third child, Lydia; m2: in Burleson County, Texas to Elizabeth "Bessie" GREGORY Boatright, b: 7 Sep 1839⁵ in Mississippi⁶ or b: 8 Sep 1838 in the Republic of Texas⁷, d: 29 May 1926 of chronic nephritis at Thorndale, Milam County, Texas, buried in Lilac Cemetery at Thorndale, had three sons with John: Thomas Benton, Dock Fleming, and "infant John T."

Julia was the daughter of Robert Groves MILLIGAN and Marie EGGLESTON (d: 1868, m1: Robert Groves MILLIGAN; m2: Jacob STANDIFER).

- ¹ source: "b: 1841 in Alabama" and the fact that Thomas B. was a brother of John Carroll was from Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones in 1999. Author's note: Since Thomas was born in Alabama and born after John, the author speculates that John may have been also born in Alabama, rather than Texas; and that the information given by Harvey Carroll FLEMING for his mother's Death Certificate (see footnote below) was incorrect. The year 1828 was the era of the mountain men of explorers and trappers and was before many north Europeans had reached Texas. Per The Texians on the Internet 28 Feb 1999, there were only 20,000 settlers in Texas in the fall of 1835; and no McDAVIDs were listed among them.

Bessie had m1: 11 Sep 1861 in Burleson County, Texas to Chesley BOATRIGT, d: 8 Apr 1864, had a daughter, Lou Emma. Per Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones in 1998, Chesley was a veteran of the Texas War of Independence from Mexico. See the Boatright-McDavid Bible Record on page 243 under Peat Allen for Chesley's land in Bastrop County, etc.

Bessie was second of the four children of Jesse GREGORY (b: Mississippi, d: 8 Jan 1885) and Thursday "Thurza" FLEMING¹ (b: Georgia, d: 16 Dec 1891).

The four children of Jesse and Thurza were:

Marcella m: 3 Feb 1881 to Francis Marion FLEMING, b: 4 Apr 1846 in Georgia, d: 16 Aug 1931 at McDade, divorced.

Marcella and Francis had eight children:

⁵⁶⁻¹ Julia Magnolia FLEMING

⁵⁶⁻² Andrew Jackson FLEMING

⁵⁶⁻³ Harvey Carroll FLEMING, lived at Minerva, Texas in 1937, m: Estella Faye WILSON, had at least two sons (probably not in birth order):

¹ source: Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones in 1998-9. Thursday's death certificate gives her name as "Thurza".

³ source: Death Certificate with her son, Harvey Carroll, the informant.

⁵⁷⁻² Franklin FLEMING

⁵⁶⁻⁴ Effie Palmyra FLEMING

⁵⁶⁻⁵ Marion Barnebas FLEMING

⁵⁶⁻⁶ Laura May FLEMING

⁵⁶⁻⁷ Charles Spurgeon FLEMING

⁵⁶⁻⁸ Clara Gertrude FLEMING

⁵⁵⁻² William Patrick McDAVID, b: 23 Feb 1862 at Elgin, Bastrop County, Texas, d: 1 Mar 1931 at Kosse, Limestone County, Texas, m: 26 Mar 1887 to Nettie MUNDINE, b: 6 Feb 1868, d: 17 Oct 1952 at Smithville, Bastrop County, Texas.

Nettie was a sister of Charles MUNDINE, below, who married William's younger sister, Lydia Scott McDAVID.

William and Nettie had eight children:

⁵⁶⁻¹ Helen McDAVID

⁵⁶⁻² Laura Katherine "Katie" McDAVID, m: 29 Nov 1903 to Ed BERRY, b: 1884 in Alabama, had at least three children:

⁵⁷⁻¹ Edna Corine BERRY, b: 18 Mar 1905, m: Claude BUNING.

⁵⁷⁻² Ann May BERRY, m: Lewis SUTTON.

⁵⁷⁻³ Eleanor BERRY, b: 10 Apr 1908, m: _____ WATERS.

⁵⁶⁻³ Walter Charles McDAVID

⁵⁶⁻⁴ Annie McDAVID

⁵⁶⁻⁵ Lois McDAVID

⁵⁶⁻⁶ Dee Roy McDAVID

⁵⁶⁻⁷ William Franklin McDAVID

⁵⁶⁻⁸ Lillian Mary McDAVID

- ⁵⁵⁻³ Lydia Scott McDAVID, b: 15 Aug 1868, d: 11 Sep 1949 (last child of first wife, Julia, who died 18 Aug 1868, after giving birth to Lydia), m: 25 Oct 1888 to Charles MUNDINE, b: 9 May 1866, d: 19 Apr 1938.

Charles was the brother of Nettie MUNDINE who married Lydia's older brother, William Patrick McDAVID, above.

Lydia and Charles had four children:

⁵⁶⁻¹ Robert MUNDINE

⁵⁶⁻² Titus MUNDINE

⁵⁶⁻³ Thomas Benton MUNDINE, apparently named for Lydia's half-brother, Thomas Benton McDAVID, although he could have been named for another Thomas B. (Benton ?) McDAVID (b: 1841 in Alabama, d: 25 Dec 1882 - listed in the Boatright-McDavid Bible Record given below and a brother of John Carroll McDAVID, per Ruthie Jane McDAVID in 1999).

⁵⁶⁻⁴ Julia Lucille MUNDINE, apparently named for Lydia's mother.

- ⁵⁵⁻⁴ Lou Emma BOATRRIGHT, b: 4 Jul 1862, d: 14 Jun 1908, daughter of Bessie and Chesley.¹

- ⁵⁵⁻⁵ Thomas Benton "Tom" McDAVID, b: 18 Jul 1875, d: 26 Feb 1967 (first child of John and his second wife, Bessie), m1: Elizabeth "Betty" DUNGAN², b: 13 Jan 1876/7, d: 13 Feb 1930, both buried in Ridgeway Cemetery, near Paige, Bastrop County, Texas.

On page 4 of the Boatright-McDAVID Bible Record, below, there was apparently another Tom B. McDAVID: "Tom B. Mcdavid died the 25 day of desember 1882".

Peggy Ann McDAVID Burnett's comment to the author: "Thomas B. McDavid - great uncle Tom [was] an interesting 'cowboy looking' man."

Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones' comment of Dec 1998: "Thomas Benton McDAVID (Uncle Tom) was [the older] brother of Dock Fleming McDAVID [d: 8 Aug 1908, "was killed, when shot, by Virg DUNBAR", as stated on page 229 under Mary Alvarado "Molly" TAYLOR

² source: "m1: Elizabeth "Betty" DUNGAN, b: 13 Jan 1876/7, d: 13 Feb 1930" was from Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones in 1999.

McDavid Holme]. Tom slept with his pistol (the kind called a hog leg¹) under his pillow until he entered the nursing home two months before he died. He always said, "I am not looking for trouble, but I'll be ready if it comes." He always believed Dock was killed deliberately. Tom moved to Milam County to get away from Paige (Bastrop County). To my knowledge, he never returned there until he was buried.]

In her 9 Mar 1999 letter to the author, Ruthie Jean McDAVID Jones speculated that Tom and Betty had the child, Vintnor: "I went to Ridgeway Cemetery the other day. For over 100 years, people were buried in rows. Each family had a row. Ours started out with Newberry, then Taylor, then McDavid and Holme. The only McDavids not in our row are: Thomas B. (Uncle Tom), Elizabeth (Aunt Betty) and Vintnor McDavid. The original row is Dungan, Aunt Betty's family. Since Vintnor is buried with them, leads me to believe he was their first born. I know of no one living who can tell us." The author concurs with this reasoning that Tom and Betty had at least the following son:

⁵⁵⁻⁶ Dock Fleming McDAVID, b: 8 Apr 1877, d: 8 Aug 1908, "was killed when shot by Virg DUNBAR" at Paige, Bastrop County, Texas, m: Mary Alvarado "Molly" TAYLOR, b: 16 Apr 1878 at Paige, Bastrop County, Texas, d: 15 Mar 1961 at Bastrop, Bastrop County, had four children. See page 229 under Mary Alvarado "Molly" TAYLOR for detail (including the legend about how Dock was killed), the following four children of Dock and Molly (plus the two children of Molly and her second husband, James Stuart HOLME), and their descendants:

Arby "R.B." McDAVID	1899-1968

Verda Adeline Mildred HOLME Newland	1919-1994
James Desmond HOLME	1923-

⁵⁵⁻⁷ John T. McDAVID, apparently died an infant since his name was given as "infant John T."

End of the family of Moses Fate NEWBURY Sr,
Goaley "Gullie" HARRISON, and Mandy WILSON

Continuing with the family of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr], Rhoda MONTGOMERY, and Easter PHILLIPS, as referenced on page 38 under his parents, Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS:

⁵²⁻² Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]¹, b: 5 Nov 1802 in Georgia, d: 2 Sep 1870, buried in Hopewell Cemetery on Kenner Creek, Hopewell community (same as George community), Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas, m1: Rhoda MONTGOMERY (? MONTGOMERY), had five children (per 1830 Census), d: 1830/37 in Overton County, Tennessee. About 1824, Stephen apparently adopted² an Indian who was given the name, Mildred NEWBERRY³, m2: 1836/7 in Overton County, Tennessee to Easter PHILLIPS, b: 7 Jul 1813 in Georgia, d: 30 Nov 1898 (death date from her tombstone - for burial, see page 272 in paragraph beginning, "Fourteen years after ..."), had nine Newberry children (all of whom are listed in the combined 1850 and 1860 Census of Newton County, Arkansas).

Paraphrasing Susan NEWBERRY Davidson: Stephen was Presbyterian, which originated in Scotland. There are possibly Presbyterian Church records in the United States which would shed more light on this family. The periodical of the Carroll County Historical Society of Berryville, Arkansas reported there was a Cumberland Presbyterian church in the area of Carroll/Newton Counties, Arkansas, where the family lived.

Easter was the daughter of Levi PHILLIPS and Mildred TALLEY. Quoting Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, they "also had five sons according to old family letters: Adam PHILLIPS, Charles PHILLIPS, William PHILLIPS, Jesse PHILLIPS, and George PHILLIPS." There is a George Washington "Wash" PHILLIPS on pages 272, 282, who m2: Matilda

- ¹ The brackets "[]" indicate that "Jr" was added by the author. His father, Stephen NEWBURY [Sr], and this namesake son actually had different names - the son having a middle initial, "C". The "[Sr]" in Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] was also added by the author - in an attempt to clearly delineate these and others with the same name. In this book, there are two men named Stephen C. NEWBURY, one being this [Jr] and two others named Stephen C. NEWBERRY, who are delineated by their years of birth. The "other" NEWBURY/NEWBERRY spelling is also found in the records for each of these two surname spellings. The "C" in "Stephen C." may stand for CHAMBERS, maiden name of the wife of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and mother of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]; but this is purely speculation, as no one has found any proof to the author's knowledge. A descriptive list of people in this book with the same or similar names can be found near the end of the Introduction.
 - ² Matilda was taken into the household "when she was perhaps age 12" and given the family surname.
 - ³ The author listed Mildred as child of Stephen because she was only known in the records by the surname, NEWBERRY. The author listed her as the first child of Stephen, because of her year of birth in relation to his natural children, i.e. she was born before them. Of course, this was not a "legal" adoption with official papers from a governing agency. She was probably taken into the family for both her convenience and theirs. They got a helper and she received the security of a home. Indians were being displaced and dispossessed at that time, although the Trail of Tears was later, during 1838-39.

NEWBERRY, but he is a different George than this son of Levi. There were numerous others with this name in this time and place.

Levi was the son of Reuben PHILLIPS [1]¹ and _____ NELSON, reportedly a Cherokee Indian. The 30 Apr 1916 letter (partially quoted three paragraphs below and fully quoted on page 516) written by Easter PITTMAN Newberry to her daughter, Nina, mentions this _____ NELSON. Susan NEWBERRY Davidson submitted the following court record which links a Reuben PHILLIPS [1] to another NELSON, although this linkage may be only a coincidence: Anson County, North Carolina County Court Minutes show that 14 Jan 1772, Reuben Phillips [1] and William Nelson were among a group of men ordered to "lay out road from the pine tree where it crosses at the province line between head of Liles Creek and Brown Creek through Anson toward Salisbury till it shall intersect the line of Roan County - Nathl. Holly, Overseer."

- ¹ There were many men named "Reuben" in the PHILLIPS/PHILLIPS family. The six (counting Reuben L.) who occur in this book were numbered by the author (except Reuben L. was not numbered). This author did not come to sufficient understanding of the PHILLIPS family to be at all confident of their kinships - even with the book, Descendants of Reuben Phillips, 1995, Heritage Books, compiled by John Wesley Phillips, P.O. Box 1073, Fritch, TX 79036, which has a wealth of data about this family. The Reuben PHILLIPS mentioned herein are:
- ✦ Reuben PHILLIPS [1], b: ?, m: _____ NELSON

Per the unconfirmed recollection of W.C. AULT, a cousin of Easter PHILLIPS Newbury Pittman: Mildred was the daughter of Adam TALLEY and Leatha ROSS, a Cherokee Indian.

As a further reference on the PHILIPS / PHILLIPS families, see the Census Data for 1830 (beginning page 732) and 1840 (page 737) Censuses of Overton County, Tennessee for PHILIPS / PHILLIPS, including their proximity to the adjacent NEWBERRY families - listed in census order (data from John Jay SROKA in 1997).

Further evidence of the above Indian connections (to Mildred TALLEY, Leatha ROSS, and _____ NELSON - all females) is a 30 Apr 1916 letter from Esther M. PITTMAN Newberry to her daughter, Nancy J. "Nina" NEWBERRY Gottfried (quoted in full on page 516 under Esther's husband, William Jasper NEWBERRY), which includes the following:

Liberty, Texas
April 30, 1916

Dear daughter Nina -

"Before I forget your request I will answer it so far as I can - your grandma (Easter's) mother's maiden name was Millie Talley. Your grandpa's mother's name [the mother of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]] was Sallie Chambers and your relations to the Cherochees was from a celebrated chief, whose name was Ross. And it came from your grandma Easter's grandma Phillips, whose name was Nelson before her marriage. I suppose you have heard of Chief Ross for he was a very prominent Indian and figures in some histories."

This is supported in the following portion of a letter written by Rosa Dew "Rose" NEWBERRY Spaulding to her sister, Nancy J. "Nina" NEWBERRY Gottfried:

Sour Lake, Texas
September 27, 1916

Dear Nina,

... As you are looking up our ancestry, especially as related to the Cherokees, it may be interesting to you to know that Dady found a cousin of little Grandma [a family pet name for Easter PHILLIPS Newbury Pittman] who lives near Liberty [town of Liberty in Liberty County, Texas], who is named W.C. Ault ... he knows of our relation to Chief Ross, altho he does not know exactly what the kinship is, he says that we are also related to another Indian family by the name of Watts ...

Quoting the genealogical notes of Gloria SPAULDING Lovvo and her father, which Gloria furnished the author in 1995 (and slightly paraphrasing and adding the information in brackets "[]"): Easter PHILLIPS had a cousin named W.C. AULT who lived near Liberty, Texas and knew of the [family's] Cherokee history. [Gloria's great-grandfather, William Jasper NEWBERRY, 1844-1927, is buried 12 miles east of Liberty, Texas near Devers. [Jasper's] wife was Esther PITTMAN, 1845-1920.]. This information was from a letter by [Gloria's grandmother] Rosa Dew ["Rose"] NEWBERRY [Spaulding] dated 27 Sep 1916 [see previous paragraph]. The parents of Easter PHILLIPS (Levi PHILLIPS and Mildred TALLEY) were connected by family to the Cherokees by the names of ROSS and WATTS. [The parents of] Levi PHILLIPS were Reuben PHILLIPS [1]¹ and a Cherokee woman whose maiden name was NELSON. Part of the PHILLIPS family was born in Overton County, Tennessee. Stephen [C. NEWBURY [Jr]] and Easter PHILLIPS [Newbury] moved to Arkansas around 1842 as shown in the 1850 Census of Newton County, Arkansas. Their first [two children, Sophia and Sarah] were born in Tennessee [1837/8 and 1839/40 respectively]. After Stephen C. NEWBURY Jr died, his widow, Easter PHILLIPS, remarried to the Reverend Sterling Cock Harris PITTMAN. Sterling's daughter, Esther PITTMAN, had married William Jasper NEWBERRY. In other words, Esther PITTMAN Newberry had Easter PHILLIPS Newbury Pittman as both a mother-in-law and a step mother." [The notes did not explain the connection of the name "WATTS".]

Because the Overton County, Tennessee 1836 Tax List showed Stephen Newberry with 30 acres of land and his mother, Sarah, with 125 acres (his father, Stephen [Sr], having died before the 1830 Census), Susan NEWBERRY Davidson believed that Stephen [Jr]'s grant was the following:

Overton County, Tennessee land grant "No. 5214: On 16 Aug 1828 Stephen "entered" a 30-acre plot of land "lying in said county on the waters of the west fork of Obed's River" [Obey River on modern maps. There is a modern Obed River further east in Tennessee.] in Overton County, Tennessee. The plot was surveyed on 2 Jun 1835. The survey points included "a black locust and poplar marked S.N. standing near the top of a cliff of Brushy Mountain" and then to various other trees. The cost of the land grant was 1¢ per acre and was dated 23 May 1837 by Governor N. Cannon.

Fourteen years after the death of Stephen, Easter (at age 71) m2: 26 Apr 1885 in Carroll County, Arkansas to Reverend Sterling Cock Harris PITTMAN (age 69) whose wife, Nancy STUART, had died in 1884. Consequently Easter was buried as Easter Pittman in Moore Cemetery (south of Berryville, Carroll County, Arkansas on Highway 21). Stephen was listed with his own family in the 1830 and 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee. The family moved to Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas in 1840/42. See page 515 under William Jasper NEWBERRY for more detail on Sterling, Nancy, and their parents.

The fifteen children of Stephen [Jr], including an adopted Indian girl, Matilda; Rhoda (five children), and Easter (nine children) were:

⁵³⁻¹ Matilda NEWBERRY, "an Indian girl... taken into the family when she was perhaps age 12", m: 5 Oct 1855 at Osage, Carroll County, Arkansas to George Washington "Wash" PHILLIPS.

⁵³⁻⁶ Stephen Valentine NEWBERRY (last child of Rhoda MONTGOMERY Newbury), b: 14 Feb 1830 in Overton County (?), Tennessee, d: 6 May 1906 (dates from his tombstone, which also has a Masonic symbol), buried in George Ransom Cemetery (on the land of Paul Woosley on the west side of Highway 219 about two miles north of Ozark), Ozark, Franklin County, Arkansas, m: Sarah QUALLS, b: 1829/32 in Tennessee.

Valentine was a farmer and a Baptist preacher, said to have brought his family to Arkansas from Overton County, Tennessee in 1838/42, at the same time the families of his father, his brother, Montgomery, and some BUNCH families migrated.

"Stephen Valentine Newberry joined the Liberty Church 12 Aug 1848, the 56th member. He joined Hopewell Church 16 Apr 1859. He was ordained a Baptist minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ 10 Feb 1861."¹

In 1997, descendants Debra Lynette "Debbie" TURNER Williams (Valentine's great great granddaughter), her father, Roy Lee "Shorty" "Red" TURNER Sr, and his older sister, Dorothy Louise TURNER Nordin Morgan), furnished their family research on Valentine's son, Robert Lee NEWBERRY [1], to the author. Previously, the author had only known Robert's name and approximate birth year. Debbie also furnished her photo of Valentine's tombstone - whose burial, exact date of birth, and date of death were previously unknown to the author. The author accepted their version of his name, "Valentine", rather than "Volentine" - which is found in some writings.

In the 1870 Census, Valentine and Sarah had three children:

54-1 Rhoda NEWBERRY [3], b: 1850/51 in Arkansas.

54-2 Robert Lee NEWBERRY [1], b: 1859 in Arkansas, d: at Little Rock, Pulaski County, Arkansas at the State Mental Hospital, m1: 10 Jul 1881 to Nancy Mathilda PHILLIPS, had two daughters; m2: Eliza J. ALLRED, had two daughters; m3: 1898/9 to Alice RODGERS Adams. See page 492 for detail, the following four daughters, and their descendants:

53-7 Sophia NEWBERRY, b: 1837/8 in Overton County, Tennessee (first child of Easter PHILLIPS Newbury).

53-8 Sarah NEWBERRY, b: 1839/40 in Overton County, Tennessee. The minutes of the Newton County, Arkansas Liberty Church indicate that Sarah joined 14 Aug 1853.²

b: 14 Jul 1832 in Arkansas, d: 19 Jun 1921, both buried in Big Sandy Cemetery, Madison County, Arkansas, had seven children per the 1900 and 1910 Censuses, three of whom had died by the 1910 Census on April 22. Jake was listed as a farmer in 1870, 1900, and 1910 but as a "retail grocer" in 1880. The following five of their seven children were listed in the 1880 Census of Marble Township, Madison County, Arkansas:

54-1 Sarah DAVIS, b: 1869/70 in Arkansas.

54-2 William DAVIS, b: 1870/71 in Arkansas.

54-3 Easter "Queen" DAVIS, b: Sep 1874 in Arkansas, m: about 1899 to Francis Marion PHILLIPS, b: Mar 1865 in Arkansas, was a farmer.

Easter's parents were living in this household in the 1910 Census. Easter was listed as the mother of one child, who was deceased. This was the second marriage for Marion and the first for Easter. Easter and Marion are buried in Big Sandy Cemetery, Madison County, Arkansas, near her parents, with no dates on their concrete markers.¹

54-4 Belle DAVIS, b: 1875/6 in Arkansas.

54-5 Tom J. DAVIS, b: Mar 1880 in Arkansas (per the 1900 Census), was still single and living with his parents in 1900.

"When my husband and I visited Big Sandy Cemetery in 1991, we talked to people in Marble [Madison County], Arkansas who had known Tom. They didn't know exactly when he died but thought it had not been too many years before. He had lived in the area and been active in the church, they said." (Reference Susan NEWBERRY Davidson in 1997 for this paragraph).

53-10 William Jasper NEWBERRY, b: 31 Aug 1844 in Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas, d: 26 Apr 1927, m: 3 Sep 1867 to Esther M. PITTMAN, b: 25 Mar 1845, d: 4 Mar 1920, had six children. See page 515 for detail, the following six children, and their descendants:

53-12 George W. NEWBERRY [1], b: 20 Apr 1849 (tombstone has 1849 per Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, whereas the 1850 Census yields "b: 1846/7", 1860 and 1870 Census yield "b: 1847/8", the 1900 Census has "Apr 1841", and the 1910 Census yields "b: 1845/6") in Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas, d: 4 Oct 1925 in McDonald County, Missouri, was a farmer. In the 1870 Census of Newton County, Arkansas of the household of his mother, Easter PHILLIPS Newbury, George was listed with his wife, m: Rebecca A. _____, b: 6 Jun 1850, d: 13 Jan 1937 (dates from tombstone - 1870 census yields "b: 1850/51", 1900 census has "Jun 1843" and 1910 census yields "b: 1846/7") in Arkansas and two children, John and Easter. The 1900 Census of McDonald County, Missouri shows ten total children with five at home. Both George and Rebecca were buried in Union Chapel Cemetery near Powell, McDonald County. Note that George had a nephew with the same name.

Summarized from the book, William Crockett Robertson - Ancestors, Descendants & Related Families, by Frank Allen ROBERTSON: "Tradition has it that George, at age 18, in the company of and on behalf of William Crockett ROBERTSON, age 13, ambushed and killed Marion MILLER by shooting him in the back while he was plowing. Marion had killed about fifteen men and burned several homes to take revenge on the people who had been involved in lynching his father, Emerson MILLER. Marion was threatening to kill William's mother, Mary Jane WOMACK Robertson, for her part, which was leading the horse out from under Emerson to allow him to drop in the hangman's noose. The lynch mob held Emerson responsible for the ambush and murder of Mary Jane's husband, George W.P. ROBERTSON. There had been hard feelings between the Millers and Robertsons, because both George W.P. ROBERTSON and Marion MILLER had attempted to file on the same 40-acre piece of the Kenner Creek bottom land and George succeeded. There were no legal inquiries or arrests on any of these three family feud killings."

The ten children of George and Rebecca were:

54-1 John F. NEWBERRY, b: 1866/7 in Arkansas.

54-2 Easter L. NEWBERRY, b: Oct 1869 in Arkansas (1870 Census has "b: Dec 1869).

From McDonald County, Missouri Cemeteries of 1983, the inscription on William's stone was "SEPT 19, 1908 AGE 29Y 8M 1D, SON OF GW & RA" - which yields: "b: 18 Jan 1879".

54-7 James K. NEWBERRY, b: Nov 1881 (per 1900 Census) in Arkansas, d: 1963 (1881-1963 per tombstone), buried in Union Chapel Cemetery, McDonald County, Missouri.

54-8 Martha E. NEWBERRY, b: Mar 1884 in Missouri.

⁵⁴⁻⁹ Harvey A. NEWBERRY, b: Apr 1886 in Missouri, was a farmer, m: Lila _____, b: 1891/2 in Missouri (of a father b: Iowa and a mother b: United States - per 1910 Census of McDonald County, Missouri), had a son:

⁵⁵⁻¹ son NEWBERRY, b: Apr 1910 in Missouri.

⁵⁴⁻¹⁰ Lillie R. NEWBERRY, b: Aug 1887 in Missouri. In the 1910 Census, Lillie was enumerated in her father's household as "Lillie Bullard, age 20, married one time for one year and with zero children". Thus, Lillie m: 1909 to _____ BULLARD.

⁵³⁻¹³ Malinda Adeline "Milla" NEWBERRY, b: 29 Dec 1849 in Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas, d: 15 Dec 1890, m: 14 Apr 1870 in Newton County, Arkansas to Archibald Yell CHRISMAN, b: 29 Aug 1848 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 15 Jun 1927 while visiting his son, Job, at Coalinga, Fresno County, California. Both Milla and Archibald are buried in Chrisman Cemetery ("on Los Gatos Road, 15.5 miles from Coalinga. The Chrisman homestead is a little further down the road" past the cemetery from Coalinga - quoting John Jay SROKA who visited there in 1989 and recorded information).

Malinda's name on her gravestone was: MILLA ADLINE CHRISMAN.

Archibald was apparently named after the second governor of Arkansas, Archibald YELL.

Archibald was first of the three children of Job CHRISMAN [1] (b: 5 May 1808 in Lee County, Virginia, d: 23 Jan 1863 in Newton County, Arkansas, murdered at his farm by Civil War marauders, was a farmer, purchased land in Johnson County, Arkansas 23 Jul 1836, was the second postmaster of Newton County on 12 Nov 1849 at Walnut Fork [a community Walnut Township in south Newton County about 5 miles southwest of Nail], m1: about 1824 in Virginia to Sally FRANCE, had seven children; m2: about 1847 to Mary S. "Polly" HARRIS, had three children) and second wife, Mary S. "Polly" HARRIS (b: 20 Jul 1818 in North Carolina of parents both born in North Carolina). Job had a grandson by the same name (see on page 280). The combined ten children of Job, Sally, and Polly were:

² Elizabeth CHRISMAN, b: about 1828 in Virginia.

³ Henry Tyler CHRISMAN, b: 14 Jan 1830 in Virginia.

⁴ William France CHRISMAN, b: 1831 in Virginia.

⁵ Job Gabriel CHRISMAN, b: 9 Feb 1833 in Ohio, apparently moved to California because he furnished information on his father, Job, and grandfather, Nimrod, for History of the State of California and Biographical Record of the San Joaquin Valley, California.

⁶ Millie Jane CHRISMAN, b: 1834 in Ohio.

⁷ Josiah CHRISMAN, b: 6 Jun 1836 in Johnson County, Arkansas, last child of first wife, Sally.

⁸ Archibald Yell CHRISMAN, b: 29 Aug 1848 in Newton County, Arkansas, first child of second wife, Milla.

⁹ Mary P. CHRISMAN, b: 1851/2 in Newton County, Arkansas.

¹⁰ Polly CHRISMAN, b: 1856/9 in Newton County, Arkansas, m: Marion WOLF, b: 1852/3 in Arkansas of parents born in Arkansas, was a farmer enumerated in Jefferson Township, Newton County, Arkansas in 1860, had three children at that time:

¹ Malinda WOLF, b: 1874/5 in Arkansas.

² Joe M. WOLF, b: 1877/8 in Arkansas.

³ Rosea M. WOLF, b: 1880 in Arkansas.

Job was the son of Nimrod CHRISMAN [Sr] (b: 1776 in Scott County, Virginia, "was a Virginia planter and served in the Colonial Wars" [per grandson, Gabriel], signed his last deed 20 Feb 1863 in Lee County, Virginia) and Milly MARCUM (m: about 1798 in Lee County, Virginia). They had "many" children including: Mary, b: 9 Apr 1799 in Virginia, m: John KROGER; Nimrod Jr, b: 8 Feb 1805; Job, b: 5 May 1808 in Virginia; and Maggy, b: about 1808 in Virginia, m: _____ CALDWELL.

Nimrod was the son of Isaac CHRISMAN (b: 9 Nov 1736 in Frederick County, Virginia) and Jane SCOTT (m: about 1758 in Frederick County).

Isaac was the son of Jacob CHRISMAN (b: 1706 at Worms, Germany, signed his Will on 6 Sep 1777 which is recorded in Frederick County, Virginia, d: 1778) and Magdalena HITE (m: 1728 in Pennsylvania). They finally lived near Winchester, Virginia where they built a large stone house in 1751.

Olga KIRTPATRICK Chrisman (see on page 280), wife of Job CHRISMAN [2], related that "Archibald Yell, his son, Henry Tyler Sr, and his son, Henry Tyler Jr were all beekeepers and that Milla started them in beekeeping."

Slightly paraphrasing a paper by descendant, John Jay SROKA: A. Y. CHRISMAN sold the land he had inherited from his father in Newton County, Arkansas on 17 Mar 1877 and moved to California. He registered to vote in Tulare County, California on 28 Jun 1877 stating his local residence as Elbow, California. Olga KIRKPATRICK Chrisman stated that Milla never seemed to fully recover from the birth and death of her last child and died in 1890. By the arrangement of a family member back in Arkansas (probably by A. Y.'s younger sister, Polly CHRISMAN Wolf, see child "10" - five paragraphs above), A. Y. m2: 26 Oct 1890 at Clarksville, Johnson County, Arkansas to Miss Nancy Ann "Nannie" WALTON, who already had a daughter, Essie (whose death certificate stated her father was Blair DAVIS). A. Y. and Nannie had an additional six children. From his obituary in the Fresno Bee, Archibald was a charter member of the Hanford Masonic Order and one of the first beemen of the San Joaquin Valley. His "first venture into the bee business was in Kings County in 1886. There he remained for four years, when he removed to Fresno County and followed the same vocation. He acquired a homestead ranch fourteen miles northwest of Coalinga on the eastern flank of the Coast Range hills, but for the last several years has resided on ranch property he owned two miles south of Kearney Park." The Coalinga Record adds: "He was a native of Arkansas and came to California more than fifty years ago, spending the early part of his residence in the valley in and near Visalia and Hanford and in 1889 he came to Coalinga district and took up land in the Los Gatos Canyon district, residing there for many years."

The combined thirteen children of Milla, Archibald, Nannie, and reportedly Blair DAVIS were:

⁵⁴⁻¹ Frances Bell CHRISMAN, b: 15 Nov 1871 at Clarksville, Johnson County, Arkansas, d: 5 Oct 1939 at San Francisco, California, m: 1906 to Joseph P. MARSHALL.

⁵⁴⁻² Benjamin Franklin CHRISMAN, b: 21 Dec 1873 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 23 Nov 1942 at Taft, Kern County, California, m: 1905 to Jessie Lenora JOHNSON.

⁵⁴⁻³ Henry Tyler CHRISMAN Sr, b: 23 Jul 1876 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 5 Oct 1941 at Hollister, San Benito County, California, m: 7 Aug 1899 at Hanford, Kings County to Mildred ARCHIBALD, b: 14 Oct 1881 at Armora, Tulare County, (became King County in 1893), d: 8 May 1943 at San Francisco, had at least the following two sons (may not be in birth order):

⁵⁵⁻¹ Hiram Justin CHRISMAN, buried in Chrisman Cemetery, near Coalinga, Fresno County, California.

⁵⁵⁻² Henry Tyler CHRISMAN Jr, b: 9 Sep 1904 in Fresno County, California, d: 27 Mar 1973 at Hollister, San Benito County, m: 4 Aug 1925 at Oakland, Alameda County to Rose Louise TRAVERSO, b: 25 Jul 1908 at St. Helena, Napa County, d: 8 Jun 1982 at Concord, Contra Costa County.

Rose was the daughter of Louis TRAVERSO (b: 7 Jul 1876 at Cavorsi, Genova, Italy, d: 23 Nov 1944 at San Francisco, California, m: Mar 1902) and Mary Virginia TRAVERSO (b: 19 Aug 1887 at Cavorsi, d: 4 Dec 1953 at Concord, Contra Costa County, California).

Henry and Rose had at least the following daughter:

⁵⁶⁻¹ Helen Rose CHRISMAN, b: 15 Sep 1927 at Berkeley, Alameda County, California, d: 30 Jan 1983 at Walnut Creek, Contra Costa County, m: 11 May 1946 at Sonoma, Sonoma County to John J. During 1991-8, John furnished the author most of the information on the family of Malinda NEWBERRY and Archibald Yell CHRISMAN and their descendants, as well as other family data.

⁵⁴⁻⁴ Freedom M. CHRISMAN, b: 16 Jul 1880 at Visalia, Tulare County, California, d: 13 Apr 1936 at San Francisco, m: 1905 to Victoria PARRA, had at least one daughter:

in California. Job still lived at Coalinga on 15 Jun 1927, the day his father died there while visiting.

Job [2] was named after his grandfather, Job CHRISMAN [1].

Olga contributed to this genealogy through John Jay SROKA of Murray, Utah.

End of the family of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr],
Rhoda MONTGOMERY, and Easter PHILLIPS

Continuing with the family of Matilda NEWBERRY and George Washington "Wash" PHILLIPS, as referenced on page 272 under her adoptive father, Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]:

⁵³⁻¹ Matilda NEWBERRY, b: 5 Nov 1812¹ in possibly Knox or Jefferson County, Tennessee, "an Indian girl... taken into the family when she was perhaps age 12", m: 5 Oct 1855 at Osage, Carroll County, Arkansas to George Washington "Wash" PHILLIPS, b: 1808 in Kentucky (or 1803/4 in South Carolina or 1801/2 per his discharge papers from the Mexican War for which he enlisted on 25 Jun 1846)², d: 5 Sep 1865 at Osage, "shot by bushwackers, men he knew who rode up to his front porch where he was sitting and eating a peach at Delmar", southeast corner of Carroll County. He was 6'-2" with light hair and blue eyes.

"George m1: _____, had nine children; m2: Matilda NEWBERRY, had two children."³

There is a family legend about an Indian girl being taken into the Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] family when she was perhaps 12 years old. George Washington PHILLIPS died in Newton County, Arkansas, leaving his widow, Matilda NEWBERRY (source: Affidavit for Matilda's widow's pension signed and dated 25 May 1888 by John BUNCH of Rule [post office address], Carroll County, Arkansas, in which John (age 75) stated: "I lived about two miles and one half of them when he [George W.] died, and lived by them several years before he died and knew Matilda from my early boyhood, and in her raising she was called Matilda Newbery."⁴

It appears that Matilda NEWBERRY was the Indian girl of the family legend for two reasons:

- ▶ She appeared without any known NEWBERRY family origins.
- ▶ John BUNCH referred to her as if she was not really a NEWBERRY: "in her raising she was "called" Matilda Newbery".

"In the 1850 Census, the George Washington Phillips who married Matilda Newbery was in Union County, Illinois, where he was listed as G.W. Phillips. His oldest daughter Sarah was age 19, born in Kentucky (1830/31). In the 1860 Census, George was listed as Washington

Phillips in Newton County, Arkansas. The 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee had a Washington Philips, who was, possibly but not conclusively, this same person, as the same census also had a George Philips and there were others with these same names from other Tennessee counties."¹

"George Washington PHILLIPS was fourth of the seventeen children of John Henderson PHILLIPS (b: c1777 in Cumberland County, Kentucky, d: Mar 1854 in Madison County, Arkansas) and Mary Jane BATES, b: 1782 in Kentucky, m: 17 Dec 1801 in Cumberland County, Kentucky, d: 18 Jun 1863 in Carroll County, Arkansas)."²

The combined eleven children of George, his first wife, _____, and Matilda were:

⁵⁴⁻¹ Sarah PHILLIPS, b: 1830/31 in Kentucky.

⁵⁴⁻² George PHILLIPS, b: c1834 in Tennessee.

⁵⁴⁻³ Andrew Jackson PHILLIPS, b: c1836 in Tennessee.

⁵⁴⁻⁴ William PHILLIPS, b: c1838 in Tennessee.

⁵⁴⁻⁵ Charlotta "Lotta" "Lottie" PHILLIPS, b: c1845 at Alton³, Madison County, Illinois, d: about 1920, m: _____ COB.⁴

³ In the 12 Jan 1993 letter from Sue HENDERSON Carlile to Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, Sue stated that children Lottie, Martin Granville, and Sereny were b: Alton, Illinois but John Jay SROKA said the family was in Union County, Illinois in the 1850 Census. Author's note: There is an "Alto Pass" in Union County which Sue may have mistaken for Alton, which is in Madison County. But, it is also possible that both Sue and John were correct.

⁴ sources:

- ▶ ("Lotta", "Lottie", and "b: c1845 at Alton (see previous footnote), Illinois" were from the Sue HENDERSON Carlile letter of 12 Jan 93 quoted under Francis Marion NEWBERRY
- ▶ "Charlotta", "d: about 1920" were from The Senator from Arkansas. William Riley Phillips and His Phillips Family by Hugh W. Reeves, and "m: _____ COB" was from Donald Robert COOK in 1998.

- ⁵⁴⁻⁶ Martin Granville PHILLIPS [Sr], b: 4 Feb 1846 at Alton¹, Madison County, Illinois, d: 17 May 1898 at Connor² community (about four miles north of Osage), Carroll County, Arkansas, buried in Gobbler Cemetery, four miles west of Osage, Carroll County, Arkansas, m: 22 Sep 1871 in Carroll County, Arkansas to Sarah Ann HAMMONS, b: 5 May 1852 at Nashville, Howard County, Arkansas, d: 1901 "three years after the death of Granville".

"Ann was the daughter of Lee HAMMONS and Nancy WOLF, who was half Cherokee Indian through her father, Levi WOLF."³

Granville's killing is a complicated story, long enough for a book by itself. He served for the Confederacy in the Civil War, which alienated and embittered many of his Carroll County neighbors - that being the area where South met North. Since his father's killing in 1865, his murderers had expected and feared Granville's retaliation. Under the guise of a Federal posse with the mission of arresting Granville for "selling a pint of [his moonshine] whiskey to Spencer Jackson", they reportedly snuck up to his farm before first light and, to get him away from the house, secretly opened a gate which allowed his cows to get into his oats. When he discovered this and went to remove the cows, they ambushed him (he was unarmed), then read their warrant over him as he lay on the ground. His son George [George Lee PHILLIPS, who was age 12] came and set him up against a tree and Granville pointed to posse member and Berryville store owner, C.E. "Cull" Bobo, and said, "He is the one". The story is that, when George was grown, he went to Berryville to avenge his father's death, but Cull would not come out of his store. About ten or eleven p.m., George's friends succeeded in talking him into going home. When he had ridden about half way home, some men caught up with him and told him, "The deed is done, old man Bobo stayed so scared all day, when he was told that you left town, he dropped dead with a heart attack." No legal complaints were filed about these matters. Granville's descendants moved to Oklahoma to escape this feud.⁴

It references 1983 news articles in the Carroll County Tribune by staff writer, Jim Lair; Coy LOGAN, in his "definitive report ["The War Continued - Death of Granville Phillips"] of the death of Martin Granville PHILLIPS [Sr] for the Mar 1966 edition of the Carroll County Historical Quarterly; and testimony of people who knew Granville including some of his neighbors and relatives.

Granville and Ann had ten children¹:

⁵⁵⁻¹ Nannie PHILLIPS, b: 18 Aug 1872 in Carroll County, Arkansas, d: 29 Jul 1953 at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma County, Oklahoma, "took over the task of rearing the large family of her parents [in 1901 when her mother died]", had three children, m: Noel Washington HIGHTOWER.

Author's observation: Judging from his name and location, Noel apparently m1: Janie PHILLIPS, the younger sister of Nannie who d: 1902, had four children.

"Willie farmed near Green Forest in Carroll County, Arkansas and three of their children were born there. In 1911, they moved to Woodward County, Oklahoma, near where his brother, Martin Granville "Dick" PHILLIPS Jr, had located the previous year. They came by covered wagon and the trip took 21 days. Their 160-acre farm was in the northeast part of Woodward County, known as the Gold Belt community, eight miles south of Freedom, Oklahoma, near the famed Chimney Rock. Doe Creek ran through their farm. They farmed there during 1911-23, when they went by covered wagon to Texahoma, Texas County, Oklahoma for the dryer climate because of arthritis. Seeing no health improvement after four years, they to their Woodward County home. After the marriage of their last child in 1937, since there was no one at home to drive the car, they quit farming and moved to Mooreland, where willie was the manager of the Railway Ice Company until 1954, the year they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary."¹

End of the family of Matilda NEWBERRY and George Washington PHILLIPS

Continuing with the family of James Montgomery NEWBERRY, Mary MILLER, and Rachal CLARK, including the children of her first husband, Thomas Franklin JOHNSON - as referenced on page 273 under Montgomery's parents, Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] and first wife, Rhoda MONTGOMERY:

⁵³⁻⁴ James Montgomery NEWBERRY, b: 5 Sep 1826 in Overton County, Tennessee, d: 15 Feb 1896 at Hopewell (George community), Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas, was a farmer, m1: in Newton County, Arkansas (? 1840 Census of Overton County indicates he was living as married in Tennessee) to Mary MILLER, b: 14 Mar 1826 in Tennessee, had ten children, d: 14 Nov 1859 (per descendant Coy LOGAN) from childbirth complications with son, James R. (the death date of 4 Nov 1859 on her tombstone is probably the date of birth of son, James R.), buried in Liberty Cemetery at Dinsmore, Newton County beneath an above-ground, sandstone tomb.

Montgomery m2: 1860/1 at Hopewell to Rachal CLARK Johnson, b: 4 Sep 1831 in Tennessee, had five Newberry children, d: 16 Mar 1891 at Hopewell, buried between Montgomery and Clark B. NEWBERRY in Hopewell Cemetery, both under above-ground, sandstone tombs.

The following is paraphrased from Johnny Wayne "John" JOHNSON (see on page 470), with the author's comments in brackets "[]": "Rachal had first married 7 Oct 1850 at or near Kingston, Roane County, Tennessee to Thomas Franklin JOHNSON (b: 1829/30 in Tennessee, was a farmer near Kingston, Roane County, d: 25 Feb 1858 [AGED 28 YR'S - per gravestone] in Newton County, Arkansas, buried in Beechwoods Cemetery¹. Rachal and Thomas had three children: James Monroe, Mary Elizabeth, and John Alexander [see, beginning on page 299]. In 1857/8, they moved to Newton County, Arkansas to be near Rachal's CLARK relatives. Thomas settled his family in the Buffalo River Valley on a farm north of Ponca, near a place called Crossroads. He died very soon afterwards and was buried between Ponca and Boxley in Beechwoods Cemetery which was adjacent to the farm of one of the CLARK family" [perhaps Rachal's father or uncle ?].

Also paraphrased from Johnny Wayne "John" JOHNSON (Some of this paragraph conflicts with the next paragraph): "Rachal was the daughter of James Harvey CLARK (b: 1794/5 in Tennessee) and Nancy McCAMPBELL (b: 1800/1801 in Tennessee, m: 19 Jan 1813 at Knox City, Knox County, Tennessee). Rachal was a sister of Abraham Harvey CLARK, b: 25 Sep 1818 at Pikeville, Bledsoe County, Tennessee, d: 29 Oct 1890 in Arkansas, buried in Beechwoods Cemetery, m1: Sabra Ann EDGMON; m2: Jane PATTY; m3: Susan MINKS." John also notes that Tennessee Marriages, Knox County, Tennessee list Joseph M. CLARK married to Nancy McCAMPBELL on 20 Jan 1813 at Knox City, Knox County, Tennessee. The 1850 Census of Roane County, Tennessee at Kingston, furnished by John in 1998, with "[]" by the author:

¹ Location of Beechwoods Cemetery: Between Boxley and Ponca, Newton County, turn west off Highway 43 on Lost Valley Road, go about 1/4 mile to a fork, take the small road to the north, go about 1/4 mile to the cemetery and community building. When visited by the author in 1996, Thomas' grave had an unusual, full-size natural stone cap - the same as the graves of some of the NEWBERRYs in Hopewell and Liberty Cemetery, Newton County.

CLARK	James [Harvey]	55	[born in Tennessee] [head of household]
	Nancy [McCAMPBELL]	49	[born in Tennessee]
	Abraham [Harvey]	31	[b: 25 Sep 1818]
	Thomas	—
	Kimball or Kimble	—
	William M.	—
	Rachel [Rachal]	18	[b: 4 Sep 1831 in Tennessee]
	Elizabeth	16
	Benjamin Franklin	12
	Nancy	8	[b: 1841/2]
	Margaret	4	"

The following information is paraphrased from Cora CLARK Smith, a grand-daughter of Orlenia NEWBERRY and Samuel Harvey CLARK (see page 418 for Cora), with the author's comments in brackets "[]". Some of this paragraph conflicts with the above paragraph, including the above census: "Rachal CLARK and Samuel Harvey CLARK, were children of¹ Abraham Harvey CLARK [b: 25 Sep 1818 at Pikeville, Bledsoe County, Tennessee, d: 29 Oct 1890, buried in Beechwoods Cemetery] and Sabra Ann EDGMON. They came from Tennessee and Sabra was buried in Tom Thumb Cemetery (located six miles west of Marble Falls [or Dogpatch] and on the east edge of Newberry Point - see page 18 for Newberry Point), Newton County, Arkansas. Abraham Harvey CLARK was a descendant of the Abraham CLARK who signed the United States Declaration of Independence. Abraham Harvey CLARK homesteaded on the Buffalo River about half way between Ponca and Boxley, Arkansas, at a place in Lost Valley, now known as Beechwoods. The Beechwoods Cemetery and community building were deeded off his property. The creek flowing east from Lost Valley into the Buffalo River is named Clark Creek. My father, Rufus Walker CLARK; grandfather, Samuel Harvey CLARK; grandmother, Orlenia NEWBERRY Clark; and great-grandfather, Abraham Harvey CLARK are all buried there in Beechwoods Cemetery. Abraham Harvey CLARK was supposed to have been a devout Methodist, but, apparently, if all speculation is correct, he had another family in or near Clarksville, Arkansas, where he would be gone for weeks at a time. There was a CLARK family there who also claimed to be descendants of the Abraham, who signed the Declaration of Independence."

¹ The author suggests that Abraham Harvey CLARK was a sibling of Rachal, because, if he were her father, he would have sired her when he was age 13, which is unlikely. This is also supported by the 1850 Census of Roane County, Tennessee at Kingston, Tennessee.

For want of a better place, the author notes here two additional but separated CLARK gravestones he photographed 16 Oct 1996 in Beechwoods Cemetery. They appear to be obvious relatives of some of the CLARK family in this material, but the author does not know their kinship. Elvira CLARK Patty obviously married a PATTY who was a relative of Jane PATTY, the second wife of Abraham Harvey CLARK:

MOTHER	CLARK
ELVIRA (CLARK) PATTY	EVELYN CHRYSTENE	CHARLES CLEATIS
APR. 27, 1854	FEB. 3, 1933	MAY 10, 1926
MAR. 5, 1937	JULY 23, 1985	[blank]

Also, the author notes here a NEWBERRY woman buried at the edge of the main CLARK family plot in Beechwoods Cemetery. "NEWBERRY" could be either her maiden or her married name (?). Her kinship is a mystery to the author. However, in the 1880 Census of Newton County, Arkansas, living as a "servant" in the household of James Montgomery NEWBERRY, was a Nancy C. Minton (maiden or married name ?), who was age 23 (b: 1856/7 in Tennessee of a father from Virginia and a mother from Tennessee) - who is possibly this person, but, even if so, her kinship is still unknown:

NEWBERRY

NANCY C.
DEC. 29, 1857
MAY 7, 1948

And, again: the primary family buried in Beechwoods Cemetery is VILLINES, with perhaps about fifty or more marked graves. One such family follows. "A.B." was apparently "Albert B." and Rachel T. MINTON was apparently his wife, as all were buried in the same row.

A. B. VILLINES	RACHEL T.	LOU DAU. OF	IRA SON OF
MAR. 6, 1854	MINTON	RACHEL & ALBERT	RACHEL & ALBERT
DEC. 16, 1922	VILLINES	VILLINES	VILLINES
	SEPT. 6, 1857	DEC. 31, 1887	FEB. 8, 1879
	OCT. 11, 1888	SEPT. 11, 1908	NOV. 7, 1897

Montgomery (at age 65) m3: 26 May 1892 in Carroll County, Arkansas to Julia Ann WILSON (at age 53), no Newberry children, buried in Gobbler Cemetery at Gobbler, four miles west of Osage community, Carroll County, Arkansas (Osage is about 8 miles north of Hopewell or George community).

Montgomery had a slave named Jess. Montgomery was a Confederate veteran of the Civil War. He lived in a pre-Civil War log cabin at Hopewell, that was moved and dedicated at a Pioneer Festival on 18 Nov 1979 by the Carroll County Historical Society to Pioneer Park at Berryville, Arkansas.

The combined eighteen children of Montgomery, Mary, Rachal, and Thomas JOHNSON, in their order of birth, were:

- 54-1 Clark B. NEWBERRY, b: 24 Dec 1845 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 11 Dec 1889, buried in Hopewell Cemetery under an above-ground, sandstone tomb, adjacent to Rachal CLARK Newberry, m: Elizabeth J. WRIGHT.
- 54-2 Armilda J. NEWBERRY (Emily G. NEWBERRY in the 1850 Census of Newton County, Arkansas), b: 11 Nov 1847 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 3 Oct 1918, buried in Liberty Cemetery, Newton County, had at least one child, Mary, known to the author from the 1870 Census, m: John HOWERTON, b: 1837/8 in Tennessee, was a farmer. This was his second marriage.

John had m1: Rhoda NEWBERRY [2] [Armilda's aunt, a daughter of Elijah who was the younger brother of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr]], b: about 1838 in Tennessee, d: 1928, had a total of five children, probably three of whom were with John. Judging from the 1860 and 1870 Census of Carroll County, Arkansas for John, he and Rhoda divorced because, in 1870, Armilda was age 22 and the apparent matriarch of John's household.

Rhoda m2: 15 Aug 1875 in Newton County, Arkansas to Young Thomas Logan Sr (per Newton County, Arkansas marriage records and the 1880 Census of Newton County, Missouri - see details on page 447). For the ancestry of Rhoda, see page 609 under her father, Elijah.

In about 1989, two of the descendants John were Hubert HOWERTON of Houston, Texas and Eunice Damme of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The combined four children known to the author of John, Rhoda, and Armilda were:

- 55-1 Margaret E. HOWERTON, b: 1856/7 in Illinois, child of Rhoda.
- 55-2 Nathaniel B. HOWERTON, b: Oct 1858 in Arkansas, was a farmer, d: 1932, buried in Gobbler Cemetery, Carroll County, Arkansas, child of Rhoda, m: Louisa J. MILLER, b: Feb 1860 in Arkansas (of parents both born in Tennessee), d: 1940, buried in Gobbler Cemetery. Nathaniel's mother, Rhoda NEWBERRY [2] Howerton Logan, was also living in the household in 1900. The six children of Nathaniel and Louisa were (per the 1900 Census of Carroll County, Arkansas, Piney Township):
- 56-1 Fred G. HOWERTON, b: Dec 1885 in Arkansas.
- 56-2 Charlie HOWERTON, b: Feb 1889 in Arkansas.
- 56-3 Ether (Esther ?) HOWERTON, b: Oct 1887 in Arkansas.
- 56-4 Mollie HOWERTON, b: Sep 1892 in Arkansas.
- 56-5 Mattie HOWERTON, b: Jan 1895 in Arkansas.

- ⁵⁶⁻⁶ Violet HOWERTON, b: Jul 1898 in Arkansas.
- ⁵⁵⁻³ Sarah HOWERTON b: 1860/1 in Arkansas, probably a child of Rhoda.
- ⁵⁵⁻⁴ Mary F. HOWERTON b: May 1870 in Arkansas, probably a child of Armilda.
- ⁵⁴⁻³ Alexander "Alex" NEWBERRY, b: 24 Jun 1849 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 11 Oct 1928, m: 16 Sep 1866 to Nancy Louisa "Nan" BUNCH, b: 6 Jan 1847, d: 22 Jul 1922, both buried in Liberty Cemetery, Newton County, had twelve children.

Continuing with the family of Margaret Julia Tennessee NEWBERRY and Noah Curtis LUELLEN, as referenced on page 310 under her parents, Alexander "Alex" NEWBERRY and Nancy Louisa "Nan" BUNCH:

⁵⁵⁻⁴ Margaret Julia Tennessee "Tenna" "Tennie" NEWBERRY, b: 6 Mar 1873 in Carroll County, Arkansas, d: 23 May 1955 at Phoenix¹, Maricopa County, Arizona, buried in Sunset Memorial Park Cemetery, Albuquerque, Bernalillo County, New Mexico, m: 15 Sep 1889 in Newton County², Arkansas to Noah Curtis LUELLEN, b: 11 Oct 1866 at Homer, Champaign County, Illinois, d: 3 May 1939 at or near Farley, Colfax County, New Mexico, buried³ in the southeast corner of Gladstone Cemetery, between Gladstone and Farley, Colfax County, New Mexico. They had lived in Newton County, Arkansas; Allen, Collin County, Texas; San Jon, Quay County, New Mexico in 1908; near Memphis, Hall County, Texas (in 1910 when Noah's father, Asa, died while at their home); Collingsworth County, Texas; moved to near Gladstone, Union County, New Mexico in 1918 and lived there in the 1920s and 1930s, had nine children.

Noah was the eldest son of Nathan Asa LUELLEN (b: 1838 at Amity, Washington County, Pennsylvania, d: 8 Nov 1910 of dropsy near Memphis, Hall County, Texas while living with the family of his son, Noah, and was buried there) and his first wife, Rebecca MACKEY (b: Ohio, d: about 1875 at Homer, Champaign County, Illinois in childbirth with their sixth child). ¹ Tennie died while spending a winter in Phoenix with her son and daughter-in-law, William Albert "Willie" "Will" LUELLEN and Altha Elizabeth HALL Luellen (source: Beverley Jeanne SMITH Rodgers in 1999).

² The Marriage License record is in Carroll County. It gave the home of "Noah Luellen" as "Dinsmore, Carroll County" and "MJT Newberry" as "Dinsmore, Newton County". The community of Dinsmore is in the extreme northwest corner of Newton County, with Carroll County only about 1/4 mile to the north and Madison county about 1/2 mile to the west. The clerk who issued the license obviously used "Dinsmore" as a community area extending into Carroll County and not the specific settlement where the Dinsmore post office was located.

⁴ source: The five siblings of Noah were from a group sheet furnished by Beverley Jeanne SMITH Rodgers in 1999.

Asa m2: 29 Aug 1885 to Margaret Mary Ann NEWBERRY and had seven more children (see page 425 for detail).

Nathan Asa was the son of Lemuel LUELLEN (b: 1812 at Amity, Washington County, Pennsylvania, d: 1882 at Amity) and _____.

Lemuel was the son of Asa LUELLEN (b: 1790 in Washington County, Pennsylvania, d: 1856 in Washington County) and Eunice PECK (b: 1788 in Washington County, Pennsylvania d: before 1856 at Amity, Washington County).

Asa was the son of Henry LUELLEN (b: 1765 in Loudoun County, Virginia, d: Jan 1820 in Washington County, Pennsylvania) and Mary BARNETT (b: Washington County, Pennsylvania, m: 1783, d: after 1820 in Washington County)

Henry was the son of Phillip LUELLEN (b: c1742 in Burlington County, New Jersey, d: 1833 in Washington County, Pennsylvania) and Mary OLDACRE (m: 1763).

Phillip was the son of Samuel LLEWELLYN (b: 1698 in Wales, d: 1790 at Monongailia¹, Virginia, was a physician) and his second wife, Hannah _____ Jones, widow (m: after 1732).

In her later years, Tennie lived with her daughters Cleo, Enard, and Grace equal parts of the year, although she died while staying a winter with her son, Will. About 1949, she was living with the family of her daughter, Enard. Quoting Tennie's granddaughter, Beverley Jeanne SMITH Rodgers²: "Years later when I am in my teens and Grandma Luellen comes to live with us I hear these old hymns sung over and over as she sits up in bed piecing quilt blocks or knitting baby booties ... She was a very tender and delicate white haired lady at that time, who appeared to experience a great deal of inner peace and joy. Her blue eyes sparkle as she displays wit and humor at a second's notice. She laughs with a great deal of ease. When her room is silent she is either napping or reading the Bible or other religious literature. When her hands are busy with her artistic creations ... her voice is lifted in Christian hymns of praise or her radio is tuned to her favorite gospel music or missionary sermon. I always remember her with snow white hair, but in her younger days she was endowed with a rich and healthy growth of long hair of an intense auburn color. In conversation she related many instances of her pioneer life as a young woman. Speaking of how she married Noah at age sixteen in Newton County, Arkansas and after their third child was born how they traveled west in a covered wagon. Now no one remembers exactly where they settled but probably somewhere in Oklahoma or Texas. After approximately two years they traveled back to Arkansas (no one remembers just why). The second trip is what I remember her relating to me. They left Arkansas again, bound for Texas this time, with five children. Traveling always in a covered wagon they were forced to stop in Tahlequah¹, Oklahoma to bury a dead baby — little Docia, eleven months old; cause of death unknown. Grief stricken, they persevered on to Collin County, Texas. During the time they were in this area, three children were born. The first born, little Johnny, died at eighteen months of age (diarrhea, I believe). The other two children were both born in the same house, the younger one being my Mother [Fairy Enard LUELLEN]. This was the only time that two babies were born in the same house for during Grandma's marriage they moved to eight different parts of the country and lived in as many as five different houses in one locality. From Collin County they traveled to San Jon, New Mexico where their ninth and last child was born. Granddaddy was a renter, meaning he rented houses and land to farm. From San Jon it was to Memphis, Texas. In 1918 the family moved to Union County, New Mexico and settled near Gladstone. At this time Gladstone boasted a mercantile store, a post office, a grist mill, and a creamery. My Mother was thirteen years old. Greener pastures were always just ahead, but success was not in [their] vocabulary. Hope for rain and survival was what reality was all about. Material possessions were what could be loaded into a wagon and carried along."

¹ The author could not locate this place on modern road maps. But, for what it is worth, there is a town of Monongahela on the Monongahela River in Washington County, Pennsylvania, which county seems to be where all the rest of these Welshmen went.

Quoting and paraphrasing Carol HARRIS Arnett (and her informant, Hazel Beatrice SAUNDERS Young [via Clara Cleo LUELLEN Pesterfield or Ruth Powers, whom Carol believed was in the family of a Daniel LUELLEN who was a cousin to Noah LUELLEN's father, Asa], see Hazel's account on page 356, with other details): "After the 1900 Census of Carroll County, Arkansas [which listed Noah, wife Tennessee, and children Maude, Bessie, Willie, and Ottie], the family traveled by covered wagon from Arkansas to Indian Territory [became Oklahoma in 1907]. Their daughter, Docia, died in Oklahoma and they left a small grave beside the Washita River near a settlement of the same name [The settlement of Washita was located 4 miles east of the present-day town of Washita, Caddo County, Oklahoma.]. The family moved on to Texas - finally Collin County [about 50 miles north of Dallas] and Tennessee gave birth to three more daughters: Clara Cleo b: 1903; Fairy Enard b: 1905; and Gracie Delilah b: 1907 ... About 1916, land opened up in New Mexico for homesteading and Noah's oldest daughter [Maude Belle LUELLEN Saunders] and her husband and two small sons moved there. Noah and the rest of the family followed a short time later ... "

¹ Tahlequah, Cherokee County, Oklahoma appears to have been on the route from Newton County, Arkansas but Docia was probably buried perhaps 200 miles further along the west-southwest route near Chickasha, as Beverley later recalled, or at Washita settlement (20 miles west of Chickasha) on the Washita River as related in the next paragraph by another descendant.

Memphis, Tex.
12 / 21 / 1919

Dear Folks, one and all.

I will write you all a few lines, in answer to your letters that I recd. several days ago. I intended to answer sooner, but just kept putting it off.

I am still here with Johnnie trying to pick cotton, but dont get to work but about half of the time. The weather has been awful bad here. It came a big rain here last thursday and Friday. All of Johnnies hands left last Friday but me. I gess I will stay here a week or ten days longer if the weather is not too bad. But if it comes a snow I am long time gone from the cotton pach. I have made about one hundred and fifty dollars here and could make one hundred more if the weather would stay pretty but this weather is enough to run a crazy quilt insane. These cotton pickers sure have made money here this fall but every thing is higher here than it is out there. Paw, your mules would sell for six hundred down here. Paw, it was Mr. Herringas place to pay the tax on that land, but he had the interest on the state land payed in advance. So we squared of that way. if you will notice, the contracts says the interest is to be payed in advance. Yes I will have to pay tax on state land. I ask about that at Clayton. I will send you the money to pay my tax before I leave here.

Enard I received your letter all o.k. and sure enjoyed reading it. Say Enard why dont Will [their brother] write ? I havent got a letter from him since I came down here. Ask him how he got that way. He may be busy fixing to get married Xmas. If that is the case, he is excusable for not writeing.

Ah, we all marrie sooner or later, but I think I will take mine later. Most every one says marrie and settle down. But I think I will stay single and settle up. Enard I am seeing lots of fun and trouble. I have desided that this world is a big aufit. I had to help intertane three pretty girls this morning. It was the too Lides girls and Miss Baker. Believe me they are steping kids - especly Miss Baker. Every time I looked into her eyes I could see her face. and when I seen her face my heart would all most wear a hole in my under shirt ha.

Maw, I hope you all enjoy this Xmas season better than last Xmas. I sure would like to come home now and be with you all Xmas but I cant. or at least I dont feel able to.

Well news is scarce with me so I will close for this time. Hopcing that some of you all will answer soon.

From your Son,
Ottie Luellen

P.S. Send my letter to Memphis Rt. D. #2 in care of J.R. Saunders

⁵⁶⁻⁵ Docia Edna LUELLEN¹, b: 19 Nov 1898 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 12 Oct 1899, buried in "a little grave by the Washita River near the settlement of the same name", Indian Territory. The settlement of Washita was located four miles east of the present-day town of Washita, Caddo County, Oklahoma. See page 356 for the account by Hazel Beatrice SAUNDERS Young of this burial during the family's trek west by covered wagon.²

¹ A Group Sheet from Beverley Jeanne SMITH Rodgers in 1999 lists this child as "Docia Edna LUELLEN", which was how this name was written by Docia's mother in her Bible. The latest date on this group sheet was 27 May 1967, the death of Ottie R.B. LUELLEN. Beverley Jeanne SMITH Rodgers related that the sheet was prepared from a book of genealogy of Asa Nathan Luellen and his two families, which had belonged to her mother, Enard.

Paraphrasing Enard's daughter, Beverley Jeanne SMITH Rodgers in 1999: "My Mother was the only one of the family who broke away in order to obtain an education. After completing ninth grade in Gladstone, she did housework in exchange for room and board while attending tenth grade in Grenville and eleventh and twelfth grades at Raton High School [Raton, New Mexico]. Then with money borrowed from an older brother [Ottie R.B. LUELLEN], Mother attended Normal University in Las Vegas, New Mexico (now called Highland's University). She taught in a one room school house at Clapham community, Union County, New Mexico from around 1925 until 1934. In the summer of 1931, after my SMITH Sr. She related that "it is somewhere around the town of Etowah and Benton. The Hiwassee River made a sharp curve labeled a "pinhook" and that area was called the Pinhook community.

parents were married, Dad did some irrigating and mowing hay for pay for Dr. Wilson, a neighbor of Aunt Maude's [Maude Belle LUELLEN Saunders] in Albuquerque. Aunt Cleo (Mother's next older sister) and Walter lived in the old home place at Gladstone where Mother and Dad lived in a house on the same property. Dad farmed while Mother taught school at Thomas community for three years. They saw each other on weekends only - until I was born. When I was about two months old, we moved to Albuquerque and Dad traded Doc Wilson five or six head of horses as a down payment on the three acres of land with a small house on it that is now at Valley Road and Shady Lane. This is where my sister, Gloria, was born. Dad kept one team, a favorite horse and mare, and Doc Wilson loaned him another team out of what he had traded in order to level the land and plant alfalfa. When I was six years old, Dad owned a barber shop in Las Vegas, New Mexico. Daddy was also a carpenter by trade and during World War II he became a locomotive fireman/engineer for the Santa Fe Railroad for thirty years."

Autobiography of Enard: Enard wrote her own [undated, but probably about 1970/80] autobiography as transcribed by her daughter, Beverley Jeanne SMITH Rodgers, who furnished it to the author in 1999 - with information in brackets, "[]", added by the author:

"This autobiography was inspired by my granddaughter Robyn Rodgers [Robyn Claire RODGERS, b: 14 Sep 1956] one day when she was looking at pictures of me in a Kodak album. She said, "What kind of a girl were you grandma? I wonder what people were like in those days." I said, "Well, Robyn I will write a story of my life." Thus my autobiography began. You will notice that I write a great deal describing my parents. I do this in order that you might understand me better. Remember that this was lived seventy nine years ago. People and things have changed a lot since then. Think what they will be like seventy nine years from now. I dedicate this autobiography to my children and grandchildren that they might know why I am who I am.

I was born Oct. 12, 1905 near the town of Allen, Texas in Collin County near Dallas and Fort Worth. My parents were hard working poor people. I was the eighth child in a family of nine children. Two children, the fifth and the sixth had died before I was born.

My parents were considered intelligent and proud people. They were always respected and although poor, my mother always, by good management and hard work dressed her children as well or better than the average.

My father was a dry land cotton farmer. He worked hard, but had itchy feet. The greenest grass was farther ahead, and he was constantly on the move. My mother said my sister [Clara Cleo] just older than I and I were the only two children born in the same house.

Before I was two years old, my father decided to move to New Mexico and file on a piece of land [homestead government land] and own a home of his own. This is something that he knew he would never be able to do in that part of Texas since the price of land was high there. There was lots of class distinction in Texas. There were the few who owned the land and were considered the rich class and there was the tenant who toiled the land. Besides the weather was awfully hot. I can remember hearing my mother say it never cooled off at night. They had no air conditioning in those days, as they do now.

So my father got the wagon and teams together and we headed for New Mexico. I don't remember anything about the trip as I was only a baby, probably less than a year old. We settled in eastern New Mexico near a place called San Jon; which was just a store and a post office. Our place was near the bottom of a mesa called the caprock. Father purchased 160 acres of land for $200.00 [United States Department of Interior receipt was dated 28 Dec 1908]. There was probably a very crude house on it, probably small, but we all crowded into it. We had one close neighbor. People were few and far between, most of them living in dug outs. Remember that was in 1906 or 1907 and New Mexico was just beginning to be settled. Our one close neighbor was named Mundy. I can remember only one incident that happened in New Mexico. Late one afternoon one of the Mundy girls came running and screaming down the road. She was crying and screaming so that mother and my older sisters knew something bad had happened. They didn't wait for her to calm down but quit whatever they were doing and ran up to her house. They found Mrs. Mundy all black and blue and frothing at the mouth, dying. She had taken her life by poisoning. It was a horrible death. Mr. Mundy had bought some strychnine to mix with grain and poison rats. She had taken it to end her life. It hurts me to hear of anyone ending their own life. It indicates terrible unhappiness, misery or pain. They don't know why she took her life, committed suicide.

My youngest sister was born while we were living in New Mexico [near San Jon, Quay County]. They said they came very near naming her Mexie. She says she is glad that they didn't. They named her Grace instead.

The weather was cooler in New Mexico than in Texas. Hot in the summer days but it always cooled off at night. I am sure they enjoyed the weather although it could get pretty cold during the winter.

The folks didn't stay in New Mexico long. I am sure they made one crop there or tried to, but it was a dry year. Beans were their only money crop and they didn't produce much. One might say they starved out. I think Daddy decided he had rather raise cotton as beans.

So they decided to move back to Texas. It was time to hitch up the team and head back to Texas. However, we are going to a different part of the state this time. We are going to West Texas. We settled in Hall county, in the Pan Handle of Texas. My father rented a place near Memphis, which was the County Seat, in the Gamage community.

I was only three years old by this time, although I can remember a number of things that happened. For one thing my paternal grandfather, Asa Nathan Luellen, came to stay a while with us. He was sick and had no one to care for him. His first wife [Rebecca MACKEY] had died when my father was a very little boy, six or eight years old, and had three brothers younger than he was. Grandfather never made a home for them but farmed them out to relatives or friends, or just anyone who would keep them. So my father [Noah Curtis LUELLEN] was kicked about and mistreated a lot. When he was old enough to work they worked him harder than a child should have to work. Lots of people would give him a place to stay just for the work he could do. He told of having rheumatism when he was twelve or fourteen years of age. He had it so bad they had to turn him in bed in a sheet. I didn't realize a person could be that sore, until this last May, when I had a spell. Now I can understand how sore one can get with it and grasp how grateful he always seemed toward those few people who cared enough to reach out to him, particularly at that time.

My grandfather, Asa Nathan, married the second time and had four children [actually had seven] by the second wife, before they separated.

He was a very sick man now and no one to care for him. There were no nursing homes in those days and very few hospitals. What few existed were poorly equipped compared to hospitals nowadays.

Grandpa had what they called the "dropsy", a kidney disease. He had not been with us very long, probably a month, before he died. My older sister went to this room and knocked on the door to tell him that breakfast was ready. When he didn't answer to repeated knocking, she opened the door and found him dead.

I can remember that my brother was sent to notify the neighbors and later in the day my father, sister, and one brother went to town and bought the casket to bury him in. They made the box and the neighbors dressed him and laid him in the casket. In other words they did what the undertaker does today. They didn't embalm him as they do today, so they had to bury him sooner.

They put the casket on two chairs, one at the head and one at the foot. I can remember them lifting me up to see him. One room was made empty except for the casket. I can remember the neighbors coming and going all day. All this created a disturbance that left its impression on me, one that I still remember.

I can remember my grandfather before his death shooting a flying hawk. It was in the late afternoon. We three little girls were outside playing in the front yard, when the hawk dipped down and got a baby chicken. Grandpa ran into the house and got a shotgun, came out and aimed at the hawk, bang! The hawk came tumbling down and fell in a bunch of briars at the corner of a field. My grandfather went to get him but there were too many briars to wade and too dark to see. So he waited until morning.

[My father], Noah C. Luellen, his wife [Margaret Julia Tennessee "Tenna" "Tennie" NEWBERRY] and three young daughters [Clara Cleo, Fairy Enard, and Gracie Delilah] moved to Union County, New Mexico in the Spring of 1918, coming from Collingsworth County, Texas [Between 1910 when Noah's father, Nathan Asa, had died and 1918, they had moved from near Memphis, Hall County to the next county north, Collingsworth County.]. Two sons [William Albert and Ottie R.B. LUELLEN] and two married daughters [Maude Belle LUELLEN Saunders and Bessie Armilda LUELLEN Saunders] had moved here about two years earlier [i.e. in 1916]. They all homesteaded around the Gladstone community in the western part of Union County near the Colfax County line.

My father chartered a box car on the D&R.G. [Denver & Rio Grande] railroad which brought us to Clayton [New Mexico]. He brought 2 or 3 teams of horses and mules, 2 milk cows and some hens, as well as farming implements and all our household furniture. He rode in the box car with our belongings while my mother, my sisters and I came in a passenger train. His box car caught on fire at Texline, Texas which caused a lot of excitement and confusion and some loss. Luckily none of the livestock were burnt before the fire was extinguished.

My parents bought a half section of land [320 acres or ½ mile wide by 1 mile long] with a house consisting of one large room and a built-on side room. We lived in this until the next Fall when he started building more rooms. That was an extremely cold winter. That was also the year of the influenza epidemic. There was lots of snow and blizzards and it didn't melt for months. The nearest towns were 35, 40 or 45 miles away; Roy, Mills, Springer, Grenville or Des Moines. The roads were so snow-filled and frozen it was almost impossible to go to the towns to haul out lumber. There were a number of deaths in the community caused by the "flu". How well do I remember my father hitching a team to the wagon and trying to drive to the post office at Gladstone to get the mail every day he thought the roads were passable. Only to return and say the roads were so bad the mail man had been unable to bring the mail from Grenville. But it seemed nearly every time he went to the store and post office he would hear of some neighbor dying and others being awfully sick with the flu.

Some of the lumber father had stacked to build with, went to the neighbors and friends to build coffins, or boxes for the coffins, of those who had died. It was a critical time. Luckily none of our family were seriously sick with the flu.

My sisters and I walked more than two miles to the Gladstone school. That old cement school building still stands. Four or five years later a larger and better building was built but we had to go to one of the nearby towns when we got ready for High School and still farther to college.

It seems as though the winters were colder and longer back in those days but it rained more in the summer time and snowed more in the winter. Large crops were raised. Beans were the main money crop.

My parents lived in that community for about twenty years.”

The following paper of 1979, copied verbatim except spelling of common words, furnished to the author in 1996 by descendant Carol HARRIS Arnett was written by Hazel to Carol (see footnote on page 343 under Docia Edna LUELLEN for a slightly different version of this story): "Grandpa" Noah and "Grandma" Tennie Luellen [Noah Curtis LUELLEN and his wife, Margaret Julia Tennessee "Tenna" "Tennie" NEWBERRY], came west to Texas by covered wagon, crossing Oklahoma when it was Indian territory. They left a little grave by the Washita river near the settlement of the same name [The settlement of Washita was located 4 miles east of the present-day town of Washita, Caddo County, Oklahoma.]. My mother (Maude Belle) was 9 years old.

Mother met my father, Clarence Saunders in Memphis, Texas [Maude Belle LUELLEN and her husband, Clarence Milford SAUNDERS Sr]. When land was opened in New Mexico to homesteading or farming and ranching, my parents and 2 small sons started a new life in the raw frontier community of Gladstone in Union County. Father was a cattle rancher. Grandpa and Grandma followed shortly after, and Grandpa farmed.

While growing up in Albuquerque, I visited my grandparents many times in Gladstone. My mother, sister and I would take the train to Springer where Uncle Will [William Albert "Willie" "Will" LUELLEN] Luellen or one of the uncles-in-law would meet us. From there we went by auto over the twenty miles of rough, primitive road to Grandpa's home.

I took a sentimental journey back to Gladstone a few years ago with my brother, Roy and sister-in-law, June [Roy Herman SAUNDERS and his wife, Laura June VANCEAVE]. I visited my grandparents' old home place. The old windmill with its beautifully weathered wood tower still stood but the long cowshed's rusty tin roof was sagging. The white frame house had been moved to another location and all that remained was what used to be the cellar underneath the kitchen and I remember mother telling about the year Grandpa dug the cellar. He had hauled the lumber by wagon from the nearby town of Mills. That was in 1917 -- during World War I and the Spanish flu epidemic. Some of the neighbors came to Grandpa to ask for the lumber to build coffins for their loved ones, victims of the flu, so the kitchen did not get built that year. The war ended and Uncle Will came home from his tour of duty one cold frosty night and not knowing about the cellar hole - fell in. He was unhurt. [From Shirley HAMBY Pyron in 1997: "This Spanish Flu epidemic has been traced to a strain of swine flu from tests done on biopsies taken from soldier's lungs during World War I and preserved in formaldehyde. It is believed the virus originated in South Carolina and was spread throughout the world by American soldiers. Millions died."]

The old locust grove, where as a child, I played with cousins, was still there. Grandpa had planted those trees for no other reason than that he loved trees. My mother and Aunts tell me that wherever Grandpa lived, he planted trees. As a matter of fact, his old home place had more trees than any other in that rolling prairie country where the average rainfall is 18 inches.

A few miles away stood the crumbling stone foundation of the adobe home where I was born. Cattle graze there now. I picked from the ground, a piece of what seemed to be a cold cream jar. An older cousin felt it surely belongs to my mother - that she always kept herself up well even under less than ideal conditions and that father wanted her to. My cousin remembered her at church on Sundays - always looking as if she had stepped out of a "band box". I, too, remember mother that way. She loved shopping for clothes for us girls. I still have a skirt she made by hand. She, like her father, loved growing things, I remember the delight she took in her flower garden and I think some of that has come down to me.

² source: from Virginia Arlene SMITH Simmons Heard in 1999

Continuing with the family of Margaret Mary Ann NEWBERRY, James "Jim" ARNETT, Nathan Asa LUELLEN, and S.A. "Lee" HANNON, as referenced on page 297 under her parents, James Montgomery NEWBERRY and his first wife, Mary MILLER:

⁵⁴⁻⁶ Margaret Mary Ann NEWBERRY, b: 4 Apr 1854 in Newton County, Arkansas, d: 1 Dec 1936, buried in Hulbert IOOF, International Organization of Odd Fellows Cemetery, Hulbert, Cherokee County, Oklahoma (beside her third husband, S.A. "Lee" HANNON), m1: 26 Nov 1871 in Newton County to James "Jim" ARNETT, b: 26 Nov 1848 in Arkansas, d: before 1885, had eight children. Jim was killed by a runaway team while working in timber south of Eureka Springs, Arkansas, buried in Williams Cemetery, where the grave can no longer be located.

Mary Ann m2: 29 Aug 1885 at Dinsmore, Newton County, Arkansas by Reverend Stephen Valentine NEWBERRY to Nathan Asa LUELLEN, b: 1838 at Amity, Washington County, Pennsylvania, d: 8 Nov 1910 of dropsy near Memphis, Hall County, Texas while living with the family of his son, Noah, and was buried there. Asa had seven children with Mary Ann.

Asa had been married previously to Rebecca MACKEY (b: Ohio, d: about 1875 at Homer, Champaign County, Illinois in childbirth with their sixth child) and had six children including son, Noah, who married Margaret Julia Tennessee "Tenna" "Tennie" NEWBERRY (see Tennie and Noah followed by Asa, Rebecca, and their six children, beginning on page 335).

Quoted from descendant Carol HARRIS Arnett in 1995: "After the birth of my grandmother, Maude Cleo LUELLEN, Asa ran away and left Mary Ann to raise the children the best she could. Until I started this research they didn't know what had happened to Asa. He left Arkansas and went to Texas with a son from a previous marriage, Noah [Curtis] LUELLEN [and Noah's wife, Margaret Julia Tennessee "Tenna" "Tennie" NEWBERRY] and Asa died there. If Mary Ann knew this, she didn't tell my grandmother. Noah LUELLEN married Tennessee Newberry, the fourth child of Alex Newberry [Alexander "Alex" NEWBERRY and Nancy Louisa "Nan" BUNCH - see Alex and Nan on page 309]. Before leaving Arkansas, Mary Ann ran a ferry boat on the White River, was a hotel cook, and worked in corn, cotton, and strawberry fields to raise her children. Two of the Arnett daughters worked in a grocery store at Osage [Carroll County], Arkansas. The old store was still standing when I went there in 1980 [and when the author went there in 1986]. After going to Oklahoma about 1900, Mary Ann met and married S.A. "Lee" Hannon in 1901. Life was much better for the family then and my grandmother said many times that Lee Hannon was a wonderful step-father."

End of the family of Sarah Felicia NEWBERRY and Leon Truman TURNER

Continuing with the family of William Jasper NEWBERRY and Esther M. PITTMAN, as referenced on page 276 under his parents, Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] and second wife, Easter PHILLIPS:

⁵³⁻¹⁰ William Jasper NEWBERRY, b: 31 Aug 1844 in Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas, d: 26 Apr 1927, m: 3 Sep 1867 to Esther M. PITTMAN, b: 25 Mar 1845, d: 4 Mar 1920, both buried in Stacy Memorial Cemetery near Devers, Liberty County, Texas, had six children.

Esther was a daughter of Reverend Sterling Cock Harris PITTMAN (b: 3 Dec 1815, d: 3 Mar 1901, buried in Fuller Cemetery, Carroll County, Arkansas) and his first wife, Nancy STUART (b: 11 Dec 1816, m: 14 Jan 1834, d: 17 Nov 1884, buried in Dean Cemetery, Carroll County, Arkansas. Birth and death dates are from her tombstone. The following dates are from a Daughters of the American Revolution application: b: 11 Nov 1816, d: 11 Sep 1884.). See page 272 under Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] for Sterling's m2: to Stephen's widow, Easter PHILLIPS Newbury.

Sterling was the son of Samuel PITTMAN (b: 7 Jan 1766, d: 25 Mar 1843) and Keziah VANDERPOOL (1769-1840, m: 1787).

Nancy was the daughter of James STUART and _____ PENNELL.

Quoting the 1995 recollections of Stephen Ernest SPAULDING Sr: "My grandfather Jasper [William Jasper NEWBERRY] lived with us when I was a small child. He received a pension check each month for this service in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. He died at age 83. [Jasper served under General Cabell who served under General Sterling Price]." See page 523 where Jasper named a son after Sterling Price.

Paraphrasing Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, 1998: "The 1900 Census has the [William Jasper NEWBERRY] family, including his father-in-law Sterling Cock Harris PITTMAN, in Cedar Township of Carroll County, Arkansas [which includes Eureka Springs and an area 8 miles west, 3 miles north, 3 miles east and 2 miles south]. From copies of records, I made some notes that they lived there 3 Feb 1897 - 14 Feb 1903. Previous to that time, he had made other homestead claims on land near Berryville, Carroll County, but those claims were apparently not proven up."

Paraphrasing Gloria SPALDING Lovvo, 1998: "Jasper homesteaded 80 acres of land five miles west of Eureka Springs, Carroll County, Arkansas on 5 May 1904. It was [NWNW] which probably means the north half of the northwest quarter of T20N, R27W, section 13 - under the name of William J. Newberry [whom the author assumed to be William Jasper NEWBERRY], Harrison Land Office, Volume 3070, Page 462, Document Number 15367.

The following is a verbatim letter from Esther M. PITTMAN Newberry (at age 61) to her oldest child, Nina (furnished to the author by Susan NEWBERRY Davidson):

[to]: Mrs. William H. Gottfried
554 East Walnut Street
Springfield, Missouri

Liberty, Texas
April 30, 1916

Dear daughter Nina -

I have been too sick to answer your very interesting letter till today and I still have the hurting in the back of my head and neck that prostrated me for over a week. I hope you have recovered by this time and will be able to pay us the visit we are looking forward to. I got a letter from George [her sixth and last child] which he had written the 22 of this month.

He too says he will visit us soon - I believe I ought to go back west with him if it were not so near to old Mexico. I believe my health would become better out there. I don't believe Liberty (town) is healthy for any one - Sammie is very unhealthy [her second child, Pennell Samuel]. I sometimes wish he had not bought property in this town. I hope you will feel strong when you fully recover from that operation. Had I had the care of an efficient medical faculty in time or when I was younger, I might have been cured and a useful elderly lady instead of a physical and almost a mental wreck. The children were all promoted in their studies this year. Harvard and Esther from the 6 to the 7 grade - Maurine from the 5 to the 6 grade, and Nina from the 2 to the 3 grade.

Before I forget your request I will answer it so far as I can - your grandma [Easter's] mother's maiden name was Millie Talley. Your grandpa's mother's name [the mother of Stephen C. NEWBURY Jr.] was Sallie Chambers and your relations to the Cherokees [Cherokees] was from a celebrated chief, whose name was Ross. And it came from your grandma Easter's grandma Phillips, whose name was Nelson before her marriage. I suppose you have heard of Chief Ross for he was a very prominent Indian and figures in some histories.

Sammie has some prominent visitors today. Prof. Simmons his wife and baby. They live at Tarkington and he is teacher there.

Our garden is looking better since the rains which has fallen recently. Tell Dear little Deanie [Adolphus Dean USREY] his poor grandma wants to see him and I suppose I will see Mr. Gottfried and little William [William Hamilton GOTTFRIED Jr] when you all come. Hoping to see you all soon I am your loving mother.

P.S. I am too weak to write with a pen. Yes the roads are in good condition.

Jasper and Esther had six children:

- ⁵⁴⁻¹ Nancy J. "Nannie" "Nina" NEWBERRY, b: about 1868 at or near Berryville, Carroll County, Arkansas, d: 23 Feb 1942 at Springfield, Greene County, Missouri, m1: 1 Jun 1884 in Carroll County to Samuel Ben USREY, b: 18 Mar 1865, d: 29 Jun 1956, buried in Gobbler Cemetery in Carroll County, had three children, divorced 11 Feb 1896 at Bonham, Texas; m2: 29 Jan 1900 to William Hamilton "Will" GOTTFRIED Sr of Springfield, had a son. Nina and Will lived at Springfield in 1916 and until their deaths. They were buried in Maple Park Cemetery at Springfield.

Will's family owned the Gottfried Furniture and Carpet Store in Springfield, established in 1858. Nina's sons, Charles and Dean, both came to work there and her son, William Jr, inherited the business.

Samuel m2: Camilzie Jane FULTZ of Carroll County, Arkansas, had a large second family.

A photo copy of the following penciled one-page note on tablet paper was furnished to the author by Susan NEWBERRY Davidson in 1996. It was written by Nina in 1907. This note is this author's only basis for including Polly as a child of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS Newbury. The note is given verbatim with the author's additions in brackets. It was folded inside a 3"x 5" envelope which was labeled like the first line of script below - with the note following:

History of my Gr. Grand father Newbury 1907

*Gareld Keys lived on the place something like 65 years ago taking care of my great
gr. mother Sally Newbury In Overton County.
Gr. father was Stephen Newbury grate Gr-father " "*

*Grandfather left Tennessee something like 65 years ago- he never sold his part in land[.]
people wrote him to Arkansas but did not offer him what he considered enough_
Keys married Gr. fa Newburys sister Polly*

The author's interpretation of Nina's note follows:

Gerald KEY married Polly NEWBURY, a daughter of Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS Newbury. Gerald and Polly lived on the place in Overton County, Tennessee [consisting of 100-acre and 25-acre plots originally granted to Stephen [Sr] but in the possession of his widow, Sallie] about 65 years ago [about 1842] taking care of Sallie [who was about age 74 (by subtraction of her approximate date of birth, 1767/8, from 1842)].

My grandfather was Stephen [C.] NEWBURY [Jr] and his father was Stephen NEWBURY [Sr]. Stephen [Jr] left Tennessee about 65 years ago [about 1842]. He never sold his part of the [125-acres he inherited after his mother's, Sallie's, death] land [to the other heirs], because they never offered him what he thought his portion of the land was worth.

Scott, Bourbon County, Kansas to Dollie Ethel POTTER, b: 9 Jun 1891 at Springfield, d: 28 Aug 1976 at Springfield, both buried in Eastlawn Cemetery of Springfield, had eight children.

Ethel's grandfathers, Colonel Thomas POTTER and Abraham HANKINS, were among the early settlers of Greene County, Missouri and she inherited land from both, which constituted the family farm near Strafford, Missouri where four of her eight children were born.

In notes made in 1941, Sterling stated that he went to Texas at age 18 (about 1902) to attend high school. He was thought to have lived near his brother Sam, but he worked at various jobs to earn money, including a stint as a camp cook for cowboys. He joined the Baptist Church in Texas, but after completing school, he moved to Springfield, Missouri, where his sister, Nina Gottfried, was then living. There he met and married Ethel POTTER in 1910, and became more active in church work but did not become an ordained minister until five or six years later. He was ordained by the First Baptist Church of Picher, Oklahoma and worked as a home missionary for about a year. About Sep 1918, he and his wife and two sons moved to Liberty, Texas where his parents were living, as well as his brother Sam and his sister Rose. In Mar 1919 he was Camp Pastor for the Kirby Lumber Company. Later that year they returned to Springfield to care for Ethel's mother who was ill. The mother died 20 Nov 1919 and they lived in Greene County the remainder of their lives, on the family farm or in Springfield.

¹ Location: The 1936 map of Newton County shows Bass as a community with several houses and a church, located 6-miles east of Mt. Judea on Arkansas Highway 74. It is 2 miles south of Ben's Branch, about 3.5-miles south of Cave Creek community, and 8-miles south southwest of Mt. Hersey community, which is on the north bank of the Buffalo River at the mouth of Davis Creek. Bass, Ben's Branch, Cave Creek, and Mt. Hersey are near the east boundary of Newton County, about 13-miles east of Jasper, the county seat. In 1972, the location of Mt. Hersey was condemned and purchased as part of the reserve of the Buffalo National River. However, it can still be reached by road, because it is an access point to canoeists and campers. Also see next footnote.

² Location: Ben's Branch is a small creek about 3-miles long that runs east into Cave Creek, from which point Cave Creek runs north about 4-miles into the Buffalo River at a point about 2 miles south and downstream of Mount Hersey. There is a church/cemetery on the north side of Ben's Branch (where Arthur McCUTCHEON is apparently buried, since it is the only cemetery on Ben's Branch on the Newton County map of 1984). There is a minor county road turning north off of Highway 74, 0.6-mile north of Bass that proceeds north to the church/cemetery at Ben's Branch and on north another 1.5-miles to the community of Cave Creek, where Arthur was born. Also see previous footnote.

MICKLE, and wife, Rebecca HURST. The children included Sylvester at age 20, John W. age 16, and William age 12. See page 561 under Archibald E. ⁵¹⁻² Archibald E. MICKLE, b: before 1776, d: apparently before the 1840 Census (see third paragraph below for detail), m1: _____, b: before 1776; m2: 12 Apr 1807 in Montgomery County, Ohio to Elizabeth McMUN, b: 1790/1800.

Note that other name variants for MICKLE are MICKLES, MICHAEL, MICHAELS, MICHEL, MICHOL, MICHOLS, MICHOLL, MICHOLLS, and others.

See page 565 for an early MICKLE family that may be an ancestor of Archibald E. MICKLE, but NOTE THIS HAS NOT BEEN PROVEN.

Elizabeth McMUN Mickle was enumerated in the 1840 Census of Warren County, Indiana (page 155) and Archibald was absent. With her were (1) daughter age 20-29 [b: 1810/20], (1) daughter age 15-19 [b: 1820/25, apparently Prudence], and (1) son age under 5 [b: 1835/40]. This son was apparently the William MICKLE of the 1870 Census of Kingston, Madison County, Arkansas, who was b: 1834/5 - since the birth year and last name match perfectly - even though his place of birth in the 1870 Census was given as Illinois rather than Indiana. The author will include these three children with the three known children: Joseph, Prudence, and William S. Also enumerated on page 155 with Elizabeth was another William MICKLE (apparently, William S. MICKLE [b: 1819/20]). Her son, Joseph, was nearby on page 147.

Judging from the 1820 Census of Butler Township, Montgomery County, Ohio: Archibald E. MICKLE appears to be the Archibald of this family, but, like him, his wife of that census was also b: before 1776 (age 45 or older) - so she could not have been Elizabeth McMUN who was b: 1790/1800 per the 1840 Census. Also, at best, if the first wife had been born in 1775, she would have been age 60 by the time she bore the last child, William b: 1834/5 - which is extremely improbable. Also, one of the daughters was born 1794/1804, which is 3-13 years before Archibald's marriage to Elizabeth. Therefore the author added a probable first marriage for Archibald.

Paraphrasing a 1997 letter from descendant, Edith MICKLE Foster: "William's father, Archibald, is a missing link as to his origins. Every indication is Archibald was from New Jersey. That is where the Mickle family started. I have a diary written by Samuel MICKLE during 1792-1829. He lived at Woodbury, Gloucester County, New Jersey. The original is in a museum at Glassboro, New Jersey (see page 566 for this Samuel MICKLE [2]). He wrote of many Quakers leaving to settle the new lands of Ohio. One James Mickle made wagons and took them to Ohio to sell. His diary is very interesting as it tells so much about the early Quakers. Archibald Mickle's family helped to settle Camden, New Jersey. There is still a street there named after him, Mickle Street - now Mickle Boulevard. There is also a Mickle hospital."

Archibald and Elizabeth had at least the following eight children (probably not in birth order):

- ⁵²⁻¹ daughter MICKLE, b: 1794/1804 (per 1820 Census of Montgomery County, Ohio).
- ⁵²⁻² daughter MICKLE, b: 1805/10 (per 1820 Census of Montgomery County, Ohio).
- ⁵²⁻³ Joseph MICKLE, b: 1809/10 in Tennessee, was a farmer, was enumerated in the 1840 Census of Warren County, Indiana with his mother, m: Sarah A. _____, b: 1810/11 in New Jersey, had at least the following six children (from the 28 Sep 1850 Census of Warren Township, Warren County):
 - ⁵³⁻¹ Elizabeth MICKLE, b: 1835/6 in Warren County, Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻² Jonathan MICKLE, b: 1836/7 in Warren County, Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻³ Richard MICKLE, b: 1839/40 in Warren County, Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻⁴ Archibald MICKLE, b: 1841/2 in Warren County, Indiana, lived to adulthood (per Edith MICKLE Foster).
 - ⁵³⁻⁵ Eliza A. MICKLE, b: 1843/4 in Warren County, Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻⁶ Mary M. MICKLE, b: 1846/7 in Warren County, Indiana.
- ⁵²⁻⁴ Prudence MICKLE, b: 1813/14 [should have been "b: 1805/10" per the 1820 Census of Montgomery County, Ohio provided the birth year of "b: 1813/14" is correct and provided Prudence was home when the census was taken] in Ohio, m: 2 Dec 1830 in Warren County, Indiana to Jonathan COX, b: 1809/10 in Ohio, was a farmer, had eight children:
 - ⁵³⁻¹ John E. COX, b: 1830/31 in Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻² Eveline COX, b: 1832/3 in Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻³ Reuben H. COX, b: 1835/6 in Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻⁴ Andrew COX, b: 1837/8 in Indiana. In the 1850 Census of Warren County, Indiana, Andrew was enumerated in the household of his uncle, William S. MICKLE. Andrew may have simply been visiting his uncle's family.
 - ⁵³⁻⁵ Joseph M. COX, b: 1838/9 in Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻⁶ Sarah COX, b: 1843/4 in Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻⁷ Joanna COX, b: 1845/61 in Indiana.
 - ⁵³⁻⁸ William COX, b: 1848/9 in Indiana.

- ⁵²⁻⁵ son MICKLE, b: 1810/20 (per 1820 Census of Montgomery County, Ohio).
- ⁵²⁻⁶ William S. MICKLE, b: 1819/20 in probably Montgomery County, Ohio, was a farmer, was enumerated in the 1840 Census (page 155) of Warren County, Indiana, m: 10 Sep 1840 in Warren County to Rebecca HURST, b: 1819/20 in Ohio, had eleven children.

For the following (admittedly meager) reasons, the author believes that all these eleven children were born to this couple, as opposed to the younger brother of William S. MICKLE: another William MICKLE (b: 1834/5 in Illinois) and his wife, Elizabeth, with whom the last six of these children were enumerated in the 1870 Census of Madison County, Arkansas:

- ▶ Sylvester, John W., William (b: 1855/8), and Oidantha "Manda" were listed with William S. and Rebecca in 1860. Therefore, only the youngest two, George and Annie, are in question.
- ▶ The ages of the last four children (William 12, Manda 10, George 8, and Annie 7), show no break in this string of children, such as might have been the case if the latter two children were children of William and Elizabeth.
- ▶ The string of children stops abruptly with Annie b: 1862/3, when Elizabeth was at the prime child bearing of 27.
- ▶ The birth state of "Illinois" given for these children in the 1870 Census is obviously incorrect when compared with the 1860 Census of Iroquois County, Illinois for Sylvester, John, and William with their real parents, William S. and Rebecca. Illinois was likely the birthplace of William and Elizabeth, but not the children who were listed with them in 1870.

Rebecca was apparently the daughter of David HURST (b: 1786, d: 19 Jan 1850 at age 64) and Mary _____ (b: 1791, d: 19 Feb 1870 at age 78y 8m 28d, had about twelve children), both buried in Warren Township Cemetery, Warren County, Indiana. This apparent kinship is based on the marriage of William S. MICKLE to Rebecca HURST on 10 Sep 1840 in Warren County, Indiana: the presence in the 1840 Warren County Census of the household of William MICKLE at age 15-20 and his wife, Rebecca, at age 20-30 [with no children]; and the presence in the Warren County vicinity of David HURST and his wife, Mary _____, in the 1840 Census of Warren County [with (1) male child age 15 through 19, (1) male child age 5 through 9, and (1) female child age 5 through 9]. For information, David and Mary had another daughter, who died before the 1840 Census: Mahala HURST, d: 19 Sep 1836 at age 14y 9m 7d, buried in Kickapoo Cemetery, Warren County, Indiana.

The eleven children of William S. and Rebecca were:

- ⁵³⁻¹ Mary Jane MICKLE, b: 1840/41 in Indiana
- ⁵³⁻² Elizabeth A. MICKLE, b: 1842/3 in Indiana.
- ⁵³⁻³ Archibald MICKLE, b: 1845 in Indiana, d: 20 Sep 1845 at age 2m 2d, buried in Kickapoo Cemetery, Warren County, Indiana. Note that the Kickapoo Cemetery data from page 169 of a compilation of cemetery data of unknown name and date (from Edith MICKLE Foster in 1997) has "d: 20 Sep 1846".
- ⁵³⁻⁴ Sarah A. MICKLE, b: 1846 in Indiana, d: 8 Mar 1849 at age 2y 5m 7d, buried in Kickapoo Cemetery, Warren County, Indiana.

⁵³⁻⁵ Sylvester H. MICKLE, b: 1849/50 in Indiana, died or left the family before the 1880 Census of Newton County, Arkansas, m: 12 Nov 1870 in Newton County, Arkansas to Ester NEWBERRY, who had three children with Sylvester and two more in her second marriage to _____ FEDDERS. See page 534 under Ester NEWBERRY for detail, the following five children, and their descendants:

Sarah E. "Sadie" MICKLE Duncan	1872/3-after 1910
William Newton MICKLE Sr	1876-1945
Sidney W. MICKLE	1877/8-_____
Sid Logan FEDDERS	_____ - _____
Ed FEDDERS	_____ - _____

⁵³⁻⁶ Amanda MICKLE, b: 1851/2 in Indiana.

⁵³⁻⁷ John W. MICKLE, b: 1853/4 in Indiana, d: 1894, m: 22 Apr 1888 in Johnson County, Arkansas to Mary Ellen ROSENBERRY, b: 1857/8 in Mississippi, d: 1942, both buried in Hardgraves Cemetery, Johnson County. Their marriage license gave John's home as Hunt Township and Mary's as Coal Hill Township. In 1997, there was a town of Hunt located six miles north of the town of Coal Hill in Johnson County.

In the 1900 Census of Johnson County, Arkansas, Mary and her three children were living in the household of her brother, Frank ROSENBERRY.

Mary m2: 10 Sep 1900 to James W. BOYER.

Mary and John had three daughters:

⁵⁴⁻¹ Pearl MICKLE, b: 1889/90.

⁵⁴⁻² Bonnie MICKLE, b: 1891/2.

⁵⁴⁻³ Anna MICKLE, b: 1893/4.

⁵³⁻⁸ William MICKLE, b: 1855/8 in Indiana [b: 1855/6 per the 1860 Census, but b: 1857/8 per the 1870 Census].

⁵³⁻⁹ Oidantha "Manda" MICKLE, b: 1859 in Indiana.

"Oidantha" and "b: 1859" was from the 1860 Census of Iroquois County, Illinois for William S. MICKLE (b: 1819/20 in Ohio) and wife, Rebecca. "Manda" was from the 1870 Census of Madison County, Arkansas for the household of the younger brother of William S. MICKLE: William MICKLE (b: 1834/5 in Illinois) and wife, Elizabeth (see four paragraphs below).

⁵³⁻¹⁰ George MICKLE, b: 1861/2 in Indiana.

⁵³⁻¹¹ Annie MICKLE, b: 1862/3 in Indiana.

⁵²⁻⁷ daughter MICKLE, b: 1820/25

- 52-8 William MICKLE, b: 1834/5 in Illinois, farmer, m: Elizabeth _____, b: 1835/6 in Illinois, were enumerated in 1870 with the last six children of his older brother,

As noted on page 561 under Archibald and Elizabeth McMUN Mickle, the author suspects this is the William of the 1870 Census of Kingston, Madison County, Arkansas - since his age and last name match perfectly - even though his place of birth in the 1870 Census was given as Illinois rather than Indiana, where his parents mostly lived and even though it means two children named "William" in the same family, as sometimes happens. This second William probably had a different middle name (but his middle name is unknown). The probable reason for the Illinois birth place report of the six children is that they (with their parents, William S. and Rebecca HURST - and, perhaps, William b: 1834/5) lived in Illinois during the 1860 Census, before being taken to Arkansas, where they were found in 1870.

End of the Archibald E. MICKLE family, including his grandson, Sylvester H. MICKLE, husband of Ester NEWBERRY

An early MICKLE family (referenced from page 561), who were POSSIBLY ancestors of Archibald E. MICKLE - but THIS HAS NOT BEEN PROVEN. Obviously, some intervening generations are missing:

- 1-2 Archibald MICHAEL [MICKLE] Sr, b: about 1660, "a Quaker and a cooper by trade from Lisbrun, in the southern part of County Antrim, Ireland [there is much more detail in the book First Emigrant Settlers]", d: 1706 (Will proven 14 May 1706) in Newton Township, Gloucester County, New Jersey, m1: Isabel _____, d: 1718, had three children; m2: 25 Dec 1686 to Sarah WATTS, d: about 1727 and willed property to three sons (Archibald, James, and Joseph), had seven children.

Archibald had a great-great-great grandson. Isaac MICKLE Sr, b: 18 Oct 1822 at "Walnut Grove", Newton Township, Gloucester County (this portion became Camden County in 1844), New Jersey, d: 1 Dec 1855 at Camden, Camden County of tuberculosis. m: 26 Jan 1847 in Philadelphia to Clara TYNDALE (b: 17 Jul 1827, d: 10 Oct 1910), had four children: Isaac Jr (b: 2 Nov 1847, d: 15 Dec 1850 of scarlet fever), Rebecca (b: 10 Oct 1848), John (b: 29 Apr 1850, d: 22 Dec 1850 of scarlet fever), Clara (b: 4 Nov 1851). Isaac Sr wrote a diary, The Diary of Isaac Mickle. 1837-1845, published 1977 by University of Pennsylvania Press. Isaac Sr was a "lawyer, editor, historian, politician, musician, translator, inventor, and diarist." Isaac Sr was the son of Isaac MICKLE (b: 1791, d: 22 Aug 1823 of tuberculosis) and Rebecca MORGAN (1791-1875. Rebecca moved in with her brother-in-law, Captain John Wilkins MICKLE, 1793-1861, who gave up the sea to help raise his brother's son).

The combined ten children of Archibald, Isabel, and Sarah were:

- 2-1 John MICKLE [1], b: 31 Nov 1678 (an older style calendar, when November had 31 days), d: 1744, m: 8 Sep 1704 to Hannah COOPER. John [1] was survived by Hannah and the following four children:

- 3-1 William MICKLE, m: 1732 to Sarah WRIGHT.
- 3-2 John MICKLE [2], d: 1765, m: 1741 to Mary STOCKDALE of Burlington County, New Jersey.
- 3-3 Samuel MICKLE [1], d: 1748, m: 1742 to Letitia MATLACK, had at least one son.

"Samuel was one of the first settlers in the village of Haddonfield where he bought a lot next to the tavern property and built a dwelling on it. Timothy MATLACK, a shopkeeper and the father of Letitia, sold Samuel the property".

After the death of Samuel, Letitia m2: 1750 to Thomas HINCHMAN Sr, who had previously been married to Sarah CLEMENT, d: 1750. Letitia and Thomas had six children.

Samuel [1] and Letitia had at least one son:

and
End of the BARKER - BINAM - DOTSON - INMAN families

Continuing with the family of Elijah NEWBURY and Priscilla HATFIELD, as referenced on page 39 under his parents, Stephen NEWBURY [Sr] and Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS:

⁵²⁻³ Elijah NEWBURY, b: 1803/4 in North Carolina (1860 Census has South Carolina, which is believed by the author to be an error), was a United Baptist preacher and a farmer, d: after 1870 Census in Newton County¹, Arkansas, m: Priscilla HATFIELD, b: 1805/6 (1807/8 per the 1850 census) in Tennessee, d: before the 1860 Census. Lorene TAYLOR Gaines reported that she found Elijah listed in Overton County, Tennessee on a microfilm of the 1820 Census (but not on the printed census). He was listed with his own family in the 1830 and 1840 Censuses of Overton County. They moved from Tennessee to Newton County, Arkansas in 1849/50 and were enumerated there in the 1850 and 1860 Censuses.

The Overton County, Tennessee 1836 Tax List showed Elijah with 115 acres of land. His mother, Sarah CHAMBERS Newbury, had 125 acres. His brother Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] had 30 acres.

Frances FARLEY Crossland reported that, in the 1862 tax records of Newton County, Arkansas, Elijah owned the following 40-acre piece of land: the Southwest quarter of the Southwest quarter of Section 11 of Township 16, Range 22 West. This land is 7 miles west-northwest of Jasper or 2.5 miles west-northwest of Mount Sherman and is bisected on a north-south line by the Buffalo River. At the south edge of the property, Indian Creek flows into the Buffalo River from the south. Elijah was not in the same tax records of 1868. This land became part of the Buffalo National River in 1972. The 1/4-mile of the river within Elijah's former property contains the "dreaded Grey Rock", which is the site of the most canoe upsets on the river.

From the 1830 and 1840 Censuses of Overton County, Tennessee and from the 1850 and 1860 Censuses of Osage Township, Newton County, Arkansas, they had the following fourteen children:

⁵³⁻¹ Sarah E. NEWBERRY, b: 1823/4 in Tennessee, was still at home in 1860, when she was age 36 and "insane" per the census remark.

¹ source: "in Newton County, Arkansas" was from Helen Loberta CONNER Youngblood in 1998. Loberta (b: 31 Aug 1935 at Winnfield, Winn Parish, Louisiana to Velvert Arvia CONNER Sr and Helen Loberta HANNEGAN) m: 13 Jun 1954 at Bellingham, Whatcom County, Washington to Donzel Ardeth "Don" YOUNGBLOOD, a son of Harley Otto YOUNGBLOOD and Beulah Phoebe FANNING. Harley was a brother of Alfred Benjamin YOUNGBLOOD who married Gladys May NEWBERRY (see below). Loberta first supplied data to Frances FARLEY Crossland in Oct 1996, who furnished it to the author. In Nov 1997, Loberta and Don moved from Salem, Oregon to American Fork, Utah. In Sep 1998, Loberta furnished the author with their data on the descendants of Elijah NEWBURY, which consisted mostly of the descendants of Thomas Marion NEWBERRY. Their information was from International Genealogical Index records, 1900 Census of Boone County, Arkansas, other research, interviews, correspondents, and recollections. Loberta and Don had three children: Ellen Dee, Eric Russell, and Sheryl Loberta.

- ⁵³⁻² George NEWBERRY, b: 1827/8 in Tennessee (county unknown to this author), m: Nancy G. _____, b: 1832/3 in Tennessee. In the 1860 Census, George was the town mechanic at Jasper, Newton County, Arkansas.

Judging from the birth of their first child at Jasper, George and Nancy had migrated from Tennessee to Arkansas by 1852.

The author is assuming that this family, from the 1860 Census of Newton County,
Arkansas, belongs in this group of children, but only infers this from Elijah's two unnamed sons b: 1825-30 of the 1830 Census; the name, birth year, and the move by 1852 from Tennessee to Arkansas of George whereas Elijah had migrated 1849/50; and the fact that the children of the alternative family of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] (1802-1870) were well known to many descendants, whereas those of Elijah were not well known.

George and Nancy had at least two children (per the 1860 Census):

- ⁵⁴⁻¹ Jackson NEWBERRY, b: about 1852 at Jasper, Newton County, Arkansas.

- ⁵⁴⁻² Elizabeth NEWBERRY, b: about 1858 at Jasper, Newton County, Arkansas.

- ⁵³⁻³ Stephen C. NEWBERRY, b: 1827/8 in Overton County, Tennessee, m: Mary _____, b: 1827/8 in Tennessee.

Judging from the births of their children, Stephen and Mary had moved from Overton
County, Tennessee to Illinois by 1850/1, to Missouri by 1852/5, and to Newton County, Arkansas by 1858/9.

The author is assuming that this family, from the 1860 Census of Newton County,
Arkansas, belongs in this group of children, but only infers this from Elijah's two unnamed sons b: 1825-30 of the 1830 Census; the name, birth year, and the move from Overton County, Tennessee to Arkansas of Stephen (via Illinois and Missouri during about 1850-1858) whereas Elijah had migrated 1849/50; from the names of Stephen's children; and the fact that the children of the alternative family of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] (1802-1870) were well known to many descendants, whereas those of Elijah were not well known.

Stephen and Mary had five children (per the 1860 Census):

- ⁵⁴⁻¹ Francis Marion NEWBERRY, b: 1846/7 in Tennessee, m: 26 Oct 1870 in Carroll
County, Arkansas to Sereny Elizabeth "Raney" PHILLIPS, b: Apr 1851 at Alton (?), Illinois, d: 22 Apr 1906 in Arkansas, had four children with Marion. Sereny m2: Michael Mitchel INGLE Jr. who had at least three sons from a previous marriage and had four more children with Sereny. See page 616 for detail, the following combined eleven children, and their descendants:

Margaret NEWBERRY Wallace 1871-before 1957
Martha M. NEWBERRY Ingle Rysted 1873-1953

Rellie NEWBERRY Mobley	____-before 1957
David INGLE	____-1900/5

Thomas David "Tom" INGLE	1887-1982
Ida Mae INGLE	1890-____
Malissie "Lissie" INGLE Crabtree	1892-1968

- 54-2 Elijah NEWBERRY, b: 1850/51 in Illinois.
- 54-3 Priscilla NEWBERRY, b: 1852/5 in Missouri, m: 20 Apr 1872 in Boone County, Arkansas to John S. McGREW, b: 1836, had eight children:
- 55-1 Mary O. McGREW, b: 1874 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 55-2 William E. McGREW, b: 1875 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 55-3 Alberta McGREW, twin, b: 1878 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 55-4 Brell (?) P. McGREW, twin, b: 1878 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 55-5 Rosella McGREW, b: Aug 1880 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 55-6 Lewis F. McGREW, b: May 1886 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 55-7 Margaret B. McGREW, b: Mar 1888 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 55-8 Lillie E. McGREW, b: Nov 1890 in Boone County, Arkansas.
- 54-4 Nancy J. NEWBERRY, b: 1855/6 in Missouri.
- 54-5 G.A. NEWBERRY, b: 1858/9 in Arkansas.
- 53-4 Mahalia Priscilla NEWBERRY, b: 1830 in Tennessee.

Quoting Frances FARLEY Crossland, "Priscilla is listed [as a "domestic"] with her father, Elijah, in the 1860 Census with the age of 28. In 1870 there is a Priscilla Morgan in Elijah's household with the age of 39. This is a strong indication (but not conclusive) that these two individuals are the same Priscilla, which further implies that she had married _____ MORGAN."

In the 1830 Census of Overton County, Tennessee (see on page 732), the household of Elijah had, among others, (1) female under age 5 who was apparently Mahalia. If so, she was b: 1825/30 (not after 1830). Discounting the age of 28 (to age 29) in the 1860 Census coupled with the other two indications implies that she was born 1830.

- 53-5 unknown son NEWBERRY, b: 1830/35 in Tennessee (source: 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee [see on page 737], except the birth state was implied from the 1850 Census of Newton County, Arkansas).
- 53-6 unknown daughter NEWBERRY, b: 1830/35 in Tennessee (source: 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee [see on page 737], except the birth state was implied from the 1850 Census).
- 53-7 unknown daughter NEWBERRY, b: 1830/35 in Tennessee (source: 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee [see on page 737], except the birth state was implied from the 1850 Census).
- 53-8 unknown son NEWBERRY, b: 1835/40 in Tennessee (source: 1840 Census of Overton County, Tennessee [see on page 737], except the birth state was implied from the 1850 Census).
- 53-9 Rhoda NEWBERRY [2] ("Roda" in some documents), b: about 1838 in Tennessee [b: 1834/5 per 1850 census, b: 1838/9 per 1860 census, b: 1839/40 per 1880 census, b: May 1838 per 1900 census, b: 1831/32 per 1910 census, b: 1835/8 per Newton County, Arkansas marriage record of 1875, b: 1838 per gravestone], d: 1928.

The history of Rhoda NEWBERRY [2] is recorded on page 295 under Armilda J. NEWBERRY Howerton, who followed Rhoda as the second wife of John HOWERTON. Some additional details about Rhoda's marriage to Young Thomas LOGAN Sr are recorded on page 447 under Malinda NEWBERRY who married, James McConnell "Jim" LOGAN, a son of Young Thomas LOGAN Sr. Rhoda's history was based on the following records, all (except the following church minutes) furnished to the author by John Jay SROKA of Murray, Utah in 1997:

- ▶ Minutes of the Newton County, Arkansas Liberty Baptist Church¹, which on 9 Sep 1854 "a charge was brought against sister Rhoda Newbury (daughter of brother Eligah Newbury) for bringing forth an illegitimate child" and on 7 Oct 1854 "Excluded hir" from the church. On 7 Feb 1857, she rejoined the church as Rhody Howerton.
- ▶ Newton County marriage records: "... of Matrimony between Y.T. Logan [Young Thomas LOGAN Sr] aged 61 years and Rhoda Newbery aged 37 (or 39 ?) years ...". The marriage was held on 15 Aug 1875 by John Sumpter, Justice of the Peace.

Amos and Nancy were listed in the 1910 Census [Soundex] of Boone County, Arkansas (he as age 63 and she as age 60).

Amos and Nancy had seven children:

⁵⁴⁻¹ William M. "Bill" NEWBERRY, b: Apr 1868 in Arkansas, m: 7 Feb 1893 in Boone County, Arkansas to Sarah A. WILSON, b: 1873 in Missouri, lived at Hilltop community, Boone County, Arkansas, had eight children:

End of the family of Elijah NEWBURY and Priscilla HATFIELD

¹ conflicting data (which may be correct?): "d: 25 Jan 1926 at Laytonville, Mendocino County, California" per Loberta CONNER Youngblood in 1998

Continuing with the family of Francis Marion NEWBERRY, Sereny Elizabeth "Raney" PHILLIPS, and Michael Mitchel INGLE Jr - as referenced on page 607 under Marion's parents, Stephen C. NEWBERRY (b: 1827/8 in Overton County, Tennessee) and Mary _____. Note that this Stephen C. NEWBERRY was a son of Elijah NEWBURY and Priscilla HATFIELD:

⁵⁴⁻¹ Francis Marion NEWBERRY¹, b: 1846/7 in Tennessee, "lived near Lebanon, Laclede County, Missouri and later near Salem, Fulton County, Arkansas" per Robert Lee CRABTREE Sr in his 17 Nov 1972 letter (see page 631), d: "in south central Taney County, Missouri, buried in Brittain Cemetery near the former Blackwell Ferry which he operated on the White River at the mouth of Cedar Creek²" per Sue HENDERSON Carlile letter (see page 628).

Marion m: 26 Oct 1870 (date of license was 17 Oct 1870) at Osage, Carroll County, Arkansas (by his grandfather, Elijah) to Sereny³ Elizabeth "Raney" PHILLIPS, b: Apr 1851 (per Sue HENDERSON Carlile group sheet, but b: 1839/40 per the marriage record to second husband, Michael Mitchel INGLE) at Alton⁴, Illinois, d: 22 Apr 1906 at Frances⁵, Arkansas which was perhaps in the area of Harrison, Boone County, Arkansas, because she reportedly went to that

¹ During 1996-9, Donald Robert COOK, husband of descendant Beverly Jewell MOORE, furnished the author with his writeups of the descendants of Francis Marion NEWBERRY. Aside from personal information about his own descendants, he ascribed most of his information to the book, Tales of the Bull Creek Country by John H. Mitchell and to data from descendant, Sue HENDERSON Carlile, with whom the author also corresponded. He sent this author copies of two of her genealogical letters; and he also furnished a copy of a 17 Nov 1972 genealogical letter of descendant, Robert Lee CRABTREE Sr. He furnished his re-write of the 1957 obituary of descendant, Charles Monroe NEWBERRY. Some of his information came from his interviews with his wife's half-brother, Ronald McCUTCHEON, and other relatives. Donald furnished descendant charts and family group sheets which he had prepared from these and other sources. Don he made estimations of data such as "probable" dates of birth, marriage, and death based on "average life spans", etc. - which this author attempted to exclude and allow the reader to make his own estimates. So, the reader is cautioned that he may well find items in this data that are questionable when compared with primary records. Where possible, the author has attempted to provide verbatim copies of records.

² Author's note: A community of Cedar creek, population 25 in 1986, was located eight miles northwest of Protem and twenty miles by road from Protem.

³ "Cereny" in the marriage record to Marion area to work at a hotel and restaurant or boarding house, had four children with Marion. Since Sereny remarried in 1884, it is apparent that Marion either died or left the family before 1884 (one grandson reported the latter).

⁴ In the 12 Jan 1993 letter from Sue HENDERSON Carlile to Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, Sue stated that children Lottie, Martin Granville, and Sereny were b: Alton, Illinois but John Jay SROKA said the family was in Union County, Illinois in the 1850 Census. There is an "Alto Pass" in Union County which Sue may have mistaken for Alton, which is in Madison County. It is also possible that both Sue and John were correct.

The following is a 12 Jan 1993 letter from Sue HENDERSON Carlile to Susan NEWBERRY Davidson (verbatim):

12 JANUARY 1993
TAHLEQUAH, OK.

DEAR SUSAN DAVIDSON,
THE CARROLL COUNTY HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF BERRYVILLE, ARKANSAS SENT ME YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS SAYING WE MIGHT BE WORKING ON THE SAME FAMILIES. SURE HOPE SO--- BECAUSE IT SEEMS I HAVE HIT THAT SPOT ONCE MORE AND NEED SOMETHING TO GET SOMEWHERE.

MY GREAT GRANDFATHER GEORGE WASHINGTON PHILLIPS (CIRCA) 1798, (BUT IN THE 1860 CENSUS IT SAID HE WAS 56) ON HIS DISCHARGE PAPERS IT SAID HE WAS 45 YEARS OLD IN 1847, THE 1860 CENSUS SAID HE WAS BORN IN SOUTH CAROLINA, HE MARRIED MATILDA NEWBERRY (NOVEMBER 5 1812)¹ TENNESSEE KNOX COUNTY², IN OCTOBER 1855, IN OSAGE CARROLL COUNTY ARKANSAS.

THEY LEFT OSAGE WITH ONE OF HIS BROTHERS AND WENT TO ILLINOIS. THERE THEY ENLISTED IN THE 2ND ILLINOIS VOLS. AND WENT TO THE MEXICAN WAR. MUST HAVE BEEN ALMOST OVER BECAUSE THEY WERE DISCHARGED IN SANTA³ NEW MEXICO SIX MONTHS LATER. THEN THEY CAME BACK TO OSAGE TO LIVE. WHILE IN ILLINOIS THEY HAD THREE CHILDREN:
LOTTA 1845 ALTON⁴ ILLINOIS CALLED "LOTTIE"

- ¹ Matilda NEWBERRY, b: 5 Nov 1812, m: Oct 1855 in Osage, Carroll County, Arkansas to George Washington PHILLIPS
 - ² Susan NEWBERRY Davidson called Sue Carlile after receiving the 12 Jan 1993 letter and noted the following data from Sue: Matilda NEWBERRY, b: 5 Nov 1812 in Knox County, Tennessee or possibly Jefferson County instead of Knox County.
 - ³ probably meant: "Santa Fe"
 - ⁴ In the 12 Jan 1993 letter from Sue HENDERSON Carlile to Susan NEWBERRY Davidson, Sue stated that children Lottie, Martin Granville, and Sereny were b: Alton, Illinois but John Jay SROKA said the family was in Union County, Illinois in the 1850 Census. There is an "Alto Pass" in Union County which Sue may have mistaken for Alton, which is in Madison County. It is also possible that both Sue and John were correct.

MARTEN¹ GRANVILLE 1847 ALTON ILLINOIS
 SERENY ELIZABETH 1851 ALTON ILLINOIS CALLED "RANY"

SEEMS SOON AFTER SERENY WAS BORN THEY WENT BACK TO OSAGE
 BECAUSE THEY HAD ANOTHER THREE CHILDREN IN OSAGE:

PERLINA	1853	OSAGE ²
EASTEN	1857	OSAGE	CALLED "AUNT HET"
CHARLES W.	1859	OSAGE	CALLED "CHARLIE"

HE RECEIVED 160 ACRES FOR BEING A VETERAN, IN OSAGE. THE PAPERS STATED THAT WAS WHY SOME OF THEIR CHILDREN WAS BORN
 BEFORE THEY WERE MARRIED.³

WHEN VISITING THE AREA, I TALKED TO AN ELDERLY LADY WHO SAID SHE KNEW CHARLIE, WELL HAD GONE TO SCHOOL WITH HIS CHILDREN, AND HAD BEEN TOLD STORIES OF CHARLIE'S DAD.
 SHE SAID THAT G.W. PHILLIPS HAD BEEN SHOT IN 1864, BY BUSHWACKERS, BUT THAT CHARLIE HAD SAID THAT HE WAS STANDING
 NEXT TO HIM WHEN THEY SHOT HIM AND THAT THEY WERE KNOWN MEN.
 THAT IT STARTED A FUED [sic] THAT LASTED THROUGH TWO GENERATIONS.

SERENY ELIZABETH ONE OF THE ONES BORN IN ILLINOIS IS MY GREAT GRANDMOTHER. SHE FIRST MARRION NEWBERRY⁴ IN 1870 IN OSAGE. I DONT KNOW IF THIS A RELATIVE OR NOT. TO THEM WAS BORN FOUR CHILDREN:

MARGARET	1871
MARTHA	1873
CHARLES MONROE
RELLIE

¹ The author found other references to the spelling "Martin Granville" and used it. He used the name "Granville", therefore: "Martin Granville PHILLIPS [Sr]"

² Osage, Carroll County, Arkansas

³ According to data transcribed by Donald Robert COOK from The Senator from Arkansas, William Riley Phillips and His Phillips Family by Hugh W. Reeves and provided to the author in 1998, there is another reason "why some of their children was born before they were married": the first nine children were by a first wife, _____, and only the last two, Easten "Het" and Charles Washington, were by Matilda. But this whole issue should be left for further data to decide.

⁴ author's interpretation: "She first married Francis Marion Newberry"

A GRANDSON TOLD ME THAT MARION AND SERENY RUN A FERRY ON BULL SHOALS AREA, CLOSE TO PRTOEM¹, MO. SAID THAT MARION DIED OF THE GRIP², AND WAS BURIED THERE CLOSE TO THE RIVER IN A CEMETERY. ANOTHER GRANDSON SAID THAT HE RUN OFF AND LEFT THEM. SO, I DONT KNOW.

IN 1884 SERENY AGAIN MARRIED TO AN INGLE³, MICHAEL MITCHEL INGLE, AGAIN IN OSAGE, ARKANSAS THAT IS WHERE I COME IN, MY GRANDFATHER WAS THEIR SON.

WHEN I WAS IN OSAGE I WAS TOLD THAT MY G. GRANDMOTHER WAS AN INDIAN, SO THE FAMILY DIDNT HAVE MUCH TO DO WITH THEM. MAYBE THAT IS WHY SO MUCH TROUBLE FINDING ANYTHING? HOPE YOU CAN MAKE SOMETHING OUT OF THIS. I CAN TELL IT BETTER THAN I CAN WRITE IT.

HOPING TO HEAR FROM YOU SOON. I PLAN ANOTHER TRIP TO OSAGE, AND BERRYVILL⁴ AS SOON AS THE WEATHER PERMITS.

SUE CARLILE
TAHLEQUAH, OK 74464⁵

George W. Phillips

*I have the Papers where he was in the war - when he recieved [sic] his land and Matilda recieved [sic] his pension -
I have most marriage licenses for these children named.*

Sereny m2: 22 May 1884 in Carroll County, Arkansas to Michael Mitchel INGLE Jr, b: Jun 1833 (per Sue HENDERSON Carlile group sheet, but b: 1835/6 per marriage record) in Miami County, Ohio, was a farmer, had three children (Mike, Tom, and Malissie), and adopted another, Ida Mae. Michael had been married twice before and had at least three sons: David, Albert, and William. Per Sue HENDERSON Carlile, Sereny and Michael were living in Washington Township, Boone County, Arkansas in the 1900 Census. Per Donald Robert COOK data in 1998: "Michael enlisted 17 Jan 1865 in Company C, 193rd Regiment, Ohio Volunteers. He had brown eyes, black hair, and dark complexion."

Michael Jr was the son of Michael Mitchel INGLE Sr and Rachael HANKS.

The eleven children of Marion, Sereny, Michael, and Michael's previous wife were:

RYSTED, b: 2 Jun 1861, d: 12 Jun 1948 [birth and death dates from gravestone] at or near Chestnut Ridge community, buried in Schupbach Cemetery beside Martha, had a son, Ole.

David was a son of Michael Mitchel INGLE Jr and _____, one of his two wives before Sereny. David was the step brother of Martha.

The combined two children of Martha, David, and William were:

- ⁵⁶⁻¹ Laura S. INGLE, b: 17 Mar 1901, d: 18 Jan 1925 [birth and death dates from gravestone] at or near Chestnut Ridge community, Christian County, Missouri, buried there in Schupbach Cemetery, never married.

² Location of Chestnut Ridge: About 20 miles south of Springfield is the town of Spokane. Just south of Spokane is the junction of U.S. Highway 160 and State Highway 176. Traveling southeast on 176 from that junction, it is 3 miles to Schupbach Cemetery and one additional mile to the Chestnut Ridge Post Office, with a Baptist Church behind the Post Office - the only other community building there in Oct 1996.

BLACKSMITH¹, b: 1881 in Arkansas, d: 11 Nov 1932 in Arkansas, had nine children, m2: 8 Mar 1940 at Harrison, Madison County, Arkansas to Georgie TUCKER, b: in Arkansas, d: in Arkansas, had been married previously to _____ PATE with whom she had a son, Wandell. Georgie later had another son with Charles: Leon.

Charles' funeral service was at Salem Methodist Church. The pallbearers were Noel, Rodney Lee, Lloyd, and Charles SMITH, J.C. McLAIN, Jerold D. LaFEVERs, and Don NEWBERRY. The NEWBERRY relationship of Don is unknown to the author - as no other Don nor Donald NEWBERRY occurs in this material².

Lula was the daughter of Peter BLACKSMITH³, b: 1834/5 in "GRMY PRWR") and Jennie _____ (b: 1844/5 in Missouri). During the 1910 Census [Soundex] of Fulton County, Arkansas, they were living in the household of their daughter and son-in-law, Lula and Charles.

Information from the author: The 1910 Arkansas Census Index [Soundex] has the following verbatim information for this family: "Enumerated in Fulton County, Charley M. NEWBERRY (head of household, white, age 33, born in Oklahoma), Lula (wife, age 30, born in Arkansas), Fie⁴ (son, age 11, born in Arkansas), Minnie (daughter, age 8, born in Arkansas), Cecil (daughter, age 6, born in Arkansas), Vena (daughter, age 2, born in Arkansas), Peter BLATESMITH (father-in-law, age 75 [yields: b: 1834/5], born in "GRMY PRWR" [assumed by the author to mean "Germany, Province: Württemberg", which is in southwest Germany and was a kingdom during 1813-1918], and Jennie (mother-in-law, age 65, born in Missouri)".

Further information from the author, that may have no bearing on this family at all, except they were NEWBERRYs living in the same county: The 1910 Arkansas Census Index [Soundex] has only one other NEWBERRY family enumerated in Fulton County as follows: "Enumerated in Fulton County, Henry L. NEWBERRY (head of household, white, age 43, born in Missouri), Sarah A. (wife, age 38, born in Arkansas), Francis E. (daughter, age 17, born in Arkansas), Everitt F. (son, age 13, born in Arkansas), Lacy G. (daughter, age 9, born in Arkansas), Alice C. (daughter, age 6, born in Arkansas), Harmon L. (son, age 2, born in Arkansas), Nevada (daughter, age "NR", born in Arkansas), William H. (father, age 70, born in Missouri), Francis M. (mother, age 62, born in Missouri).

The combined eleven children of Charles, Lula, Georgie, and _____ PATE were:

⁵⁶⁻¹ infant NEWBERRY, born and died: 8 Mar 1898 in Arkansas.

¹ spelled "BLATESMITH" in the 1910 Census [Soundex] of Fulton County, Arkansas

Beverly was adopted at birth by Vera Mae Moore (no known kinship to Beverly's father, another MOORE). Beverly never knew her real parents until 1995 when her doctor had her records opened due to medical need. She and her husband, Donald, subsequently visited her mother who was in extremely bad health and died a few months later.

Donald was the son of Cyrus W. COOK and Lucille Jenny RYNEARSON.

During 1996-9, Donald furnished family information to the author, which finally resulted in this entire section on Francis Marion NEWBERRY. For detail, see the footnote which is attached to Francis Marion NEWBERRY on page 616.

"Tom was supposed to be a minister and living somewhere in Oklahoma", quoting the 17 Nov 1972 letter of Robert Lee CRABTREE Sr (see page 631).

The only child known to the author of Tom and Ethel was:

⁵⁶⁻¹ Matelene Louise INGLE, m1: Virgle Lee VICARS, d: 1935. After the death of Virgle, Matelene had a daughter, Sue, with Wilbur Walker HENDERSON. Matelene m2: Edward REMER, had six or seven children.

Sue was given the VICARS surname until she changed it to HENDERSON about 1987. She was reared by her grandparents, Tom and Ethel, until their divorce and then by Ethel alone.

Sue furnished most of the data on the family of Francis Marion NEWBERRY, Sereny Elizabeth PHILLIPS, and Michael Mitchel INGLES Jr to Susan NEWBERRY Davidson and to Donald Robert COOK - who both furnished portions of it to the author. Sue furnished some data directly to the author in 1997-8, and Sue was furnished all this text for review.

The following undated letter (but an apparent enclosure in the letter was dated 12 Jan 1993 and the day the copy was sent to the author was 6 Sep 96) was written by Sue HENDERSON Carlile to Leon (apparently her uncle, Leon NEWBERRY - see on page 625). It is quoted verbatim, but items in brackets are the author's:

Dear Leon,

Sorry I've been so long but first it was searching & visiting, then the Holidays more running and searching and digging. Most of this I have proof, some I have been told, some I've read, seems I should know Ark & Missouri back roads well. Haven't been able to find where Sereny Elizabeth [PHILLIPS] & Michael¹ is buried. Found them in Washington Township Boone County, Ark, 1900 Census. I went to Boone County But couldn't find any whereabouts of Washington Township. She died in 1906 so she wouldn't be on 1910 [Census] and couldn't find him either, guess he moved away or they started calling it by the name of the town. As of now I am at a loss or standstill Keep hoping for more. Mabey [sic] next month can make another trip to either Harrison or Northern Arkansas one.

Until next time,

"Marion Newberry was born in Ireland² came to America, I understand, his family lived in Texas. He met and married Sereny Elizabeth Phillips a full blood Indian³ and to this union was born four children [see page 617 for the 12 Jan 1993 letter from Sue HENDERSON Carlile to Susan NEWBERRY Davidson for the four children: "Margaret, Martha, Charles Monroe, and Rellie"]. leave the area. They sold everything and bought a wagon and headed North. Marion & Sereny traded their wagon & team for the a ferry at the mouth of Cedar Creek¹. It was called Cedar Creek Ferry at that time. There was a house there for them to live in. The foundation of it is still standing. this was in 1879 to 1882. It is now Bull Shoals Lake and the name was changed in 1906 to Blackwell Ferry. A Monroe Blackwell owned it then. He Marion operated the ferry and Sereny Elizabeth sold food to the passengers on the ferry & Boats comming [sic] up the White River. Mr John B. Newberry
Route #1
Strafford, Missouri

Dear Mr. Newberry:

I am sincerely seeking Newberry family members who may be able to help me learn more about this branch of my family.

My paternal Grandmother is Malissie Ingle. Her Mother was Raney Elizabeth, nee Phillips.

The first marriage of Raney Elizabeth Phillips was to Marion Newberry, I believe somewhere in Arkansas.

Their children were: Rillie, who married a James Mobley; Charles, who is reportedly buried at Salem, Arkansas; Margaret, who married a Wes Wallace and together ran a boarding house in Tulsa, Okla.; and Martha, who was married twice.

Martha was the widow of David Ingle. They had a daughter Laura who died at the age of 24 during 1927. Her second marriage was to William Rysted. They had a son Ole M. who now lives in Chestnut Ridge, Missouri. Martha, William, and Laura are believed to be buried in a small cemetery¹ near Christian Center², Missouri.

Perhaps with your knowledge of your family history you may be able to assist me with my genealogical and historical family research.

The consideration and cooperation you may extend is most appreciated. Thank you.

Respectfully,

Robert L. Crabtree

Robert wrote the following verbatim 1972 genealogical inquiry to a "Mrs. Reavis" about the Newberry, Phillips, and Ingle families [Mrs. Dorothea Reavis lived at West Plains, Missouri in 1980 and 1990, which were dates on two of her family group sheets: for Jonas POWERS and Robert BRANNON, and in 1996 when the author called her]:

17 November 1972
Topeka, Kansas

Dear Mrs. Reavis:

I recently corresponded with Mrs. Grace Hunt of Salem, Arkansas, who gave me your address, hopefully that you may help me with Newberry family genealogy and history.

My research interest on the Newberry ancestry comes from my paternal Grandmother's Mother Raney Elizabeth Phillips.

She was first married to Marion Newberry. They lived in Missouri near Lebanon and later in Arkansas near Salem.

Their children were: Rillie¹; Charles; Martha; and Margaret. There may be others, but these are the only ones I have been able to learn of.

Rillie married a James Mobley; Charles was married twice and is believed to be buried at Salem; Margaret married a Wes Wallace and lived in Tulsa Oklahoma where they operated a boarding house.

Martha was born March 8, 1873 [March 18 per gravestone] in Arkansas and died March 22, 1953 in Missouri near Chestnut Ridge. Her first marriage was to David Ingle. They had a daughter Laura S. Ingle who was born March 17, 1901 and died January 18, 1925. She never married.

After the death of David, Martha married William E. Rysted. They had a son Ole M. Rysted, now living in Chestnut Ridge, Missouri.

Martha, Laura, and William are buried in the Schupbach Cemetery at Spokane, Missouri.

After the death² of Marion Newberry, Raney Elizabeth (Phillips) married Michael Ingle. Their children were Tom, Mike, and Malissie (my paternal Grandmother).

Tom was supposed to be a Minister and living somewhere in Oklahoma.

Mike was born November 1885 at Lead Hill, Arkansas and died October 7, 1968 at Ft. Worth, Texas. He was buried, however, in the Rest Lawn cemetery at Duncan,

² Author's note: Marion may have just left them, as reported by a grandson.

Oklahoma. His wife was Sylvia Phillips. They had several children and their descendants still live at Ft. Worth, Texas.

Malissie was born March 17, 1892 at Lebanon, Missouri and died October 7, 1968 at Walkerville, Montana. She married my paternal Grandfather, Harry Nelson CRABTREE, July 2, 1904 at Harrison, Arkansas. Their children were Hubert, Mabel May, and Harry Dewey (my Father).

So, you may see my relationship to the Newberry family and, perhaps, understand my intense interest to learn as much history as is available on the Newberry, Phillips, and Ingle families.

Names, dates, places of births, marriages, and deaths are extremely important to my continued research endeavor.

Hopefully, you may help me with your knowledge of your family, their ancestors as well as their descendants.

Your consideration and interest is sincerely desired and appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Crabtree

Continuing with the family of Cassa Perlina (or Polina) NEWBERRY and James Franklin ROBBINS, as referenced on page 615 under her parents, Elijah NEWBURY and Priscilla HATFIELD:

⁵³⁻⁶ Cassa Perlina (or "Polina" per the 26 Apr 1915 pension record of second husband, James) NEWBERRY, b: 6 Jul 1847 ("1846/7" per the 1850 and 1860 Census - but "1849" per her Declaration for Widow's Pension of 27 Feb 1918, but it also states "age 71" which implies "1846") in Overton County, Tennessee, twin, d: 25 Jan 1926 at Fairmead Colony (Dixieland District which is at or near Fairmead, located 11 miles northwest of Madera), Madera County, California¹, m1: 6 Dec 1862 at Little Buffalo, Newton County, Arkansas [4 miles south-southwest of Jasper] to Hiram SPURLOCK, d: Aug 1864, "killed at Big Buffalo" [or, per the 26 Apr 1915 pension record of second husband, James, "killed at Jasper Aug 1864 Ark in 1 Arkansas Regiment"] in the Civil War, a private of Company F of the First Arkansas Infantry, no children; m2: 3 Jul 1865 at Jasper, Newton County, Arkansas (per Newton County marriage record which stated they were residents of Johnson County. But James' 26 Apr 1915 pension record says they were married "July 3, 1865 Clarksville by the Chaplin of Regiment 2 of Arkansas" and that the official record was "Recorded at Clarksville, Ark") to James Franklin ROBBINS, b: 29 Dec 1828 at Broad River, Rutherford County, North Carolina, d: 1 Jan 1918 at Fairmead Colony, Madera County, California, had twelve children. Per Frances FARLEY Crossland: Cassa's Newton County marriage record stated that both she and James were residents of Johnson County, Arkansas (which borders Newton County on the south). Both Cassa and James were buried in Oak Mound Cemetery, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

James Franklin was the son of James William ROBBINS (d: during the Civil War, i.e. 1861/5) and Nancy MARTIN, both born in North Carolina.

James Franklin was a private in the Civil War in the Union Army, Company A of the Second Arkansas Infantry Regiment. He enlisted at Clarksville, Arkansas in 1863. His Pension Number was 1138626. His post office at the time of his enlistment was Clarksville. Author's note: The Union Army took Little Rock in 1863. Any men of fighting age they encountered, who were not already in the Union Army were given the choice of "enrolling", which entitled each to the bounty of $300 and was "proof of their allegiance to the United States", or being sent to a war prison (which was practically a death sentence, due to disease). Consequently, there were many Union "volunteers" among the former Confederates.

James Franklin was married previously on 13 Sep 1849 in Georgia to Rebecca GRIGSBY, d: 7 Apr 1865 at Little Piney, Johnson County, Arkansas [In 1996, there was a town called "Piney" in the southeast corner of Johnson County on U.S. Highway 64.], had seven children, four of whom died before his marriage to Cassa. James was on the tax records of Newton County, Arkansas in 1862 and 1868.

Rebecca was the daughter of James D. GRIGSBY and Lydia HEADRICK.

Quoting a 1996 note from Joan STUCKEY Nemanic, "Some of these dates [dates of birth and marriage for the twelve children of James Franklin ROBBINS] came from the Robbins family Bible that my grandfather [Elijah Prophet ROBBINS, 1871-1960] had about 40 years ago [about 1956]. After his death, I understand, the son of George W. ROBBINS [James G. ROBBINS] took it and I know not where it is ! The death dates are from the California death index ... "

Quoting a 1996 letter from Frances FARLEY Crossland, "When my parents first married (1925, Roseburg, Oregon), they made a trip to California to meet Daddy's family. A woman (? who) gave my mother a pretty little "treasure chest" looking jewelry box that had a pretty satin lining. Years later when I was a young teenager, I was looking at this and pulled out the lining. There was a letter folded up in a tiny square, dated June 1924. It was from a J.G. Robbins to his sweetheart. The handwriting is beautiful. People who have seen it cannot believe a man wrote it. I could never figure out who J.G. Robbins was until Joan [STUCKEY] Nemanic visited me. She knew George Washington ROBBINS had a son, James G. I believe the letter was written by James G. ROBBINS - and possibly to his Maude. Some day, I would like to give this letter to one of his descendants."

At the time he married, he was a mule-skinner, hauling into the Round Valley area. They later leased a dairy, then another at which the herd was found to have tuberculosis and had to be destroyed. He worked at tan-backing (peeling bark from trees, used in tanning), sheepherding, fruit picking, and another dairy leased with two brothers-in-law. Having lost his wife, Dolly, in 1927, Robert finally settled at Dos Rios on the Poonkinny Road [north-northeast of Dos Rios, there is also a Poonkinny Ridge which runs north-south, parallel to the Eel River] until ill-health forced him to live at San Anselmo, Marin County, California where he died Oct 1965. Robert took a second wife, Mary, about 1945. She was from Georgia, chewed tobacco, and was quite a character. She was a good companion and helped with the chickens, fruit trees, and vegetables they grew on the Poonkinny. Their place was later owned and used as a vacation cabin by Robert's daughter, Dorothy June ROBBINS Silvey."

End of the family of John BUNCH [3] and Rebecca _____

Continuing with the family of Nathaniel BUNCH Sr and Sarah Wade RAY, as referenced on page 663 under his parents, Charles BUNCH [1] and Mary BELLANY. Most of the following BUNCH material was from Descendants of Nathaniel BUNCH Sr and Sarah Wade RAY, a 1966 Bunch family history by an unknown author:

⁵²⁻² Nathaniel BUNCH Sr, b: 23 Apr 1793 in Louisa County, Virginia, d: 16 Feb 1859 in Newton County, Arkansas of pneumonia, m: 15 Nov 1810 in Overton County, Tennessee to Sarah Wade RAY, b: 1793 in Virginia, d: 1878. They were in the 1830 and 1840 United States Censuses of Overton County, Tennessee. They migrated to Arkansas in the early 1840s, lived in Dinsmore Community, northwest corner of Newton County, both buried there in Liberty Cemetery.

By 1855, Nathaniel had been awarded 160 acres of bounty land in Newton County for his service in the War of 1812 and his descendants were still on the land in 1860. He and Sarah had ten children, all born in Overton County, Tennessee:

⁵³⁻¹ Mary "Polly" BUNCH, b: 1811 in Overton County, Tennessee, died in infancy.

⁵³⁻² John BUNCH [6], (The "[6]" was added by the author for reference purposes.), b: 1 Dec 1812 in Overton County, Tennessee, d: 2 Feb 1892 at Rule, Carroll County, Arkansas (four miles south of Green Forest), "moved to Missouri as a young man, stayed there two years, then moved to Arkansas", m1: 2 Nov 1834 in Overton County, Tennessee to Cynthia NEWBERRY, b: 5 Oct 1813/15, d: 28 Dec 1835, had one child, James Meredith.

Origin of Cynthia ?:

Another source had Cynthia, "b: 5 Oct 1823", which would put her marriage at age 11 and her first child 9-1/2 months later at age 12, which appears doubtful. However, if one accepts her date of birth as "5 Oct 1813/15", she could hardly have been a child of Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr], because the 1830 Census of Overton County, Tennessee indicates no children in that age group (age 10-19, b: 1810/20). And, since he was b: 5 Nov 1802, he would have been only age 10-12 when Cynthia was conceived, which is again doubtful. Also Stephen's "next" child was not born until 1826, which is an unlikely gap of at least eleven years. Also, the birth date of "5 Oct 1823" for Cynthia does not fit any of the daughters of the 1830 Census of Stephen's brothers, Thomas (enumerated in Monroe County, Tennessee), William of Overton County, nor Elijah of Overton County (as his only daughter in the correct age group was Sarah E., b: 1823/4).

In the 1989 version of this material (Newberry Family and In-Laws, Appendix 11), the author "believed" that Cynthia was the daughter of Stephen [Jr]. But, thanks to the facts pointed out in 1997 by descendant genealogist, Shirley HAMBY Pyron, the author now believes that Cynthia must have come from some other NEWBERRY family. One such family into which her birth year of 1813/15 fits (the 1830 Census of Monroe County, Tennessee: "1 female, age 15-19", i.e. b: 1810-15) was the family of Thomas NEWBURY Sr, b: 1792/3.

With no more evidence than this, the author made this assumption and placed Cynthia as the first child of Thomas. See page 41 for Thomas and his family, except Cynthia is detailed here with her husband, John.

After the death of Cynthia, John m2: 13 Apr 1836 to Elizabeth Louisa Jane "Eliza" QUALLS, b: 22 Aug 1818, had fourteen children.

Eliza was the daughter of James (?) QUALLS and Polly MILLER (per pedigree chart for Kenneth Roy DOTSON (see Kenneth on page 315) printed in Newberry News, Winter 1995 Issue, page 14. "James (?) was per Shirley HAMBY Pyron in 1997.).

The combined fifteen children of John, Cynthia, and Eliza were:

⁵⁴⁻¹ James Meredith BUNCH, b: 17 Aug 1835, d: 22 Dec 1920 at Purdy, Madison County, Arkansas, buried in Big Sandy Cemetery, Madison County (the only child of first wife, Cynthia), m: 22 Nov 1857 to Margaret E. GIBSON, had at least four children:

NEWBERRY CENSUS DATA

- North Carolina 1784-7 State Census for Thomas NEWBURY and John NEWBERRY [1]¹
- North Carolina 1790-1870 - all counties for all NEWBERRY variants
- North Carolina 1880 - Tyrrell & Washington Counties for all NEWBERRY variants
- North Carolina 1790-1860 - Washington County for DILLIN/DILLON² variants
- Tennessee 1810-1870 - all counties
- Tennessee 1891 Voter's List
- Tennessee 1830-1840 Overton County for PHILIPS/PHILLIPS
- Tennessee 1850 Lincoln County for John A. WEEKS
- Tennessee 1860 Overton County for John W. WEEKS, son of above

1790-1870 North Carolina Census data for all NEWBERRY, NEWBERY, NEWBRY, and NEWBURY families plus 1790-1850 NEUBY, NEWBEE, NEWBEY, NEWBY plus 1880 NEWBERRY, NEWBERY, NEWBRY, NEWBURY, and NEWBY for Tyrrell and Washington Counties only, grouped by census year and by location in North Carolina from east to west. Also included is the North Carolina State Census for 1784-1787 for the families of John NEWBERRY [1] of Tyrrell County, Thomas NEWBURY of Wilkes County, and his son, Stephen, of Wilkes County. These name variants are mixed due to grouping by county location - because families living in the same vicinity have a greater likelihood of close kinship, which might facilitate studying these families. At the end of North Carolina census data for NEWBERRY is North Carolina (Tyrrell and Washington Counties only) census data for DILLON, DILLIN, DILLEN, and DILLING for researching the family of the husband of Elizabeth "Betsey" NEWBERRY (daughter of John NEWBERRY [1], b: 1755/65, d: after 1820) and other relatives. Note that most all this data is from indexed transcriptions of the censuses, unless noted that it is actual census data. The author has supplied some additional data from other sources or inferred data, such as birth years calculated from the ages given; and these items are generally placed inside parentheses or brackets, "()" or "[]".

Names in the Census data which are bolded indicate "known" individuals or heads of households identified by the author and others as members of the following four families. The kinship of these bolded individuals or heads of households is sufficiently known to place them within a family. Some other individuals or heads of households are indicated as "known" to be kinsmen, but their kinship is not sufficiently known to exactly place them within a family:

- ① Family of John NEWBERRY [1], b: 1755/65, d: after 1820 Census + Joanna SWAIN, b: 1764/70, ancestors of the author (in census data of North Carolina, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, and California - but none known in the Tennessee Census) - marked ①
- ② Family of Thomas NEWBURY, b: before 1727 + unknown wife (in census data of North Carolina, Tennessee, Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, and California) - marked ②
- ③ Family of William W. NEWBERRY Sr [4], b: before 1756 (in census data of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, Colorado, and California) - marked ③
- ④ Family of Joseph NEWBERRY, b: c1816/17, d: after 1870 Census + Elizabeth _____, b: c1810 (in census data of Tennessee and Texas) - marked ④

² In-laws of the family of John NEWBERRY [1] (ancestor of the author, marked Family ①), from the second marriage of his daughter, Elizabeth "Betsey" NEWBERRY Davenport Dillin/Dillon.

The spelling of names is intended to be verbatim per the referenced source and may differ from the actual census due to transcription or reading error by the transcriber. For numerous individuals, the spelling of either their given name or surname varies in different census years:

NEWBERRY Sheredan H. Washington Mackeys Ferry 630 ①
 [Sheridan H. NEWBERRY, b: 1841 (calculated from the 1860 and 1870 Censuses of Washington and Carteret Counties respectively). The author could not place Sheridan in these families from Index data, although the actual censuses could possibly allow placement. Sheridan was working in 1860 as an apprentice shop joiner to Worley R. MARRINER, whose daughter, Emily Jane, married John W. NEWBERRY. Sheridan m1: in Washington County to Ena L. LEGGETT; m2: 15 Mar 1866 in Carteret County (75 miles south of Washington County) to Parmela BELL (marriage data from Louis MARRINER in 1992-3). Sheridan may belong in the family of one of the two yet unidentified sons of Stephen. He does not appear to belong in the following families:

- ▶ Family of James W. NEWBERRY: The 1850 Census of Washington County (Cool Spring, 26 Sep 1850) for James W. NEWBERRY listed two children, ages 10 and 12. Had Sheridan been one of their children, he should also have been listed (as age 8 or 9).
- ▶ Family of Washington NEWBERRY: The 1860 Census of Washington County (town of Plymouth, 21 Jul 1860) for Washington NEWBERRY listed with his wife, Mariah, who was only age 30 which was too young to have been the mother of Sheridan, who was 18 or 19 at that time (although, admittedly, Mariah could have been Washington's second wife).
- ▶ Family of William Dempsey NEWBERRY: The 1850 Census of Hyde County, North Carolina, listed William D., wife Eunice, and son John W. (age 3). Had Sheridan been one of their children, he should also have been listed (as age 8 or 9).]

From the actual Census of household #7, taken 25 Jul 1870:

NEWBERRY J. 50 [b: c1823] North Carolina, farmer, $2000 real estate and $800 personal estate

NEWBERRY W. (P.V.?) 24 white NC Plymouth Twp. Washington 733 ①
 ["W." was from the actual Census. In the Census Index, it was "P.V.". The author could not place W. (or P.V.), male, b: 1845/6, in these Newberry families, although census data from 1860 and 1880 could possibly allow placement. The 1850 and 1870 censuses provided no placement information other than what is recorded here. Although perhaps entirely coincidental, there was a Nancy NEWBERRY Freeman, 1830-1896, of Plymouth, Washington County, a daughter of John NEWBERRY [2], 1805-1880. Nancy m: 1858 to William Thomas "Tom" FREEMAN, 1834-1910, and was having their seven children during 1859-71 (which includes the time of the 1870 Census). So, the author rules out "W. NEWBERRY" as a child of Nancy. The 1870 Census of Washington County for the Tom FREEMAN household would show if Nancy was enumerated at home; and, if not, would lend credibility that it was her (Nancy NEWBERRY Freeman) who was enumerated in the household of "W. NEWBERRY", also of Plymouth.]

From the actual Census of household #8, taken 26 Jul 1870, the head of household is "W. NEWBERRY" instead of the "P.V. NEWBERRY" of the Index:

NEWBERRY W. (male) 24 [b: 1845/6] in North Carolina, white male .. Who was "W."?
Nancy 40 [b: 1829/30] in North Carolina, white female. Was this Nancy NEWBERRY Freeman, as discussed above?

NEWBERRY Sam 64 [b: 1803] in North Carolina, white male school teacher . . . Samuel

NEWBURY Ellen 34 white NC Williamston Twp. Martin 544 ①

[The author did not positively place Ellen (b: 1835/6) in these families. She is possibly the separated (or divorced ?) wife of Alfred Smith NEWBERRY (1834-1913), because he and his wife (known to the author as Elvira "Hellfira" _____ Newberry, 1840-1913) lived in Martin County in the 1860 Census. But "Ellen" is not exactly the same as "Elvira" and the year of birth for Ellen is 4-5 years different from Elvira. Elvira was nicknamed "Hellfira" by her former slaves. There was also an Edna Ellen NEWBERRY, b: 10 Oct 1840; daughter of James W. NEWBERRY (b: 1807/8, d: after 1860). However she does not match Ellen (b: 1835/6) because of the birth year discrepancy. Nor does she match Elvira, because of the maiden name discrepancy - assuming that Elvira's maiden name was not a form of NEWBERRY.]

1860 Census: The above Elizabeth "Betsey" NEWBERRY Davenport Dillin/Dillon was living in the household of her nephew, James W. NEWBERRY (household #40) in Washington County, North Carolina. See page 717 for that household.

End of North Carolina DILLON Census data

1810-1870 Tennessee Census data and 1891 Voter List for all NEWBERRY, NEWBERY, NEWBRY, NEWBURY and NEWBY families [plus the PHILIPS or PHILLIPS families living adjacent to Overton County NEWBERRY families during 1830 and 1840], grouped by census year and by location in Tennessee from east to west. All these name variants are mixed due to grouping by county location - because families living in the same vicinity have a greater likelihood of close kinship, which might facilitate studying these families. Note that all this data is from indexed transcriptions of the censuses, unless noted that the data is from the actual census. The author has supplied some data from other sources or inferred data, such as birth years calculated from ages; and generally these items are placed inside parentheses or brackets, “()” or “[]”.

Names in the Census and Voter List data which are bolded indicate individuals or heads of households who have been identified by the author and others

Names in the Census data which are bolded indicate individuals or heads of households identified by the author and others as members of the following “known” families. The kinship of these bolded individuals or heads of households is sufficiently known to place them within a family. Some other individuals or heads of households are indicated as “known” to be kinsmen, but their kinship is not sufficiently known to exactly place them within a family:

- ① Family of John NEWBERRY [1], b: 1755/65, d: after 1820 Census + Joanna SWAIN, b: 1764/70, ancestors of the author (in census data of North Carolina, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, California - but none known in the Tennessee) marked: ①
- ② Family of Thomas NEWBURY, b: before 1727 + unknown (in census data of North Carolina, Tennessee, Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, California) marked: ②
- ③ Family of William W. NEWBERRY Sr [4], b: before 1756 (in census data of North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, Colorado, California) marked: ③
- ④ Family of Joseph NEWBERRY, b: c1816/17, d: after 1870 Census + Elizabeth _____, b: c1810 (in census data of Tennessee, Texas) marked: ④

The spelling of names is intended to be verbatim per the referenced source and may differ from the actual census due to transcription or reading error by the transcriber. For numerous individuals, the spelling of either their given name or surname varies in different census years:

Author's notes on the Tennessee 1810 Census:

The author does not know the source of the above Census Index information for James NEWBERRY (the only name in the Index), as the 1810 Census for Grainger County was lost. To supplement this meager census, the author has added the following data. It was from microfilm records in the Arkansas History Commission at the State Capital, Little Rock. Tennessee County Records for Grainger County, Microfilm Roll 23 provides the following on NEWBERRYs, which was summarized and paraphrased by the author:

- ▶ Thomas NEWBERRY m: 2 Apr 1810 in Grainger County, Tennessee to Jane THACKER (Reference: Grainger County Marriage Records, 1796-1837, page 51). Note that Jane may be the same person as Jenny in the next paragraph.
- ▶ Jenny Newberry or Jenny Thacker: State of Tennessee versus Jenny Newberry, alias Jenny Thacker on 23 Nov 1814: Jenny pled guilty to some complaint and paid 50¢ plus costs (Reference: Grainger County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions Minute Book, Volume 3, 1812-1816, page 227). Note that Jenny may be the same person as Jane in the previous paragraph.
- ▶ Martin NEWBERRY and others on 23 Aug 1815 agreed to let some dispute go to arbitration (Reference: Grainger County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions Minute Book, Volume 3, 1812-1816, page 310).

Author's notes on the Tennessee 1820 Census:

- ▶ The only Newberry listed was again a James NEWBERRY, but in Jackson County, which is 120 miles west of Grainger County, where a James NEWBERRY occurred in the 1810 Census. Jackson County is on the western border of Overton County.
- ▶ Although not listed above, there were four ALLRED families listed, all from Overton County. There were nine BUNCH families, but only the Nathaniel BUNCH family was listed from Overton County. The ALLRED and BUNCH families married some of the descendants of Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727) and migrated with them to Carroll/Newton Counties, Arkansas during the 1840s.

Author's notes on the Tennessee 1830 Census:

▶ There were twelve Newberry families of three spellings listed in the 1830 Census of Tennessee. Five of these twelve families (as indicated above under their bolded names in the census) were descendants of Thomas NEWBURY (Sr, b: before 1727). Four of these five families lived adjacent to each other in Overton County: Sarah (the widow of Stephen NEWBURY Sr) and three of their sons, Stephen [Jr], Elijah, and William). Their eldest son, Thomas NEWBURY (Sr, b: 1792/3), was head of the fifth family and lived in Monroe County. Their inferred kinships are qualified below under Thomas NEWBURY Sr (b: before 1727).

• Note that an Anderson KEY was enumerated adjacent to Sarah "Sallie" CHAMBERS Newbury, with Family Makeup Code of 20001-00001: Anderson at age 20-29, two males under age 5, and one female age 20-29, who was probably Anderson's wife. A genealogical note written 1907 by Nancy J. "Nannie" "Nina" NEWBERRY Gottfried (quoted below under her name) stated that a Gerald KEY married Sarah's daughter, Polly, and that "they lived on the place about 1842 ... taking care of Sarah". Thus it is possible that Anderson and Gerald were kin. It is also possible they were the same person, known by different names at different times.

• Greene County of William NEWBERRY and Hawkins County of Raganer NEWBURY are adjacent to each other in northeast Tennessee, giving an increased probability that these families are closely related, even though their last names are spelled differently in this census data.

¹ From this page and pages 739, 747, 755, 757: The following Family of Joseph NEWBERRY (c1816/7-1883) and Elizabeth _____ (b: c1810) was from the 13 Apr 1992 letter from Winona HACKER Newberry to Joseph Kenneth NEWBERRY-COLE, Editor of Newberry News for Newberry Research Society. This family was found by the author to be listed in four Tennessee Censuses: 1840 Bradley County and 1850, 60, and 70 Greene County. 1880 and later Censuses were not consulted for this family. The author did not identify the family in 1830 Tennessee or North Carolina Census, as Joseph, b: 1816/17, was probably not yet a head of household. Before 1840, this family could probably be identified in Tennessee and/or North Carolina from land records and wills:

Author's notes on the Tennessee 1840 Census:

- There were 20 Newberry families in the 1840 Census Index of Tennessee. All seven families from Overton County were descendants of Thomas NEWBURY (Sr. b: before 1727), with their kinship given above under their respective lines in the Index. An eighth family, that of William NEWBURY of adjacent Jackson County, was also a descendant.
- Regarding possible kinships between these NEWBERRY/NEWBERY/NEWBURY families:
 - The northeast counties of Hawkins and Claiborne are almost adjacent (both adjacent to Grainger), giving an increased probability that these NEWBERRY/NEWBURY families are closely related.
 - The adjacent southeast counties of Blount/ Monroe and Bradley/Meigs are very close, giving an increased probability that these NEWBERRY/NEWBURY families are closely related.

[Edward NEWBURY, b: 1792/3, d: 1850/60: son of Stephen NEWBURY Sr. b: estimated 1766, d: 1826/30]
Sarah	54	Tennessee
[Sarah _____ Newbury, b: 1795, using 1850 and 1860 Census Indexes. She was in Overton County in 1860, living in the household of daughter Rhoda NEWBERRY [1] and Rhoda's husband, John W. WEEKS.]
Elizabeth	18
[Elizabeth, b: 1831/2, was living in the household of her brother-in-law, John W. WEEKS in 1860 Census Index of Overton County.]

Rhoda 14
[Rhoda NEWBURY [1], b: 1835/6, is married to John W. WEEKS in the 1860 Census Index of Overton County.]

Jacob 21
[Jacob, b: 1829 (from 1850 and 1860 Indexes) was listed last, even though he was oldest of the three children at home. He is in Overton County in 1860 as head of his own household.]

NEWBERRY Martha 18 Bradley-1307-462 [b: 1831/2]
[Martha, b: 1831/2, was enumerated in the household of Thomas SNIDER. Martha is a possible daughter of Edward (b: 1792/3) above, even though her age is the same of Elizabeth. There is a Martha, b: 1832/3, enumerated by herself in the 1860 Overton County Index, who is apparently this same person.]

NEWBERRY Enoch 25 Tennessee Bradley-1599-502
[Enoch, b: 1824/5. By association (with the family of Edward above), Enoch's age and their very close family number in the census (1599 versus 1601) which is an indication of their living proximity, the author surmises that Enoch may be a son of Edward. None of "Enoch", "Eveline", or "Evelyn" occurs in the following Newberry family Index data.]

Eveline 24 Tennessee

NEWBERRY Philip H. 16 Bradley-972-415
[Philip H., b: 1833/4, is a possible son of Edward (b: 1792/3) above. Philip was enumerated in the household of William BLAIR.]

NEWBERRY Regnar 56 Hamilton-348-49 [b: 1793/4]
[Regnar, b: 1793/4. By the association of living in Hamilton County which is adjacent to Bradley County where Edward NEWBERRY (b: 1792/3 - see above) was living and from their similar ages, Regnar could have been a brother of William. Regnar and Andrew below were enumerated in the household of Jonathan HURLEY. For several given names similar to "Regnar", see below under Ragoner in the 1860 Index of Hawkins County.]

Andrew 25
[Andrew, b: 1824/5, and his apparent father, Regnar, above, were enumerated in the household of Jonathan HURLEY.]

NEWBERRY Tabitha 31 Tennessee Hamilton-1117-895
[Tabitha, b: 1818/19, is a possible daughter of Edward (b: 1792/3) above.]

Sarah 1 Tennessee

NEWBERRY Elisha 23 Tennessee Overton-622-91 ②
[Elisha NEWBURY, b: 1826/30 (from the 1850 and 1860 Indexes). The author could not place this family among this "obvious" group of kinsmen. It appears he could be a son of any of the brothers: Thomas NEWBURY Sr (1792/3-1877), Edward NEWBURY (1792/3-after 1850), William NEWBURY (b: 1799/1800), Stephen C. NEWBURY [Jr] (1802-1870), or Elijah NEWBURY (1803/4-after 1870).]

Elizabeth 18 North Carolina
[b: 1831/2, was "Elisabeth" in the 1860 Index]

- Sarah 1
John 6/12
[John A. NEWBURY, b: 1849/50. The "A." is from 1860 Index.]
- NEWBERRY Mary 21 Overton-217-105 [or 721-105 ?]
[Mary NEWBERRY, b: 1828/9, enumerated in the household of Morgan SPECKS. The author could not place her in one of these families of "obvious" kinsmen.]
- NEWBERRY Samuel 28 Tennessee Overton-391-57 ②
[Samuel NEWBURY, b: 1821/2, d: about 1862/4; son of Thomas NEWBURY Sr, 1792/3-1877. The family of Samuel also occurs in the 1860 Census.]
- Elizabeth 24 Tennessee
[Elizabeth "Betty" BASSAM Newbury, b: 1821/6 (per 1850 and 1860 Index)]
- Lewis C. 8
[Lewis C. Stinson NEWBERRY, 1843-1916. Lewis also occurs in the 1870 Census and the 1891 Voter's List, both of Overton County.]
- Martha 4
[Martha Jane NEWBERRY, b: 1845/6]
- Alfred 3
[Per Doris DENNIS Newbury, this child is: Jacob NEWBERRY, b: 1847 (using both the 1850 and 1860 Census Indexes). "Alfred" may be an error in this Index, as he is "Jacob" in the 1860 Overton County Index.]

[Thomas NEWBURY Sr, 1892/3-1877; son of Stephen NEWBURY Sr, b: estimated 1766, d: 1826/30. Note that age 51 of this index yields b: 1798/9. Also the birth state of South Carolina is at variance with North Carolina, where he was reported born by his son Joseph. Son Stephen reported Georgia.]

NAME INDEX

This NAME INDEX has occasional information that is not found elsewhere in this book. Birth dates and sometimes other data were used to differentiate people whose names were identical or similar enough to be confused. Since the author did not know several such birth dates, it was necessary to estimate them from the circumstances. Such estimated dates are indicated by the abbreviation "est", such as "David BUNCH, b: est 1934". Such estimates may be in error as much as ± 30 years or so. The purpose of these estimated dates is to allow the reader to discriminate between people of the same name without having to read about each one in the text. Because such dates are only estimates, they are not included in the text - only in this NAME INDEX. The reader is cautioned not to use these estimated dates in any future work, unless they are well labeled as only estimates.

Names and Capitalization: The attempt was made to use all capital letters for a person's original family name or the family name a person has adopted or been given, legally or otherwise - except by marriage. A person who was adopted or who changed their name, except by marriage, was usually indexed under both family names, where known. The married surnames of women were purposefully not capitalized. This allows the reader to know, by simply looking at a name, which name, if any of the names given, was a woman's maiden name. This NAME INDEX gives the complete known name or names, allowing the reader to know which is the maiden name of women or whether a maiden name is even known. However, the NAME INDEX uses only one married name at a time for each entry of women who were married more than once. Thus, some women are indexed several times: under their maiden name and under each of their married names. In mentioning a marriage in the text, the married surname of the woman was not given - except the married women listed in Cemeteries and Their Locations had their married names added, because they are buried under their married names.

This NAME INDEX has 16,462 entries, but only perhaps 11,000 are actual individuals - the rest being duplications from listing the same person under more than their first name, such as their nick name, their second name where it was the name of use, and, for women, under both their maiden and married names. Among the names are a few designated non-relatives such as land owners, authors of reference material, people who have killed or been killed by one of these kinsmen, pallbearers, etc.
